Administration

Mr. M. Gala
Principal

I feel lucky to be at Westview. Each day I am surrounded by students and staff that are growing and learning new things. I feel their energy and commitment to making Westview an even better place to learn and play. Each year a new group of students enter the school and begin to add their flavour to the mix. This means that every year will be different, unique, and belongs to the current student body. At the end of each year we say goodbye to our graduating class who have greatly shaped the way Westview is today. I wish them all the best in their future endeavours. For those of us coming back next year, let's build on the successes of 2017-2018. Have a great summer and I look forward to seeing you in September.

I write this, my maiden yearbook message to thank the Westview Centennial Secondary Community for the awesome welcome you have given me. Long before I arrived at Westview, many of you communicated your eagerness to have me join the Westview family - some of you, even before the board decided to transfer me to this excellent institution of learning. I want you to know that this made my entrance a lot easier. I thank you enormously for accepting me with open arms. I have since found that Westview is the hidden gem in the Toronto District School Board. Here, we have a team of staff that is ready to embark on a journey that recognizes the importance of meeting individual students at the different levels from which the need to start. Ours is a group of educators and support staff who leverage the privilege and power positions we occupy to support the learning of students. Our students are everything people told me they will be and more. Our students are polite, respectful and genuine. They challenge us in many different ways, sometimes in ways no one could have predicted. At the heart of it though, are young people who are constantly asking, sometimes demanding, to be understood and supported. Our parents and community are very good advocates for our students and school. We have benefited from their support. We sincerely appreciate the collaboration we receive from our community. This feeds into our philosophy that learning happens when our parents/community, students and staff work together. Our promise is that this cooperation will continue to be our focus at awesome Westview. I would like to end by thanking our staff and alumni who did a fantastic job in organizing our 50th anniversary celebrations. It is dedication of this kind that is going to help us enjoy the amazing achievements that I am certain we will attain at Westview.

Mr. Caton
Vice-Principal

Congratulations Westview students on everything that you have achieved in 2017-18! You have inspired me all year with your energy, enthusiasm, hard work, dedication and by resiliently overcoming the obstacles in your path to success. I wish you a safe and fun summer break! To the graduates. I came to Westview four years ago and I have watched and proudly served Westview since your grade 9 year. I AM SO PROUD OF YOU!! I am filled with joy to see you graduate and learn about your exciting futures. I have no doubt that you will soar to great heights! When you find success, please do not forget to come back to Westview to help students reach their full potential. We are family. WE ARE WESTVIEW!

Mr. Hobbs
Vice-Principal

MS. GAYLE-BONNER
Vice-Principal

Westview, my home away from home....

It has been a pleasure serving the Westview community for the past 6 years. I remember my first week as Vice Principal at Westview as being one with great pleasure and enthusiasm as I watched students buzzing around the halls with some students even speaking my dialect. I was so happy to be given the opportunity to serve and make a difference in this community. There have been some challenging days, I must say, but through it all we have grown together and overcome these challenges. The lessons and skills that I have learnt from staff and students at Westview could not have been acquired anywhere else and I thank you for playing a pivotal role in my development as a Vice-Principal. Whenever my colleagues asked me which school I was currently at I would always respond by saying, "I am at the University of Westview" as Westview has so many diverse learning opportunities for both students and staff.

Through the collaboration with staff, students and the community we have accomplished many amazing initiatives that has impacted student's achievement and wellbeing. This has led to students having a better sense of belonging in the community and increased student advocacy. I want to take this opportunity to wish all the graduates the best in life and their future life education regardless if it is at the workplace, university or college level. Remember, life is a journey so make sure you do what you love; it is not always about the money. Congratulations to all the young ladies in the Girls Talk Program who are also graduating this year!

Remember to keep positive no matter what comes your way and just ride out the storms of life. Start saving early so you can retire early!

On September 27, 2017, Westview's Athletic Association hosted the annual Terry Fox Run. All money raised was donated to The Terry Fox Foundation.

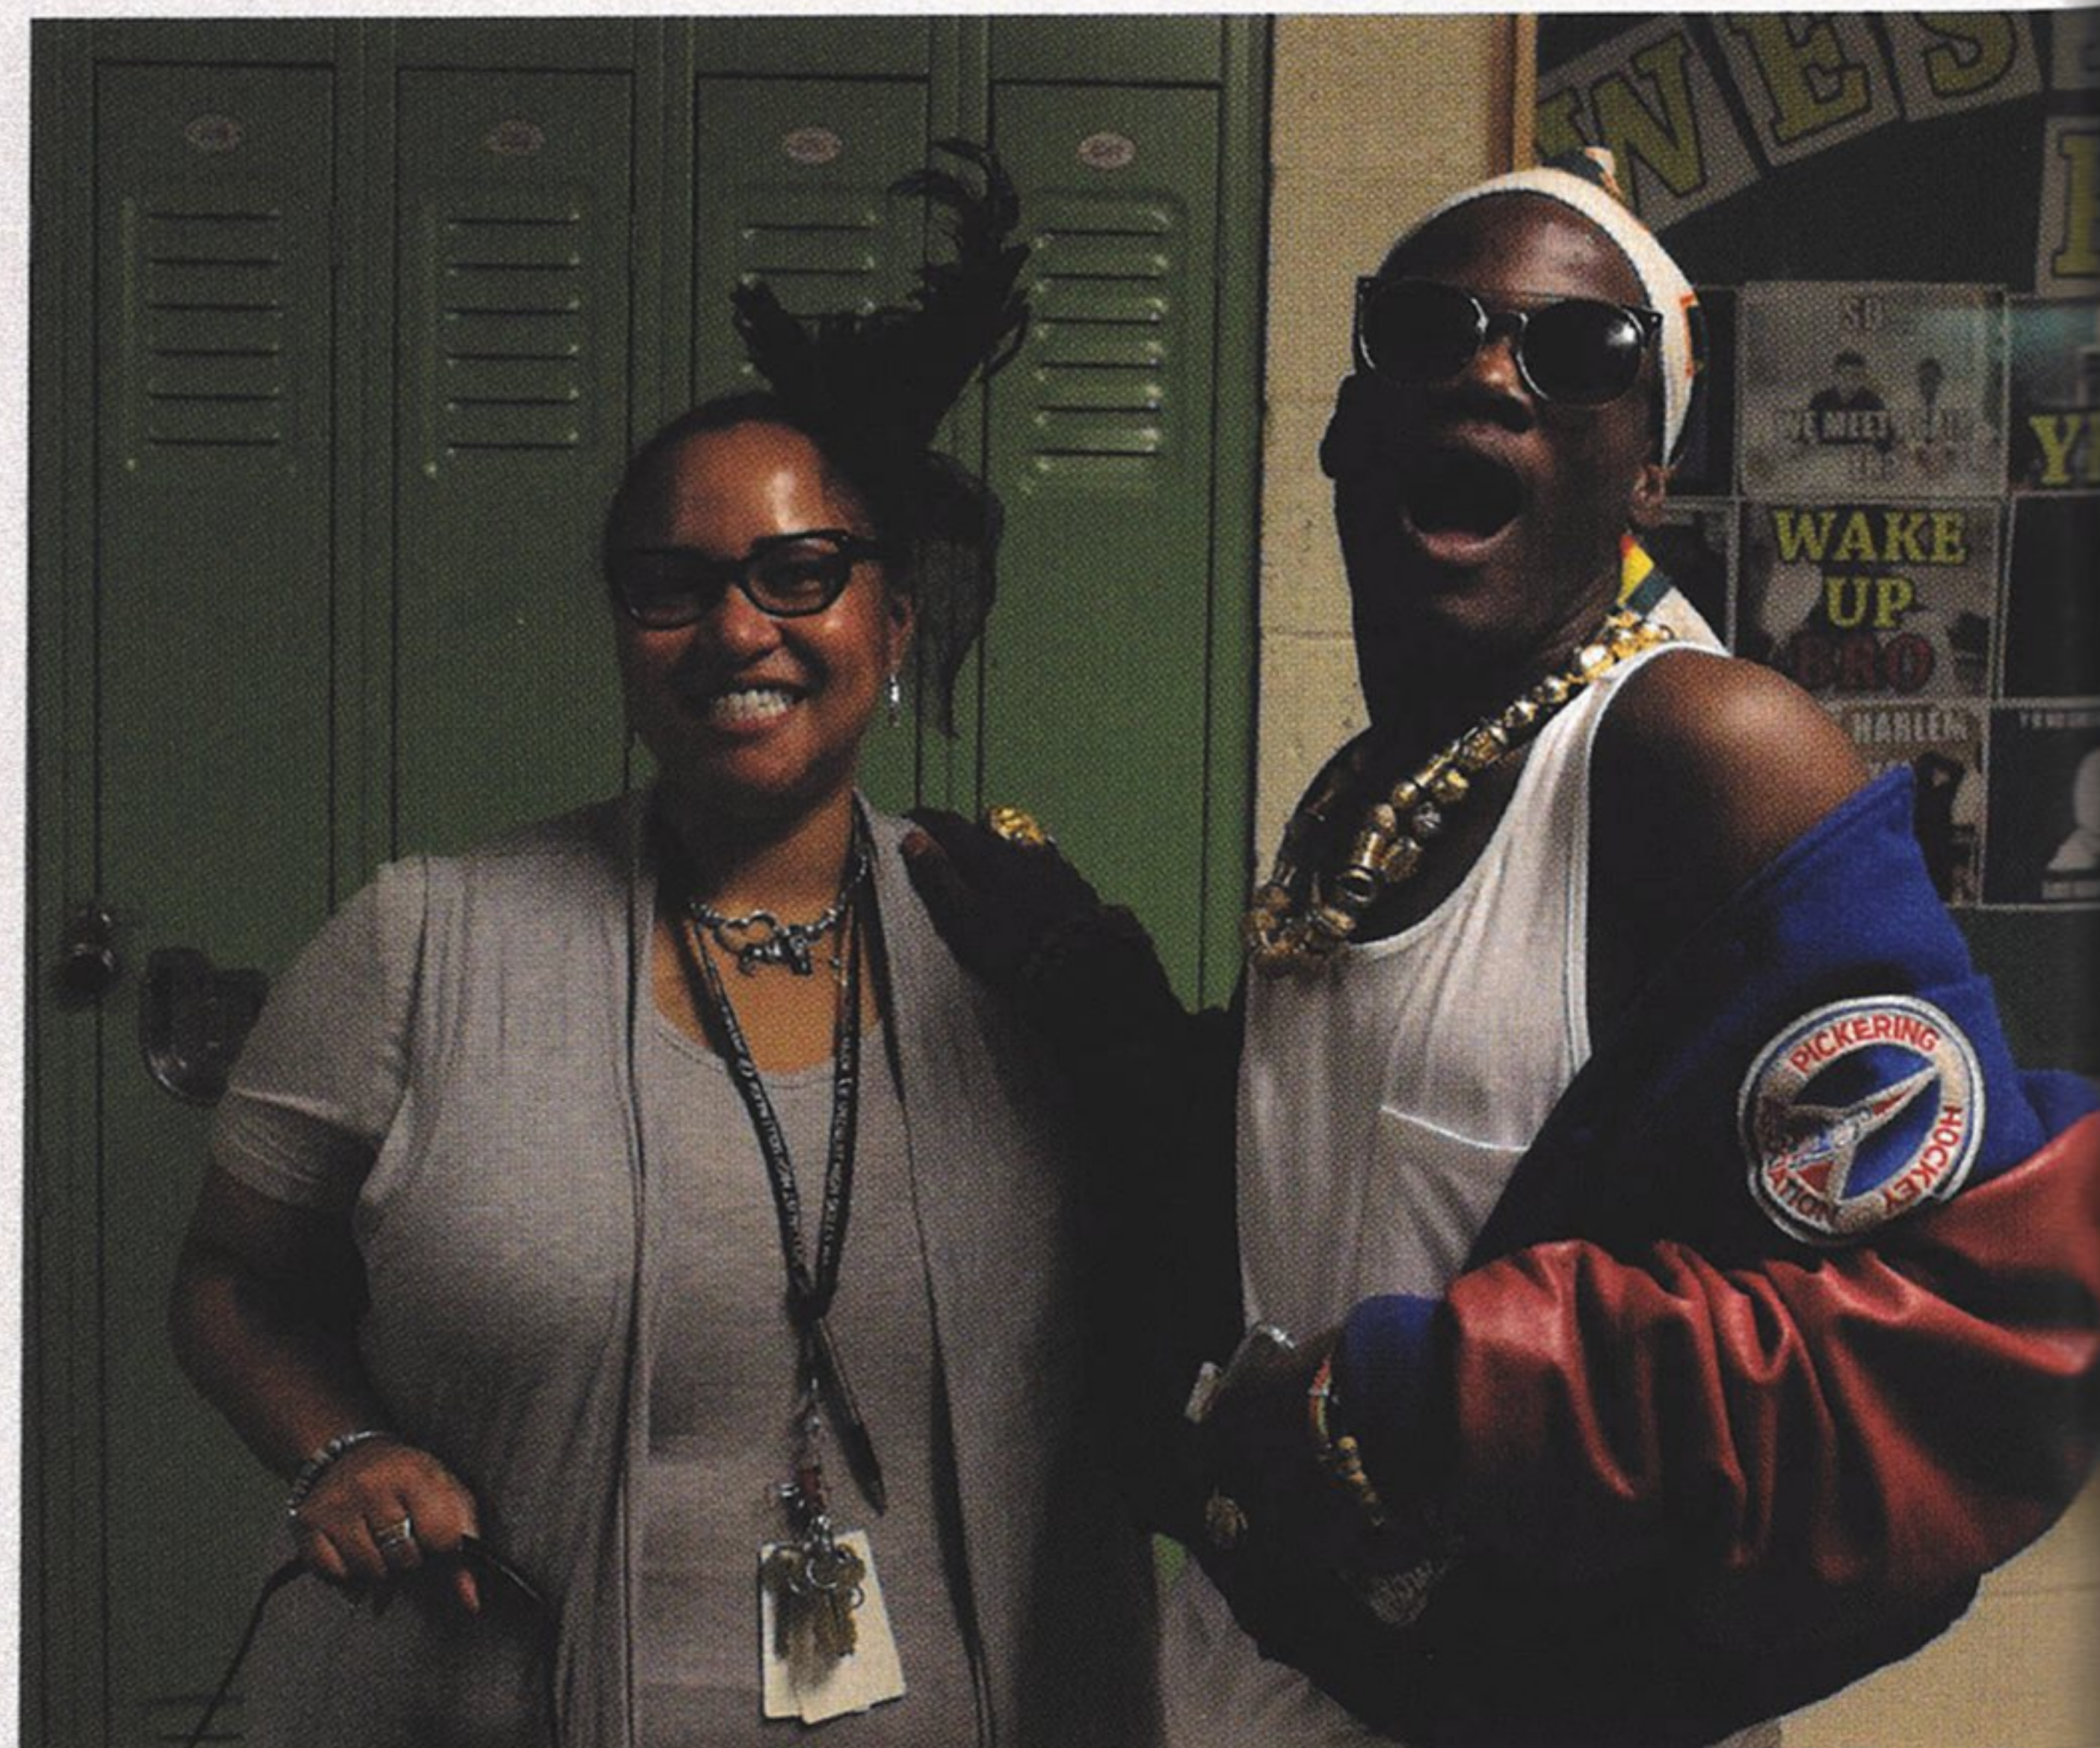

Halloween

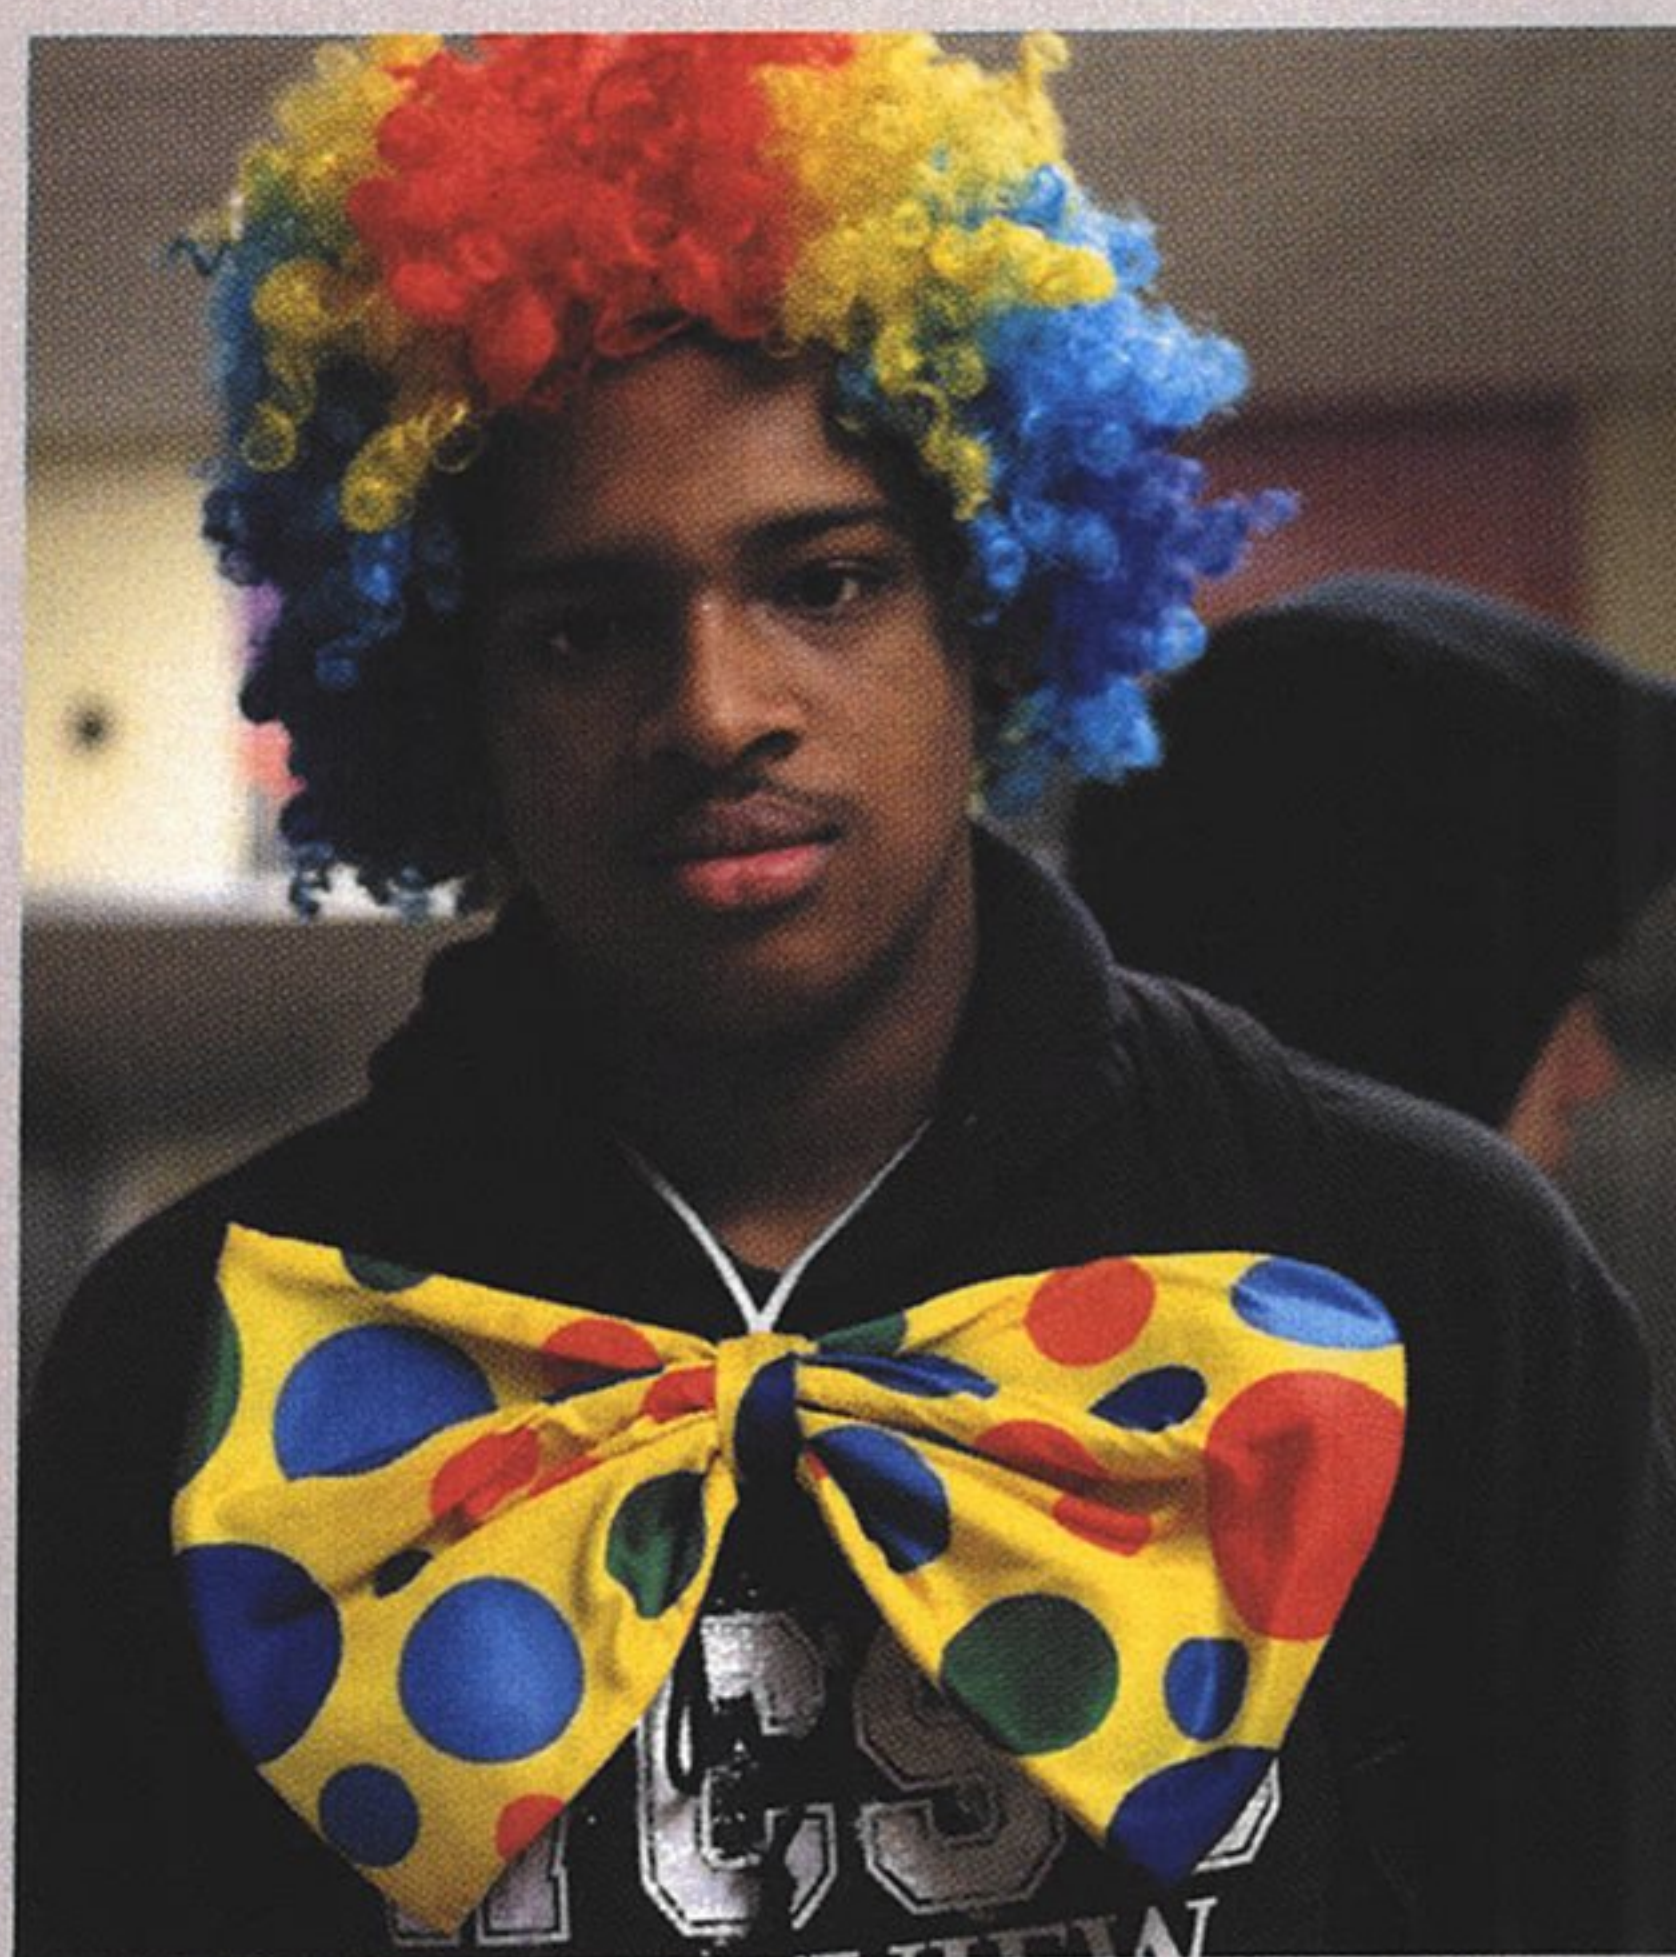

Fang-tastic Day!!

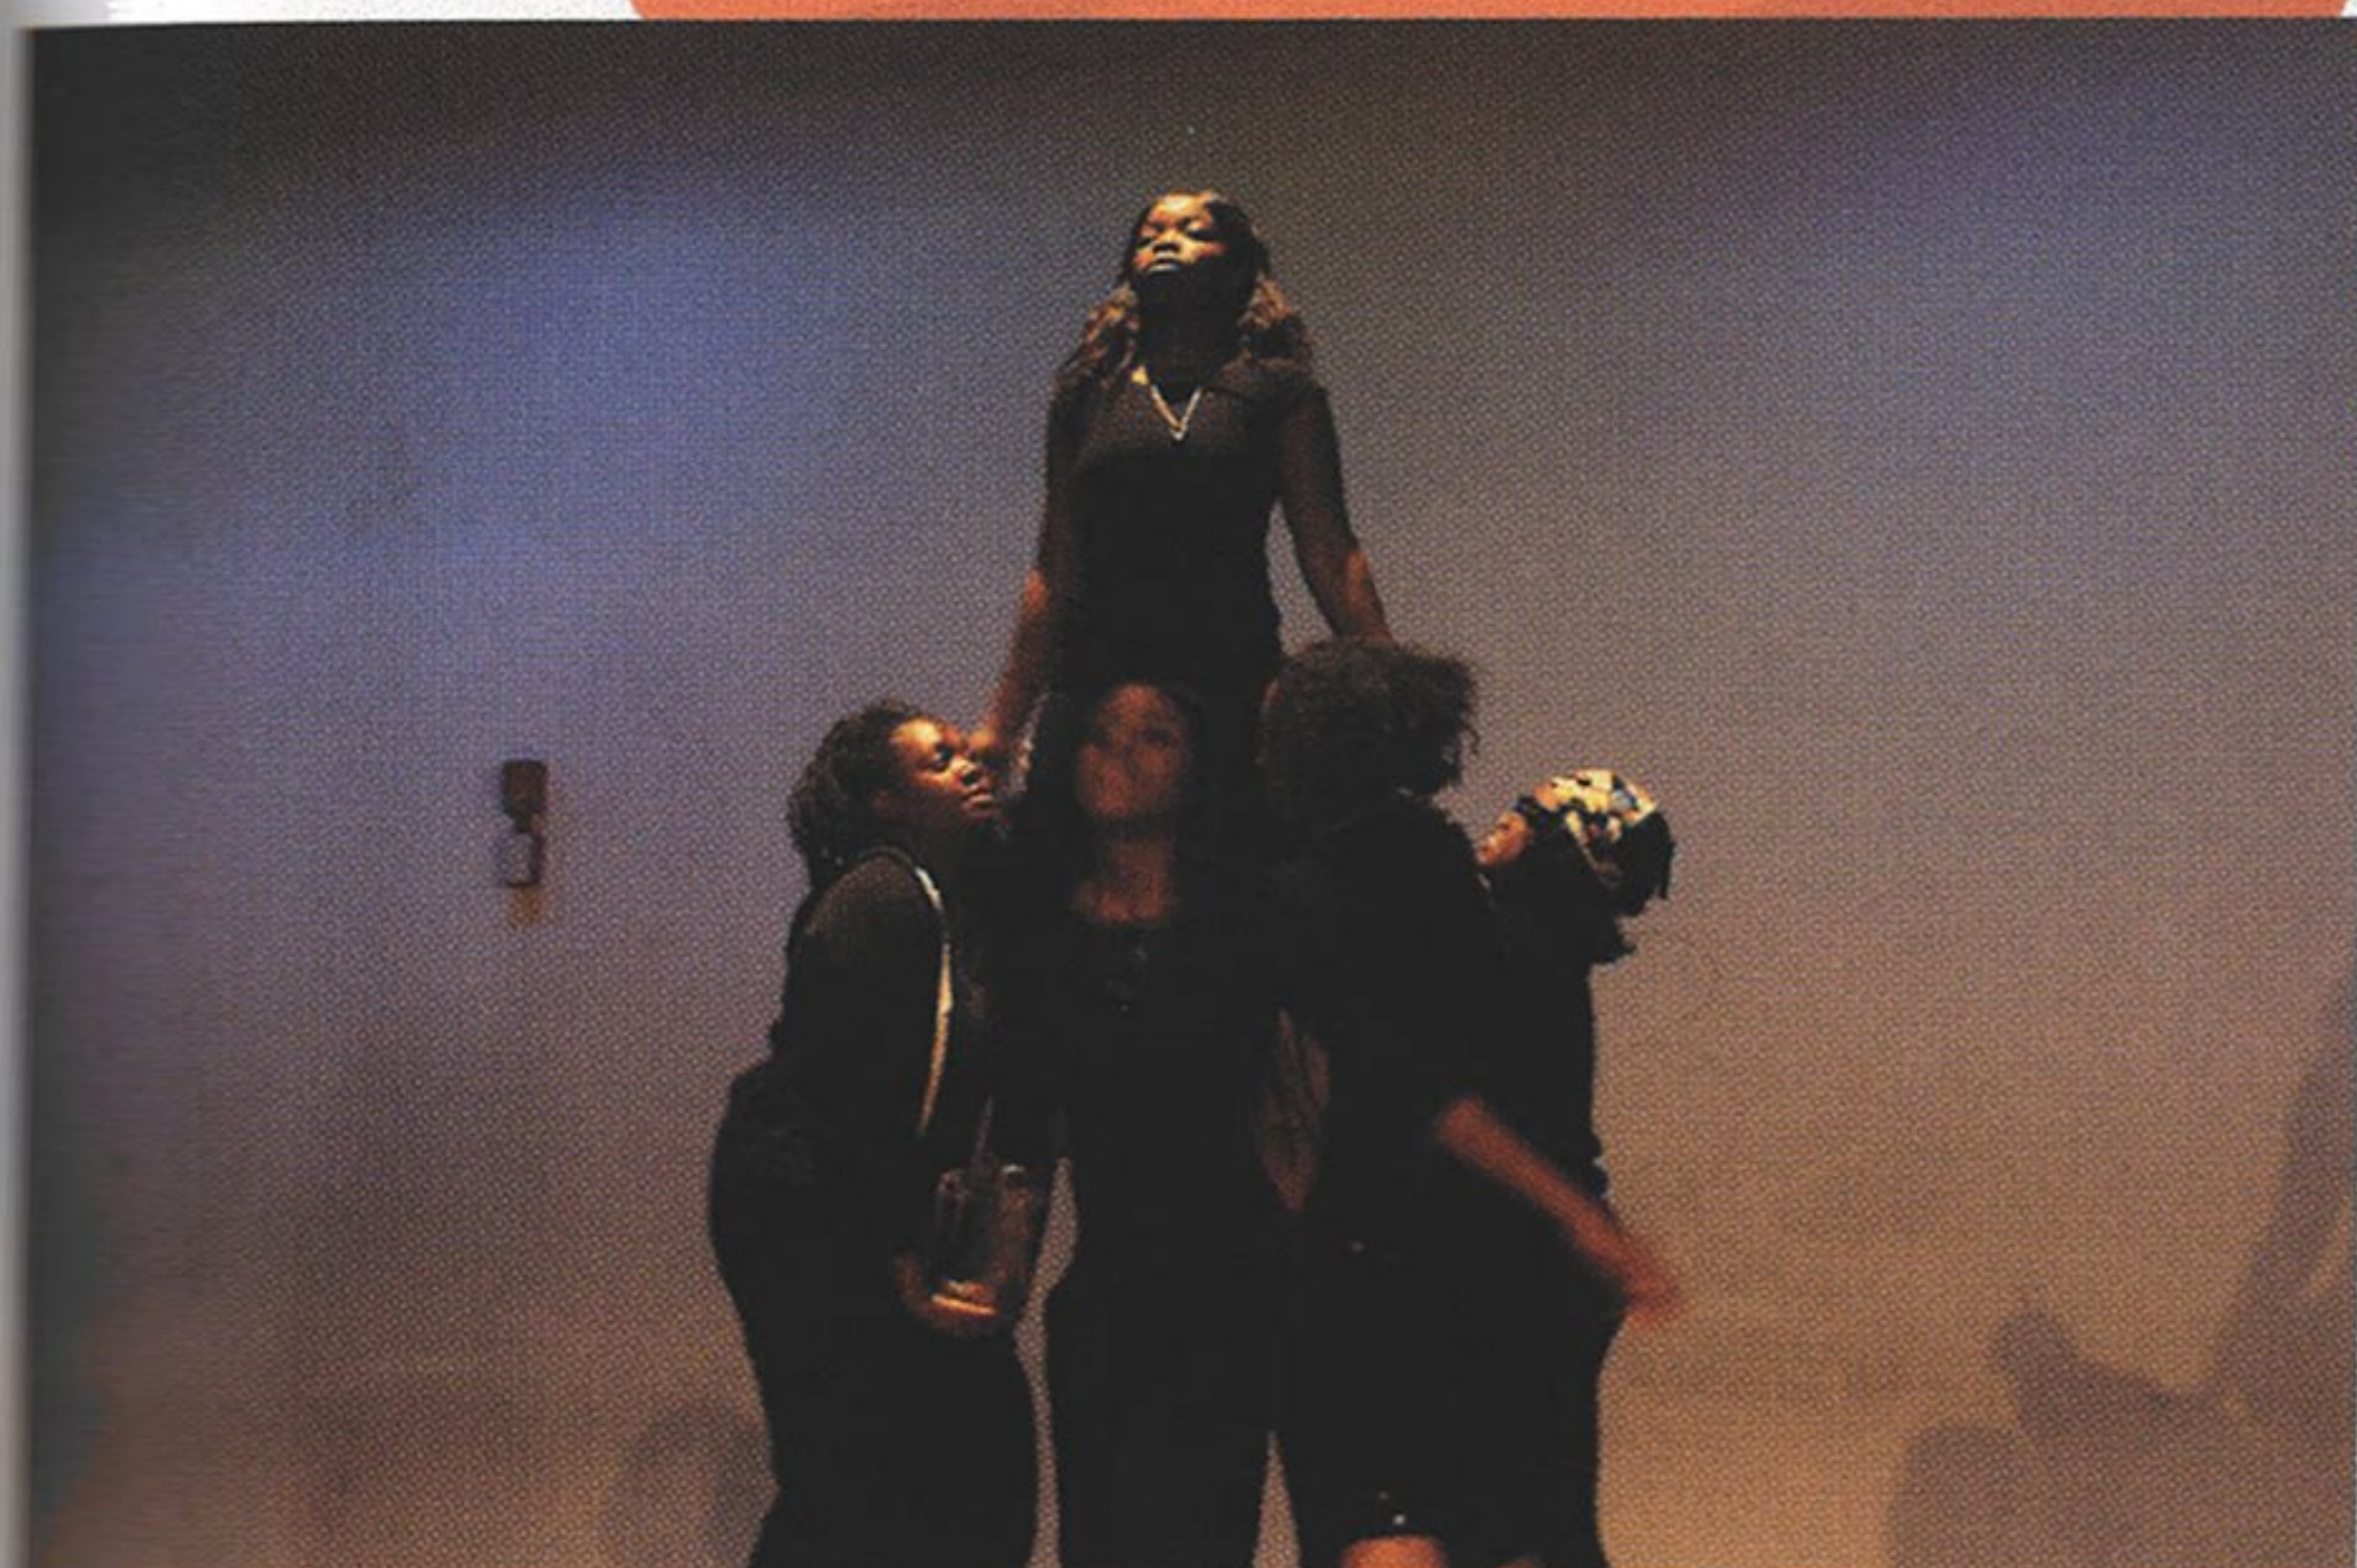

Teachers in the Math and Science departments decide to clown it up.

Both teachers and students get into the spirit of the day.

Remembrance Day Assembly

Students in Ms. Engesser-Chung's dance class perform an original dance piece titled "Soldiers".

Mr Saltzberg's class perform several scenes from the story Hanna's Suitcase.

A spectacular performance by Vocal Adrenaline singing, Demi Lovato's "Skyscraper" and The Cranberries "Zombies".

The Fall Dance was lit like leaves...

Student council in collaboration with the Prom Committee and Generation Change hosted our fall dance with our very own DJ Roan Francis.

Music Assembly

November was a happening month! The school was treated to a music assembly by Mr. Soares's band class, where many of the students performed on their instruments for the first time.

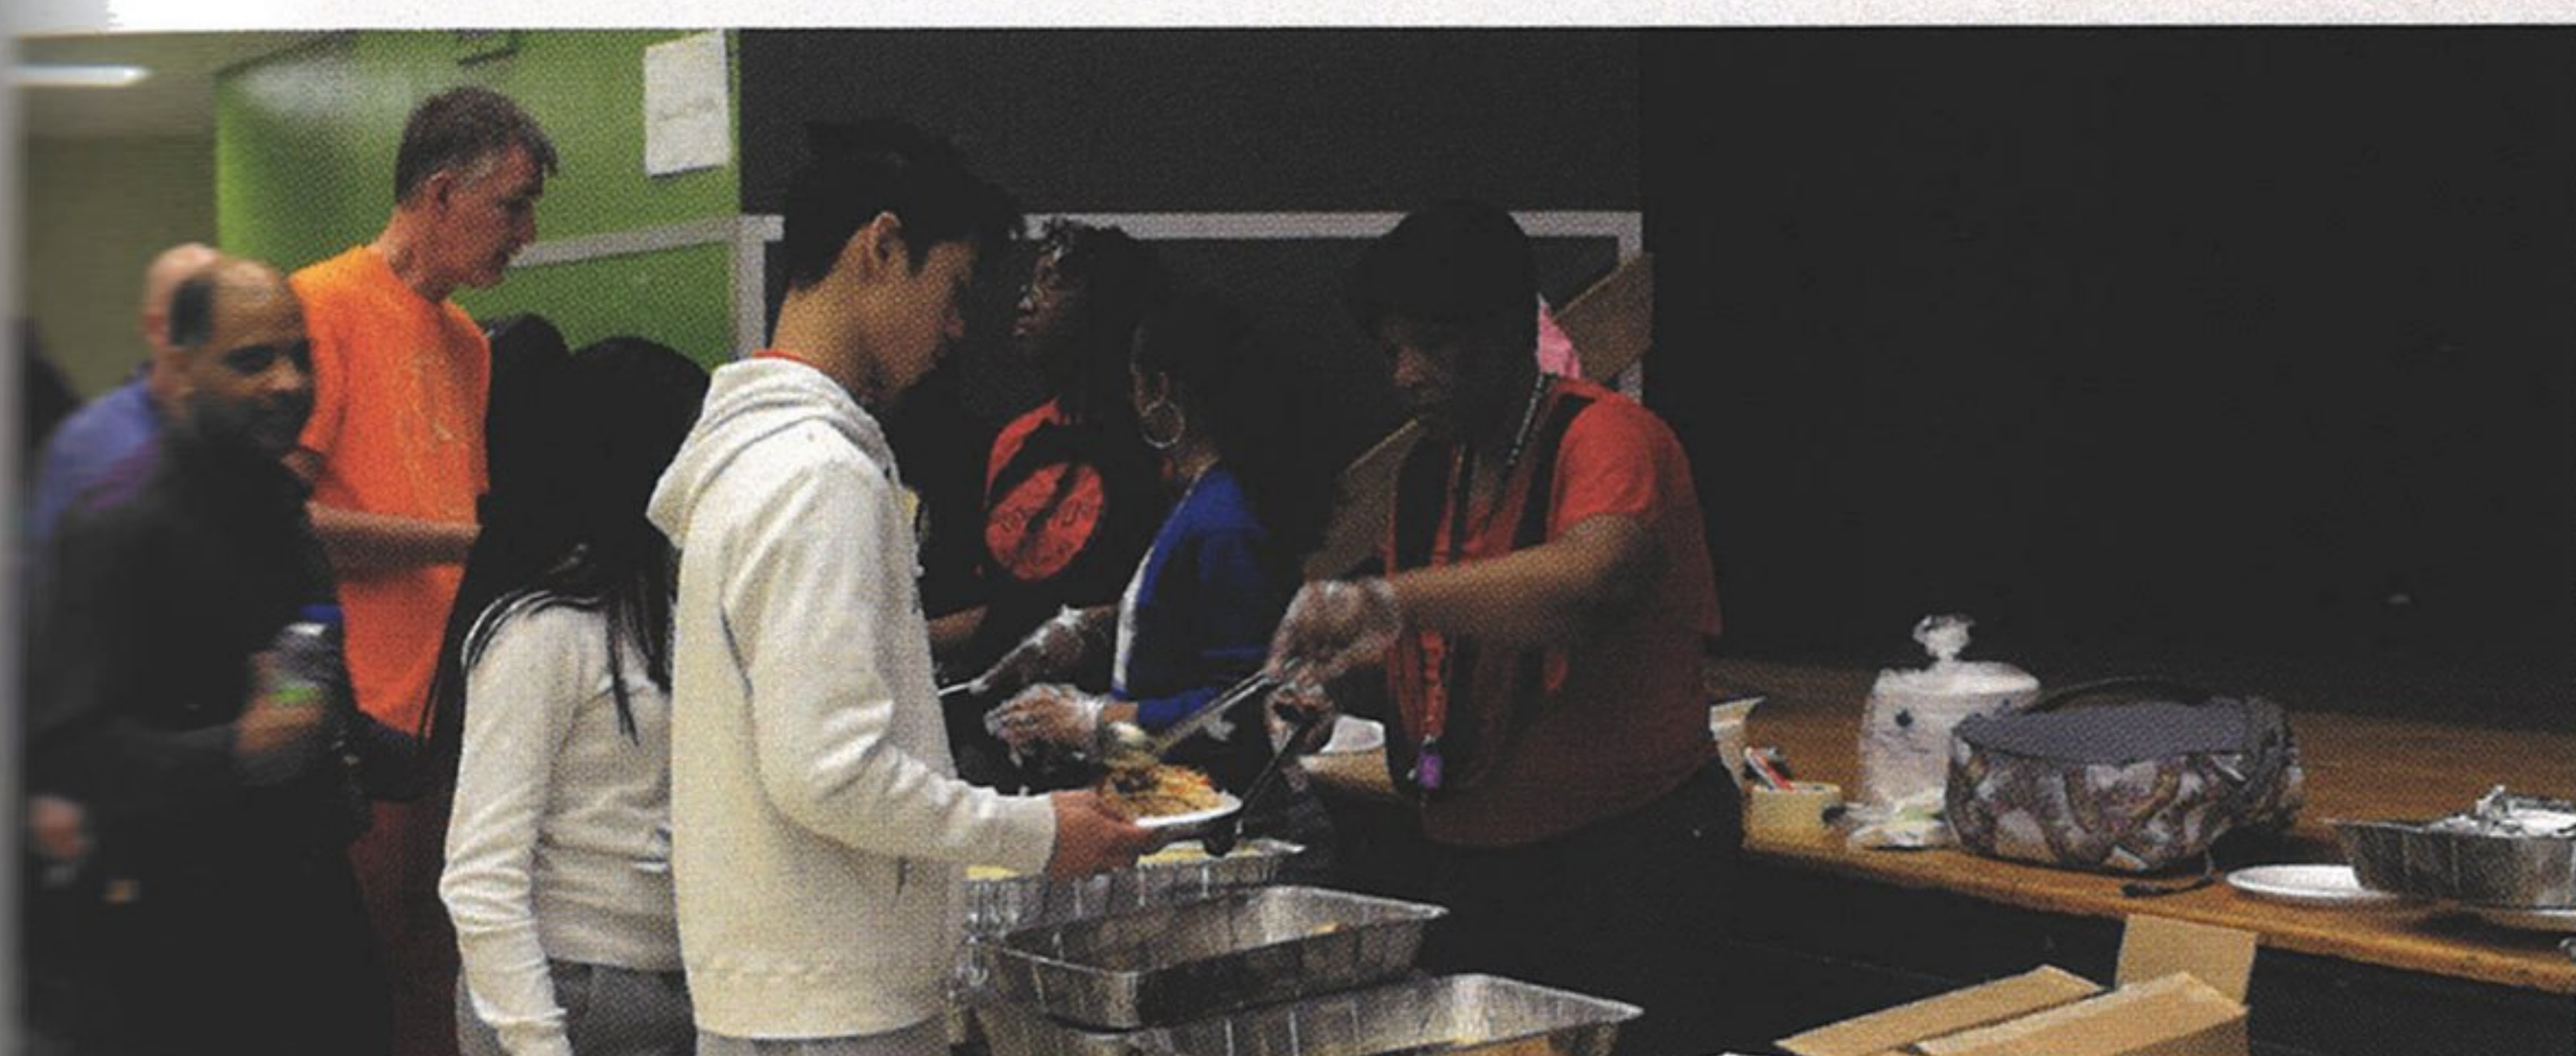

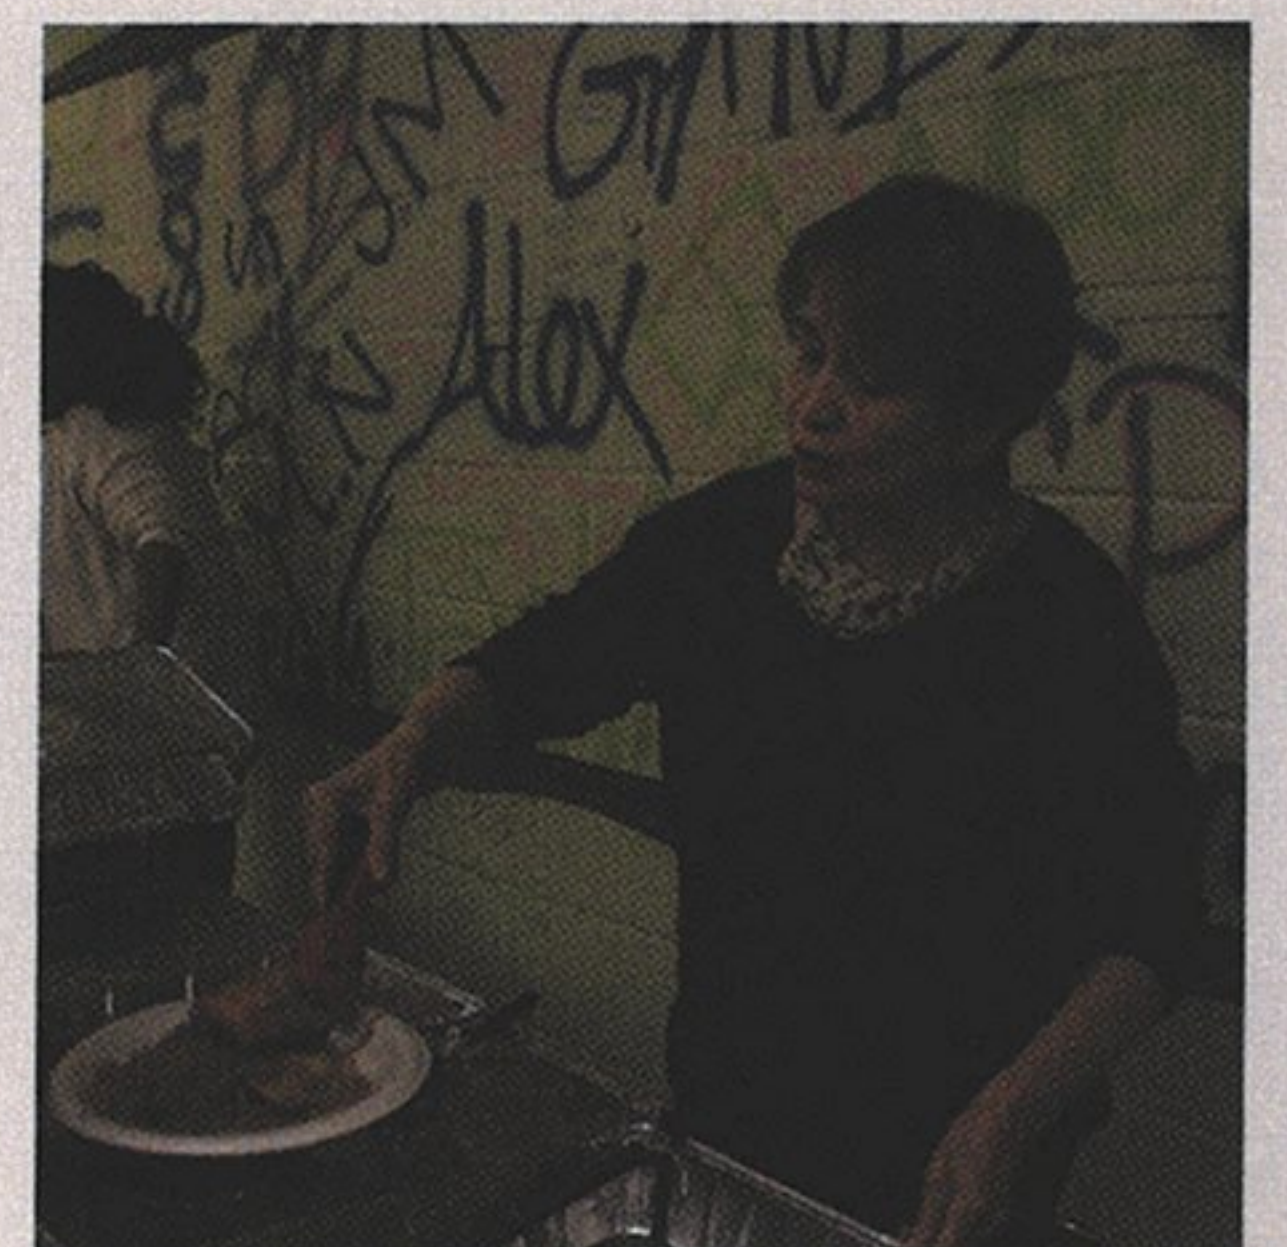

Breakfast with Santa

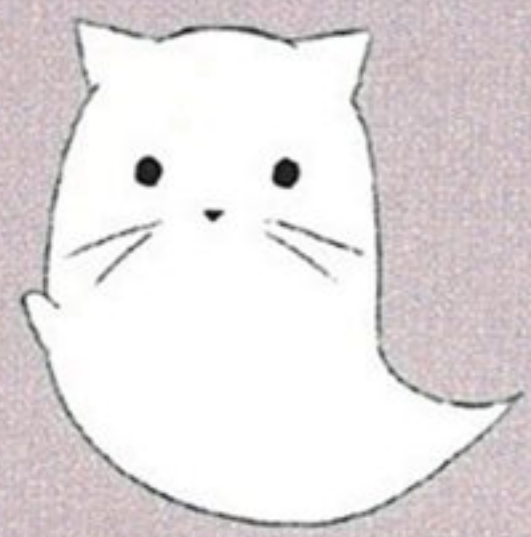

On a chilly November morning at the Jane & Finch Mall local elementary students enjoyed Breakfast with Santa hosted by Westview's very own Generation Change.

Multicultural Lunch

On December 22, 2017 a multicultural lunch was served with delicious dishes from five different continents. Teachers, students and the community were treated to fantastic flavours from around the world.

Arts Assembly

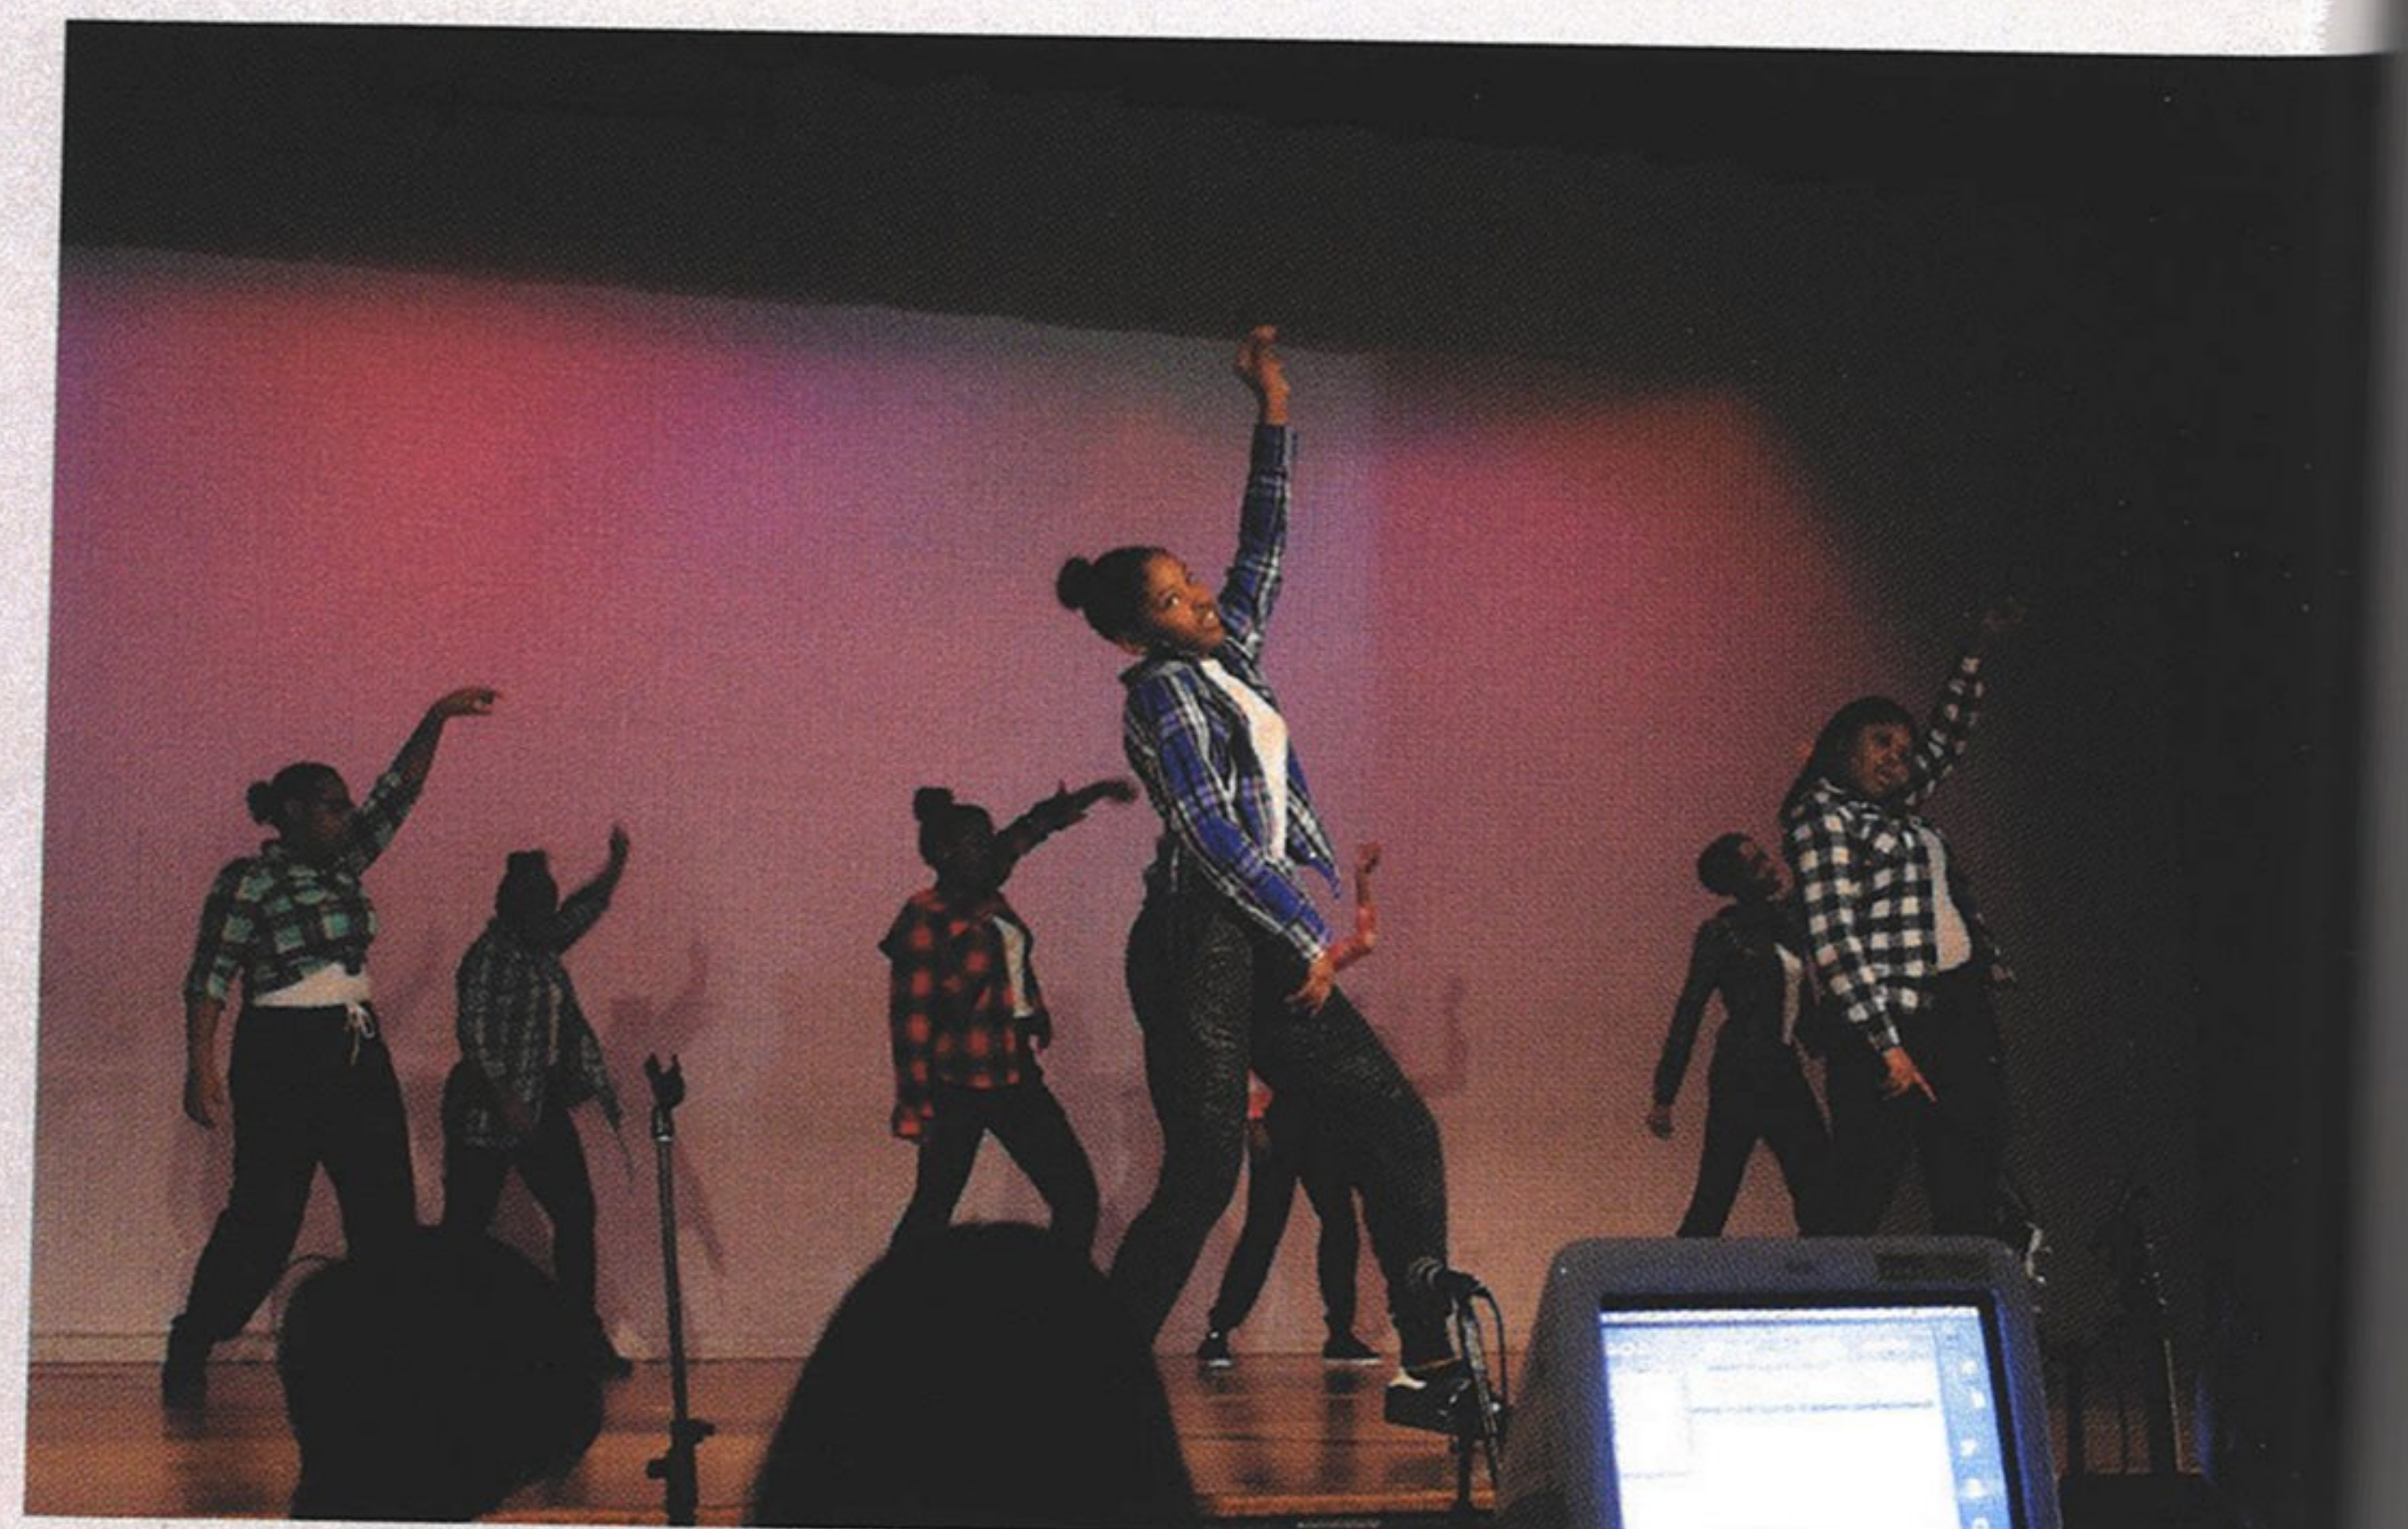

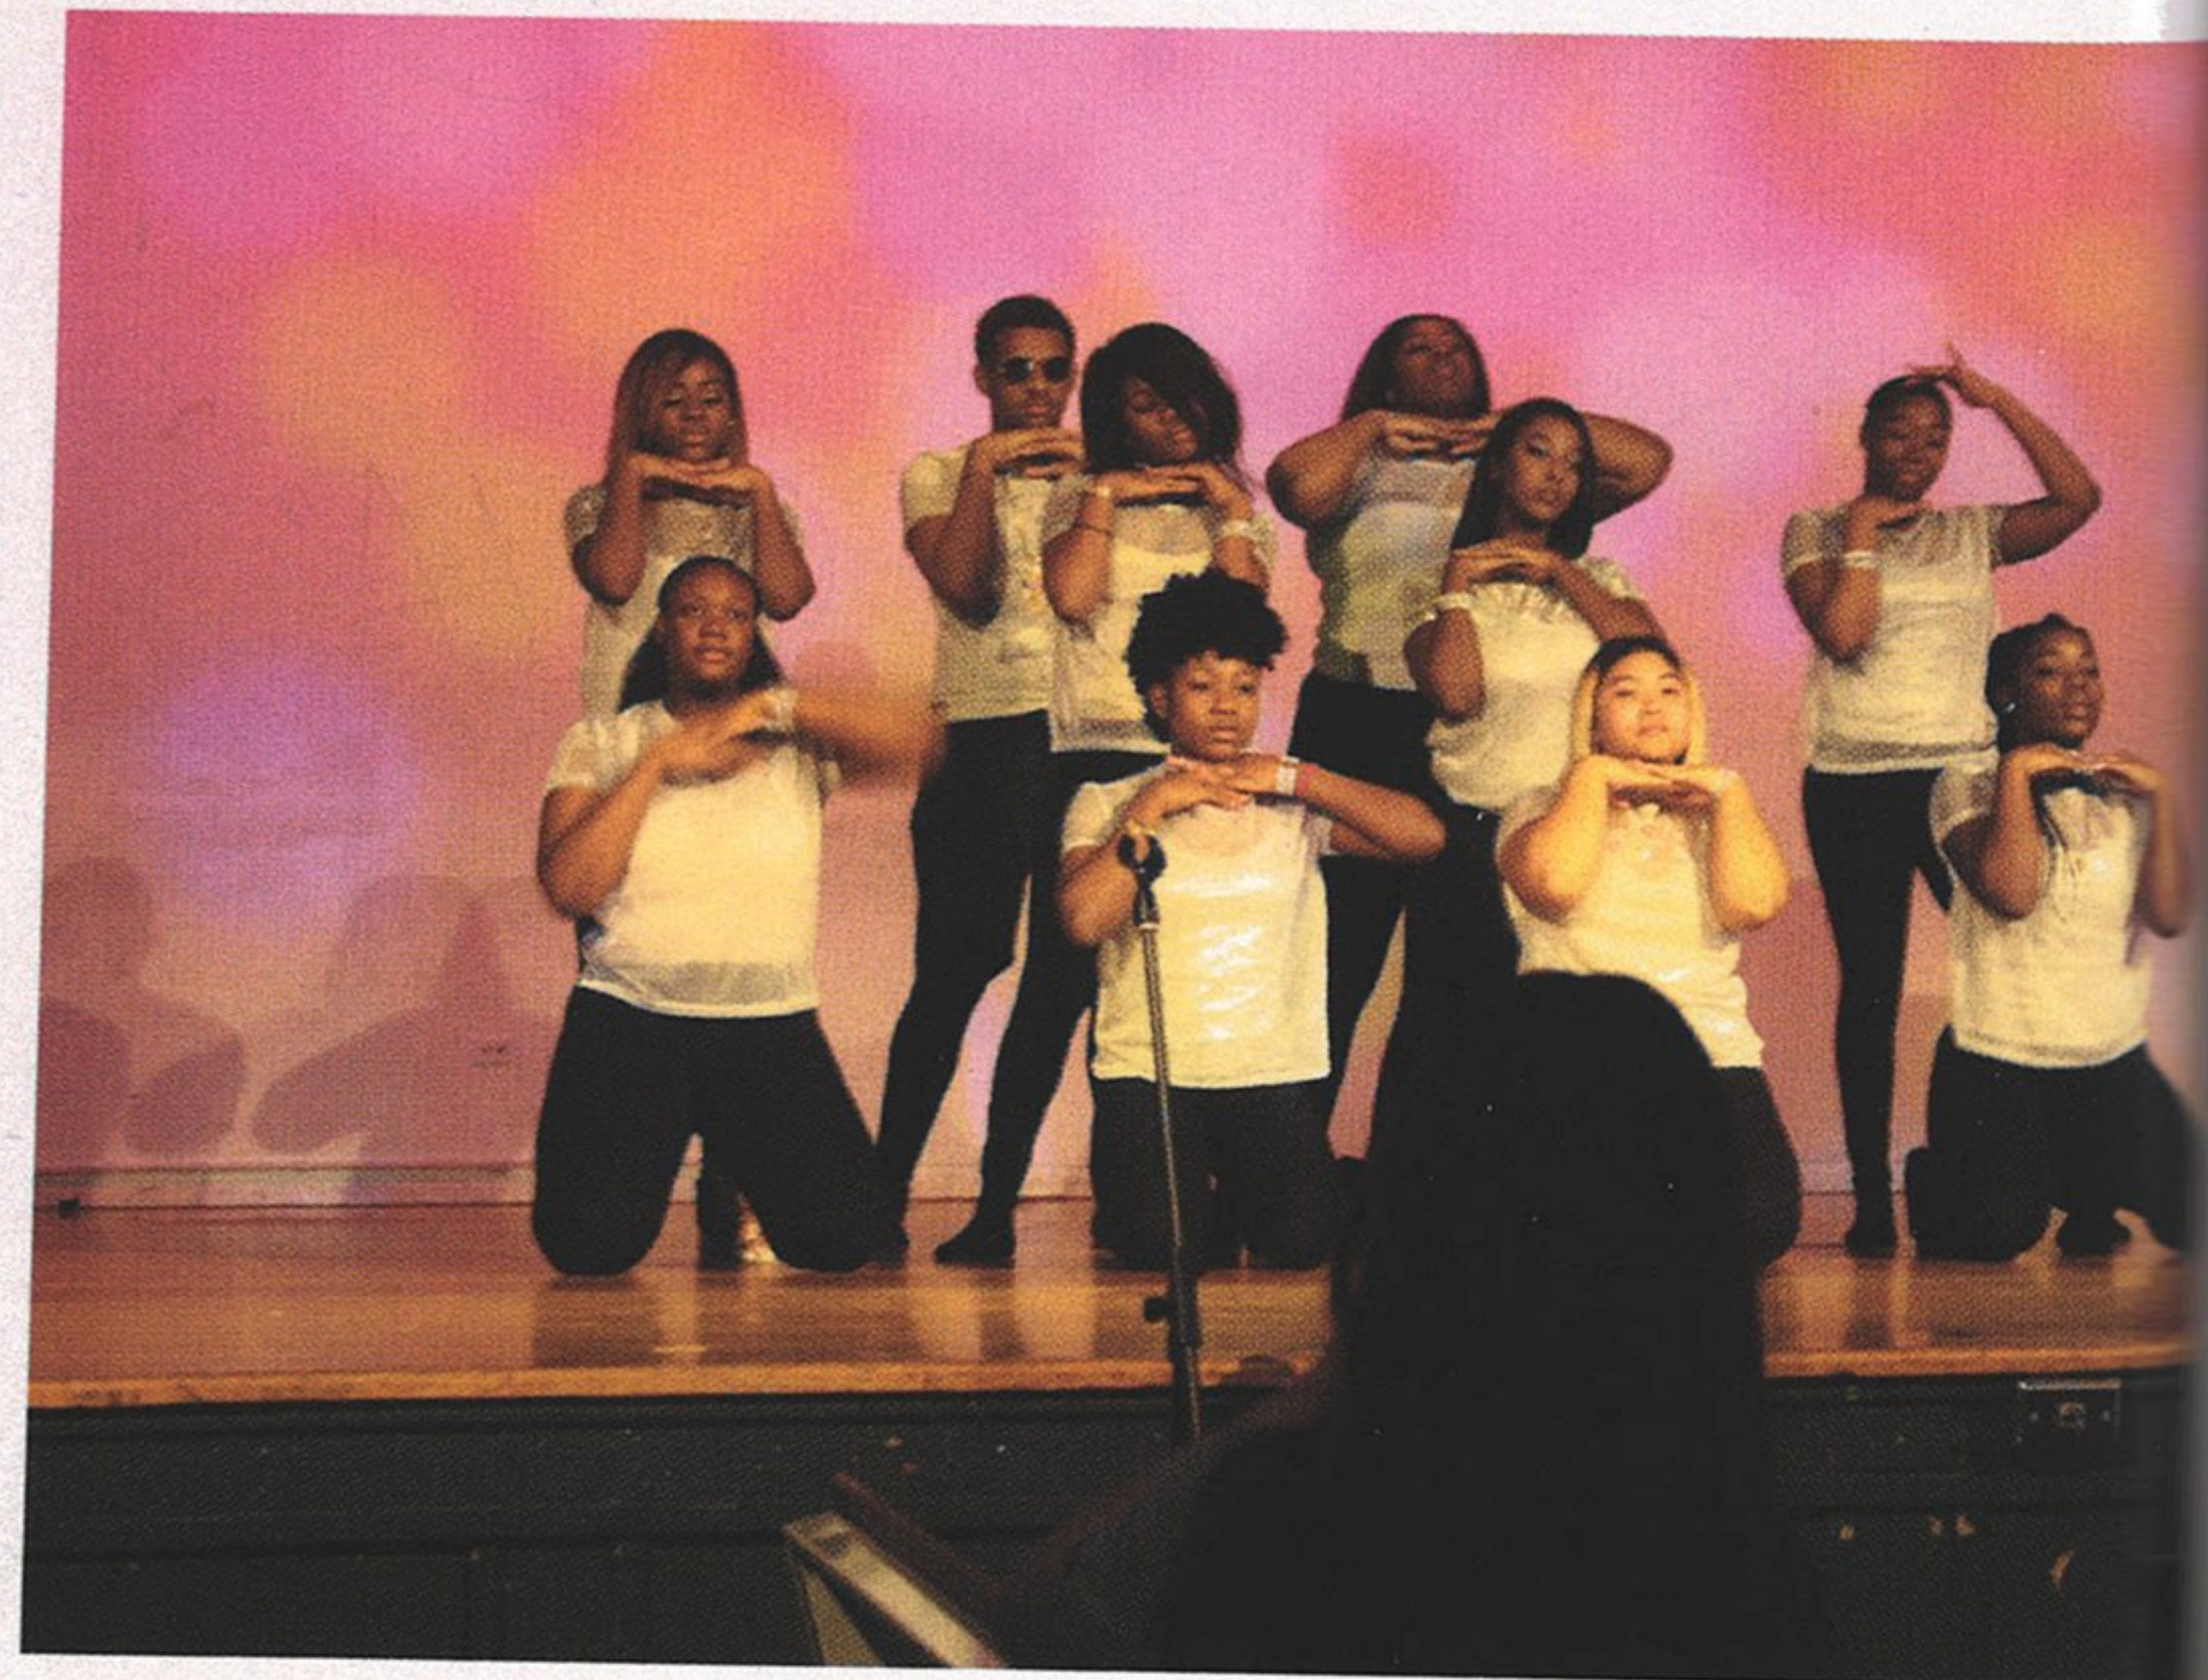

Westview held the annual Arts Assembly on December 22. There were marvelous performances, by Ms. Engesser-Chung's dance class, Mr. Saltberg's grade 10 drama class and Ms. Backman's vocal class.

Dancers: Daisphia Francis and Kwaku Nyanor

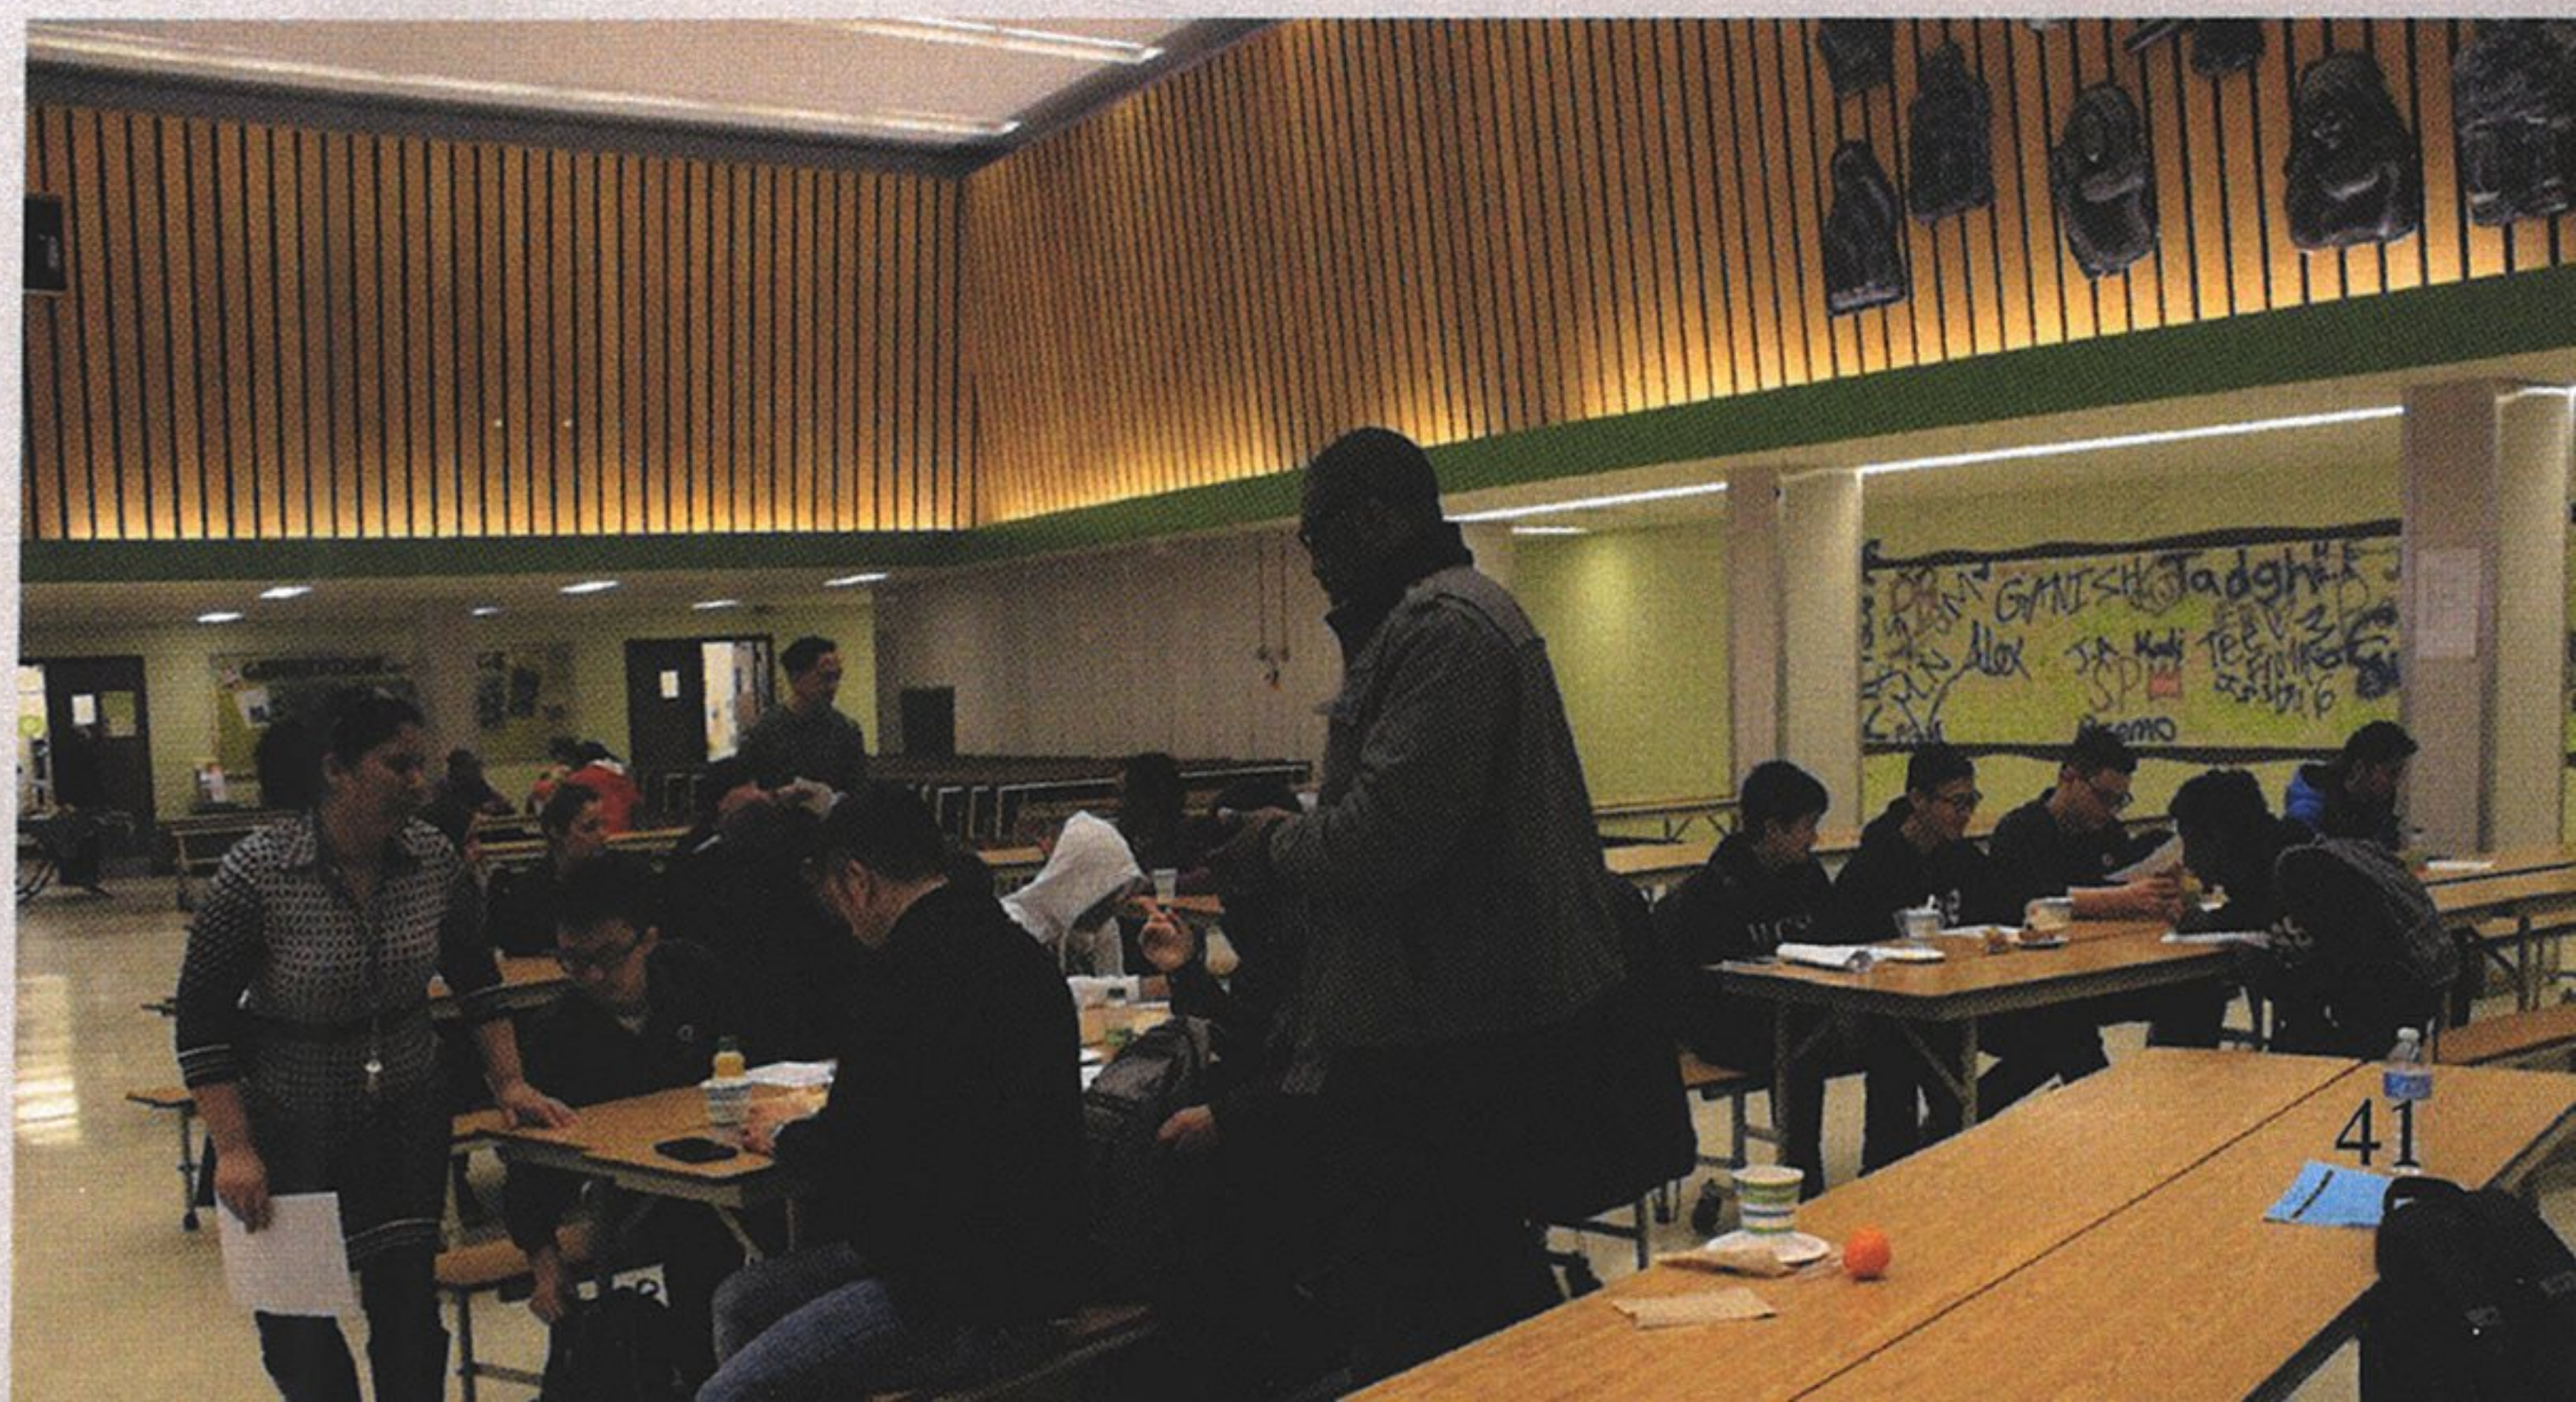

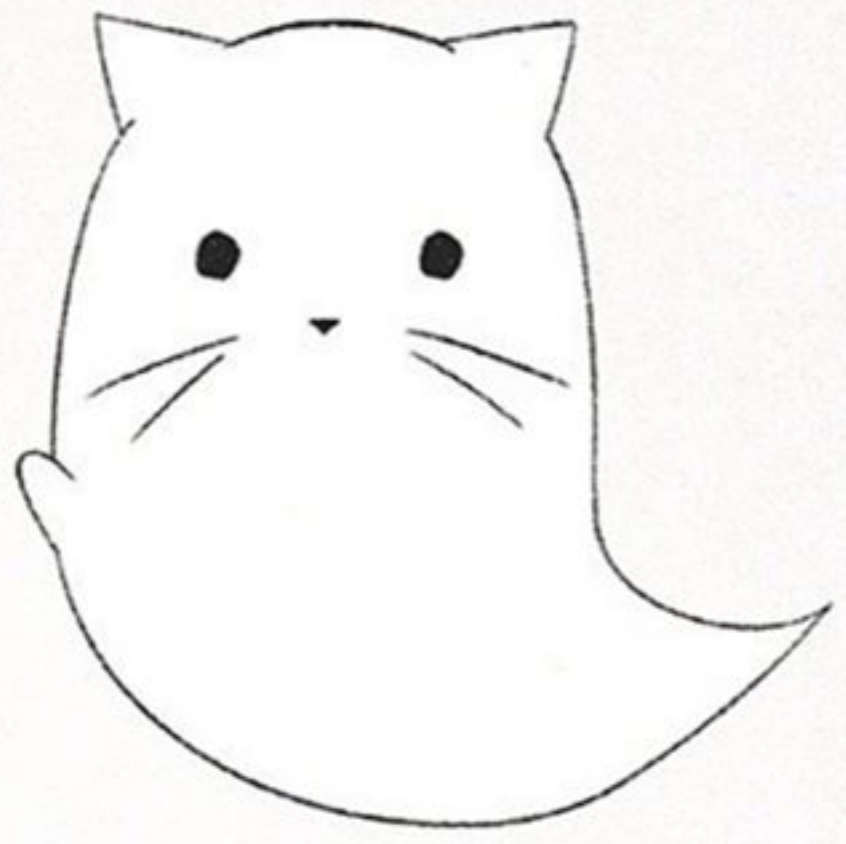

Mr. Saltberg's, drama class perform a scene from the musical "Annie".

ELL Breakfast

The English Language Learner Newcomers' Breakfast on February 8th welcomed new Westview students and their families as they visited the school and became familiar with school programs.

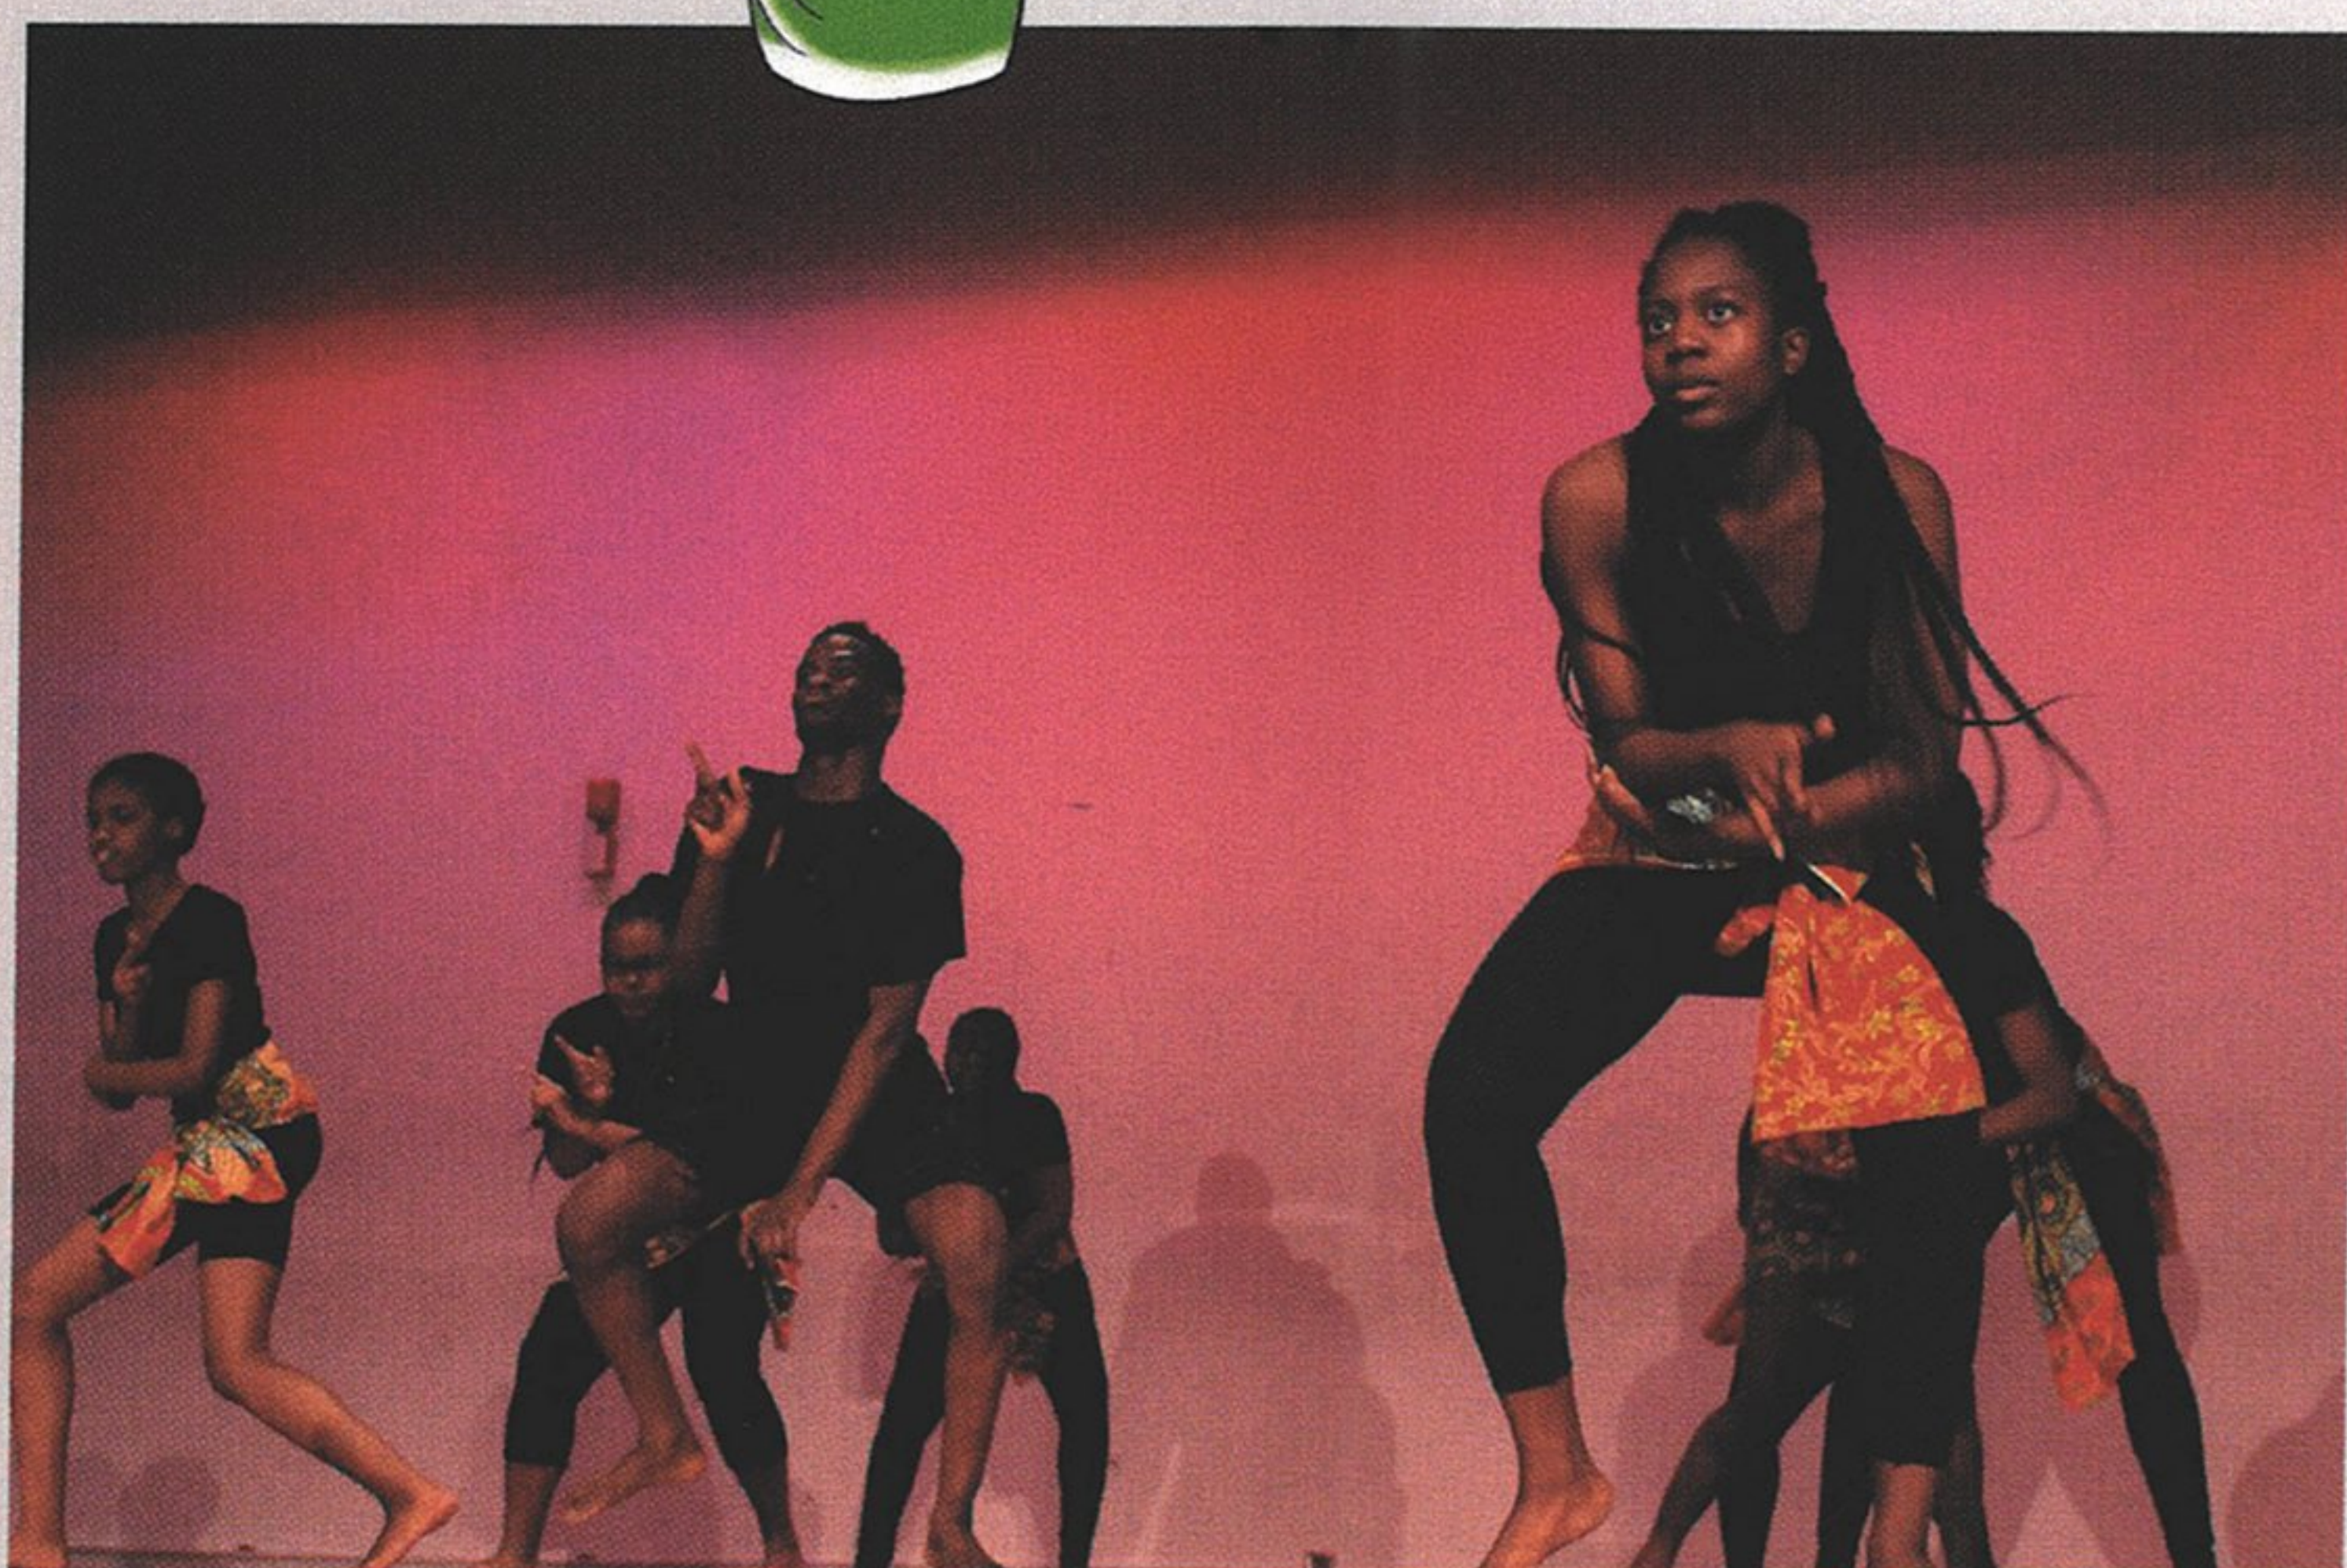

African Heritage Assembly

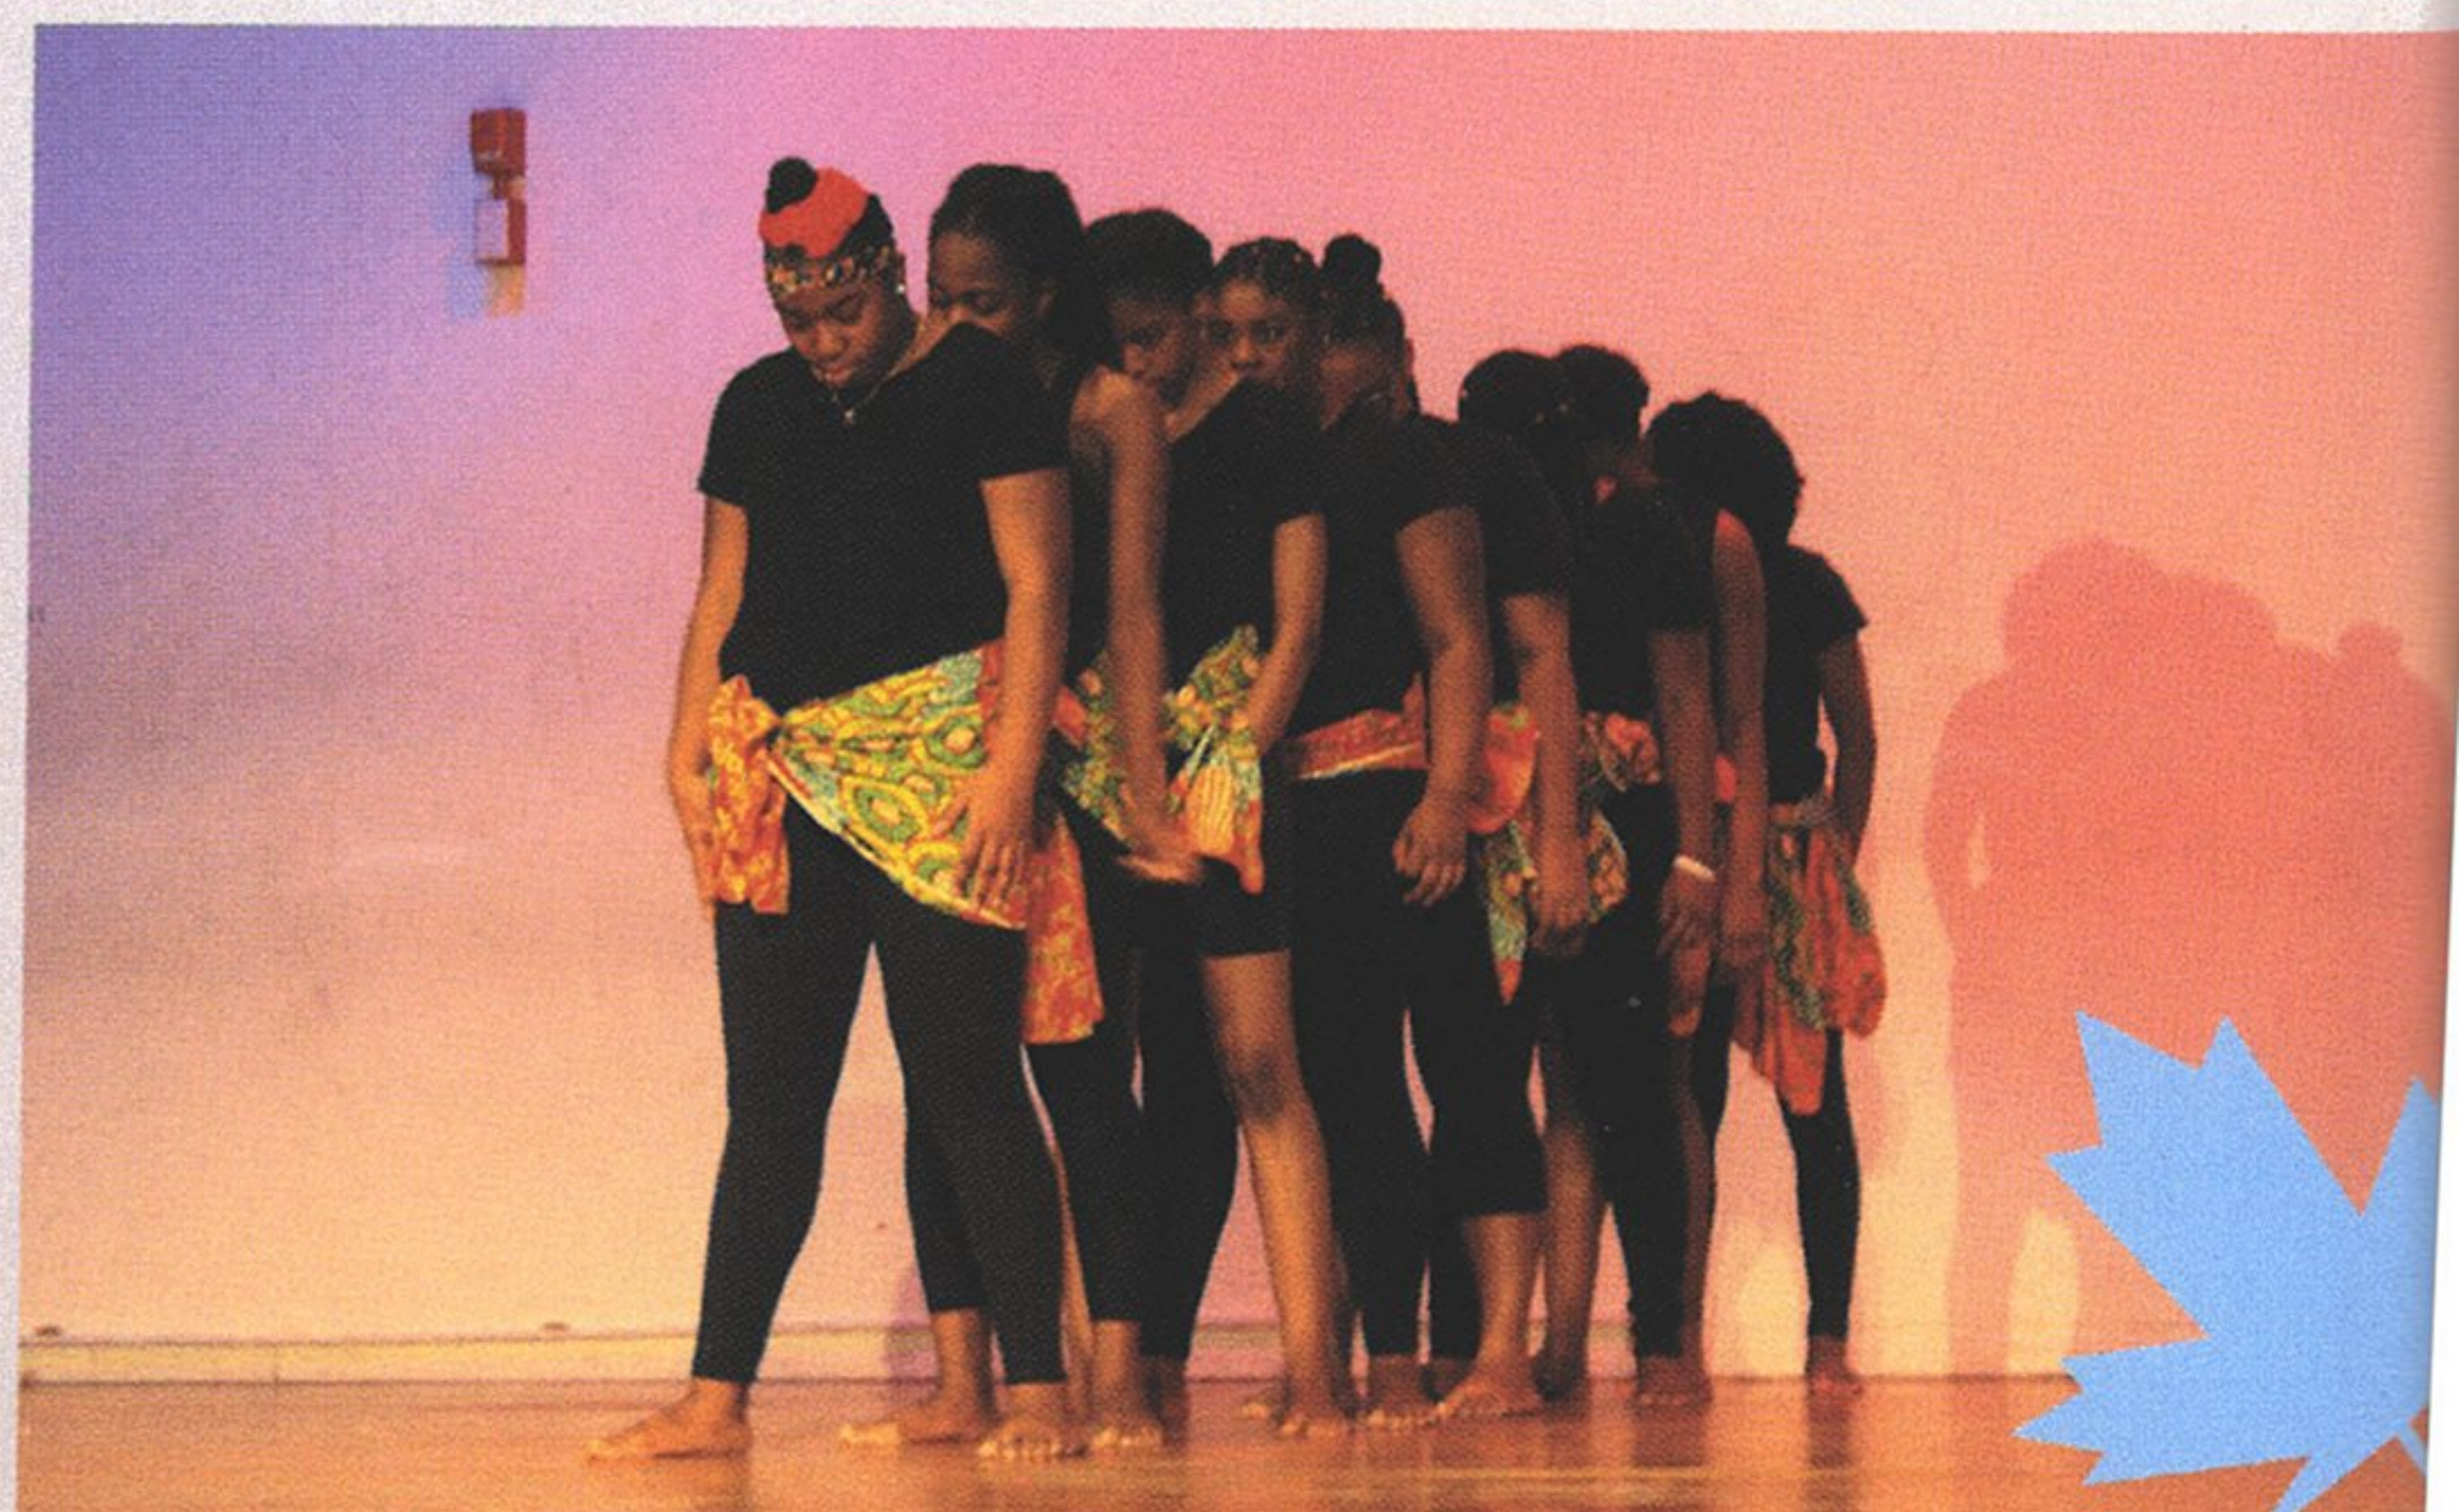

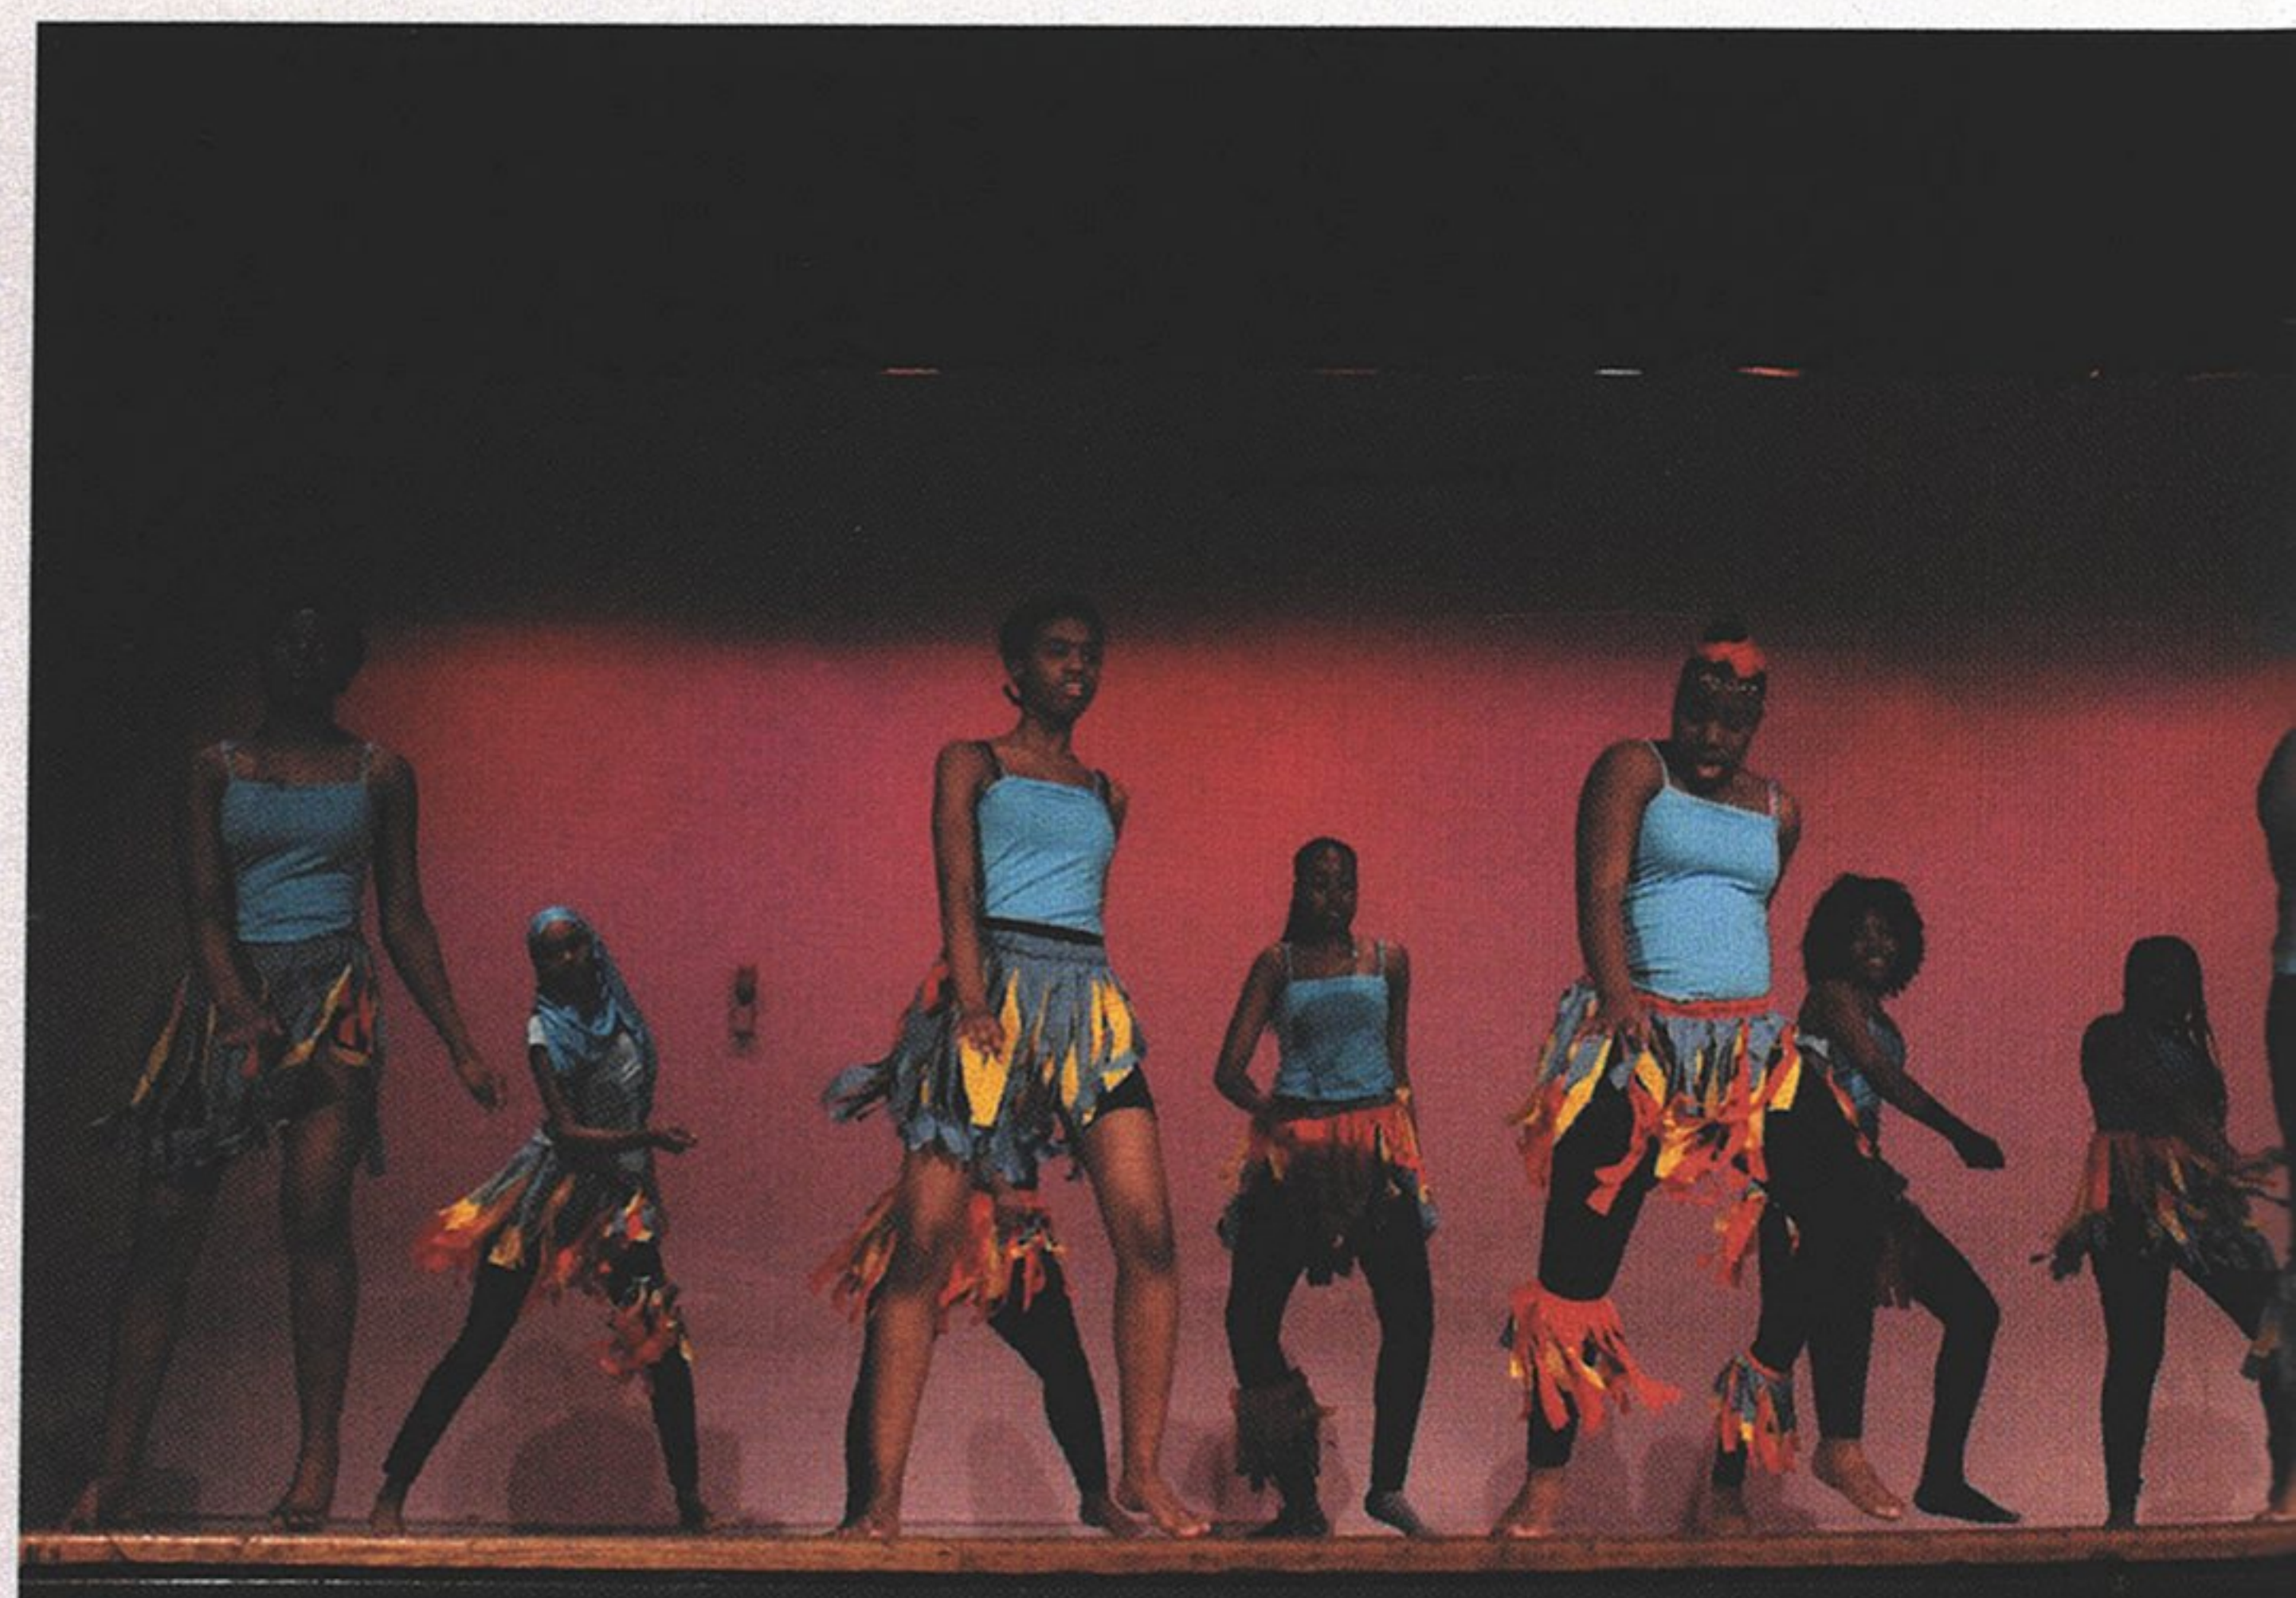

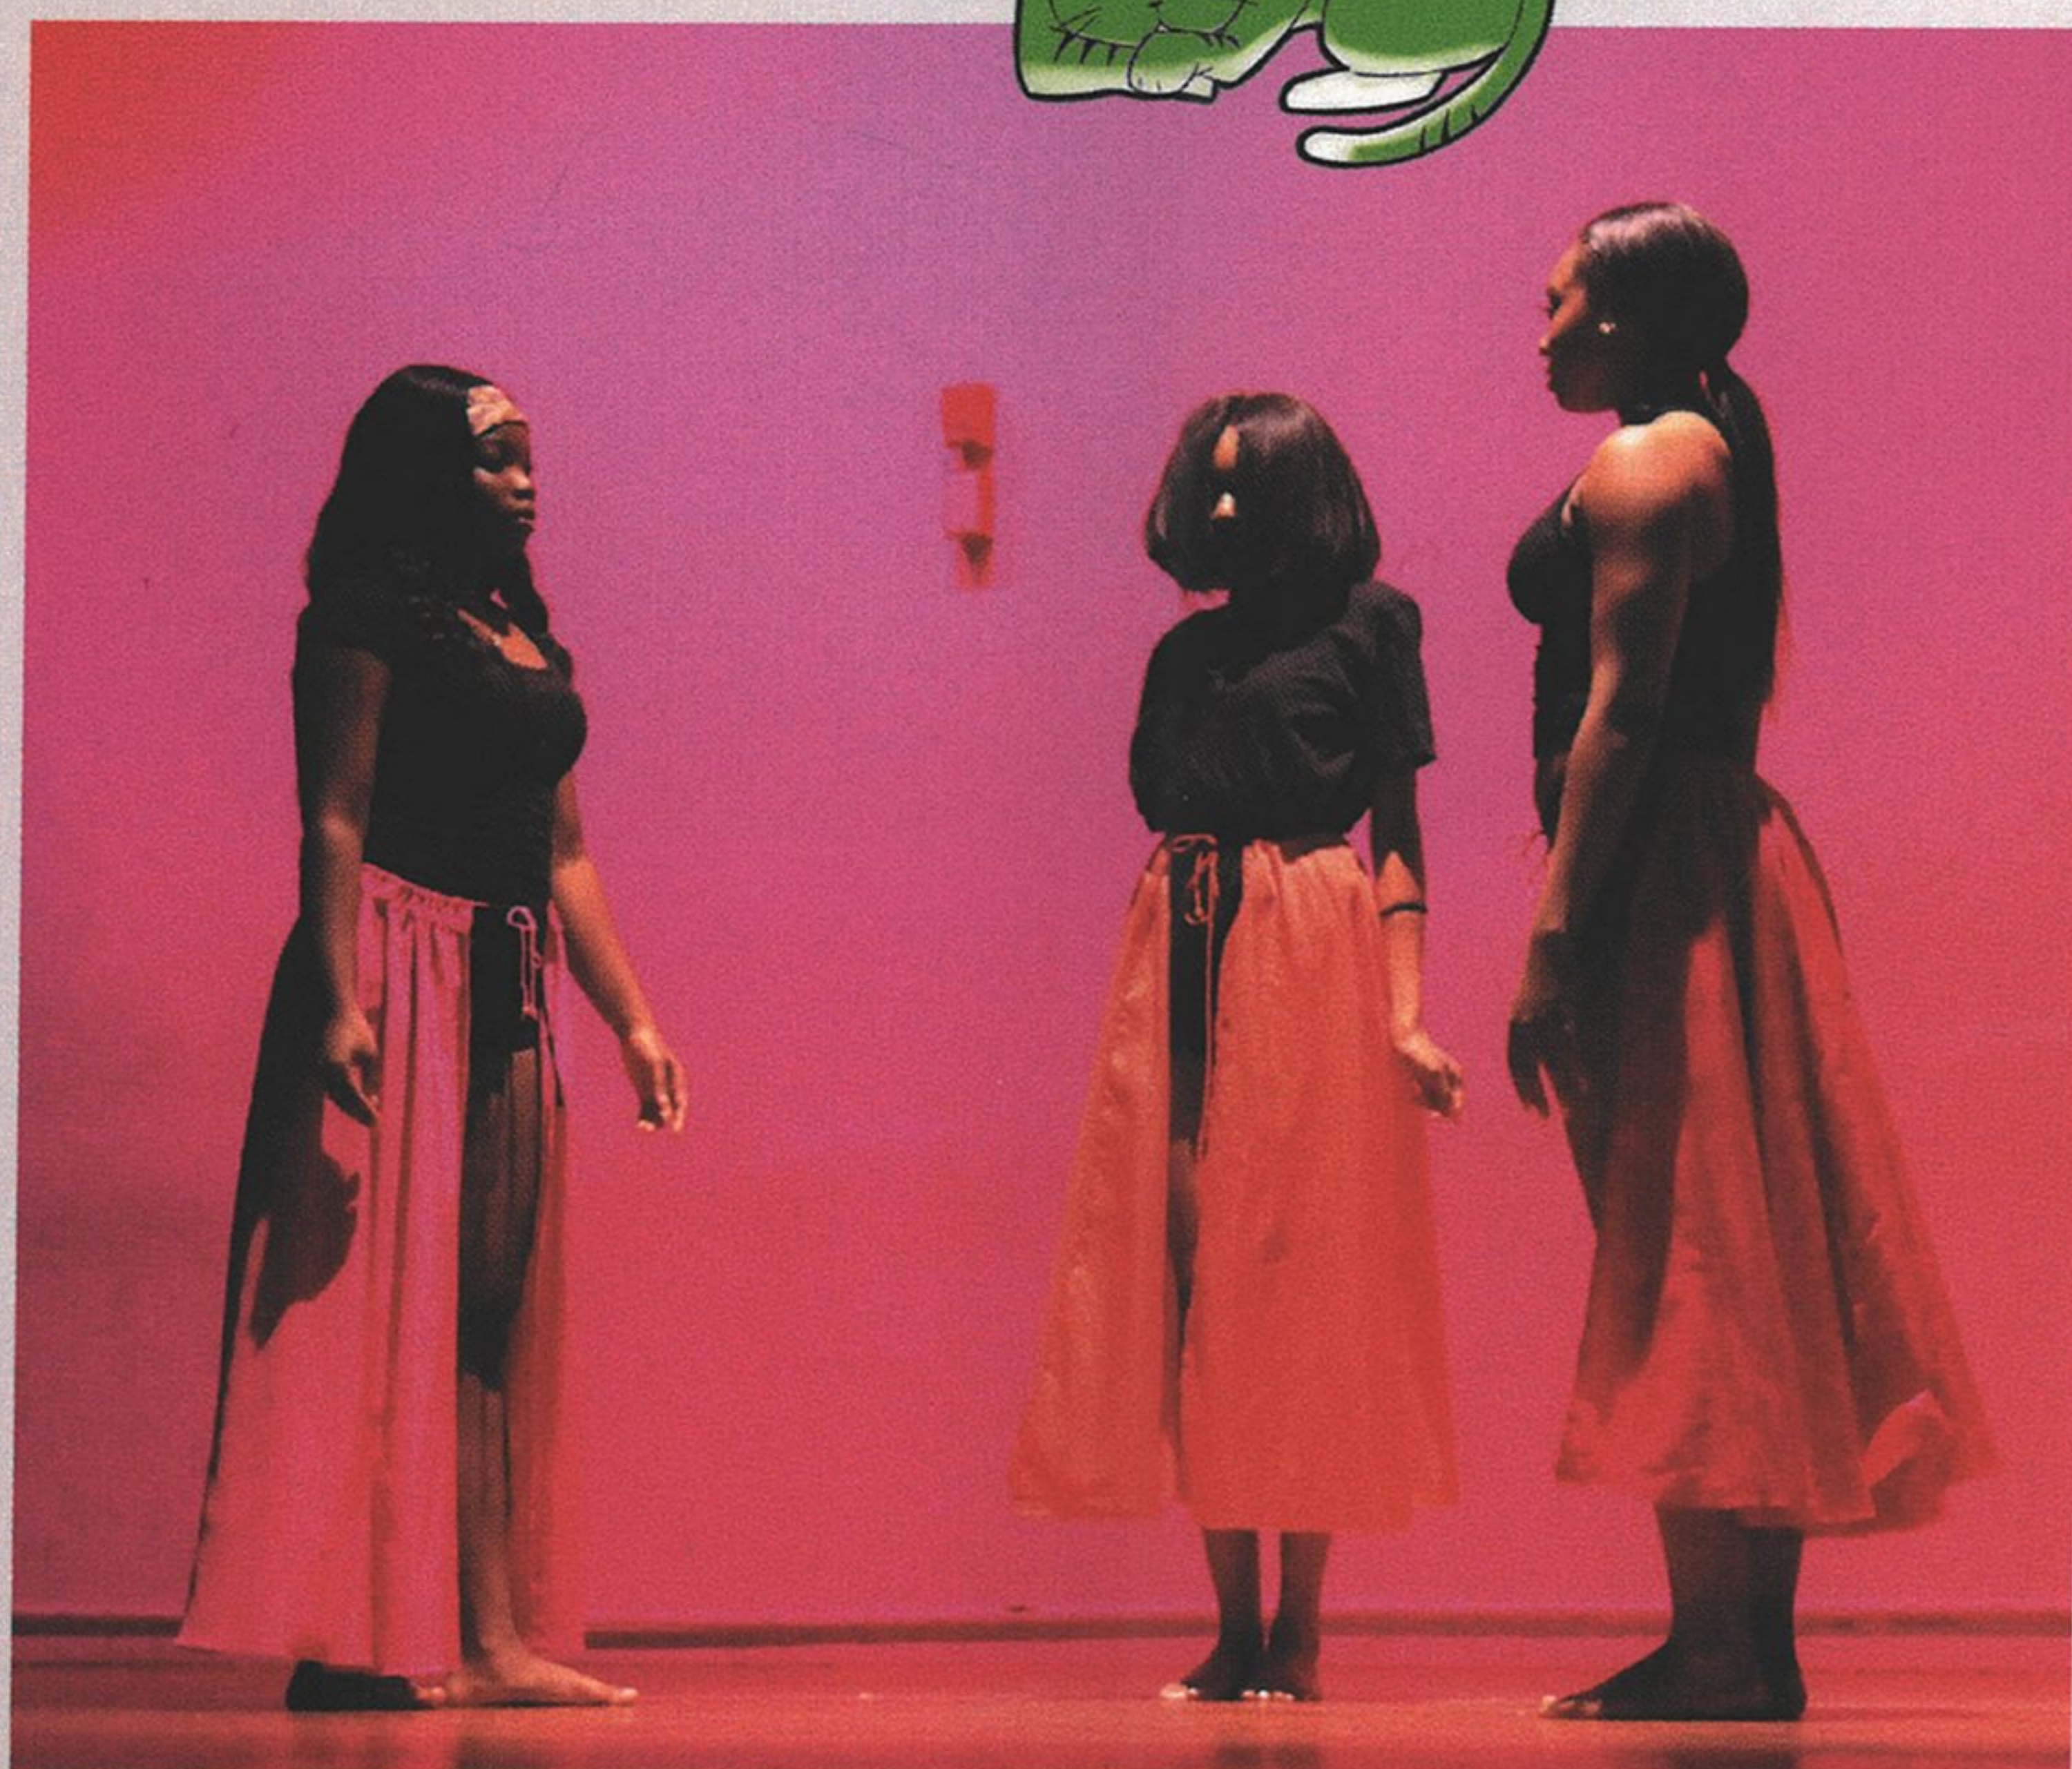

On February 28th, Westview hosted its annual African Heritage Assembly. African culture was celebrated through a number of stellar performances from our talented art department.

Toneysha Sudlow performs a memorable rendition of "At Last" by blues and soul artist Etta James.

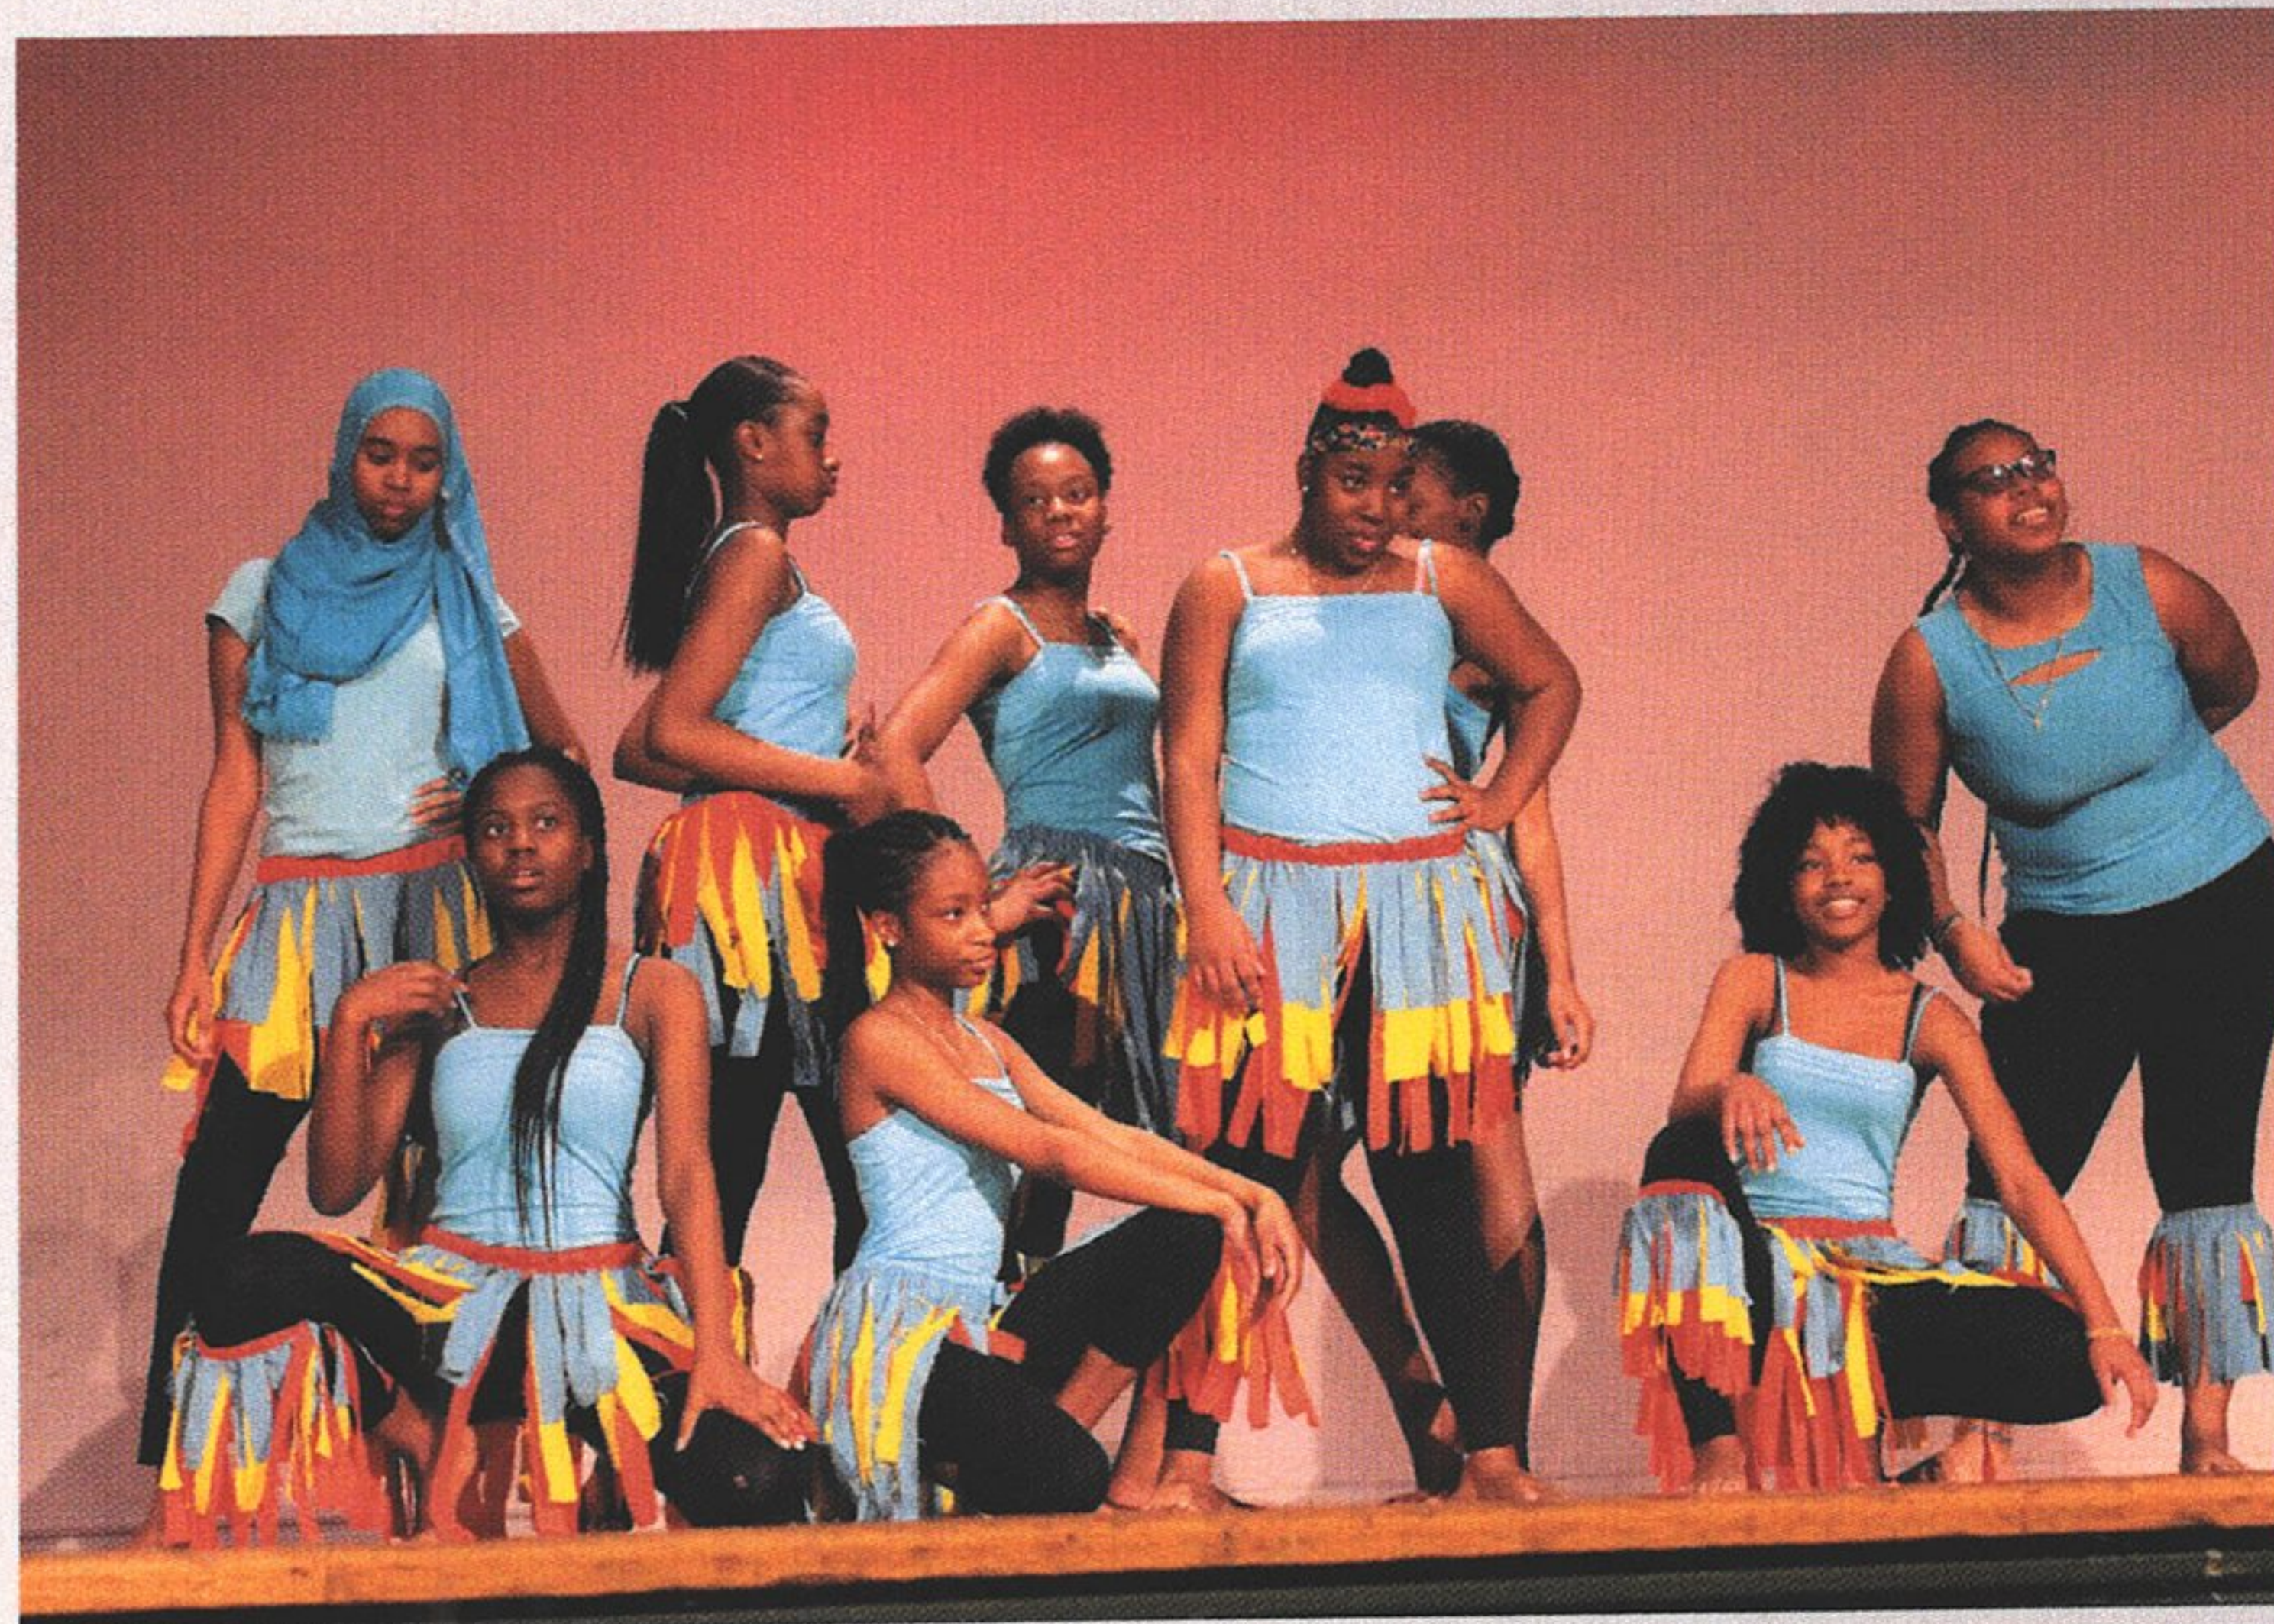

The Afro Fusion Dance performed by the dance club and Kwaku Nyanor.

Drummers: Ms. Phillp, Mr. Gaskin, Keemo Taylor and Keno Paul.

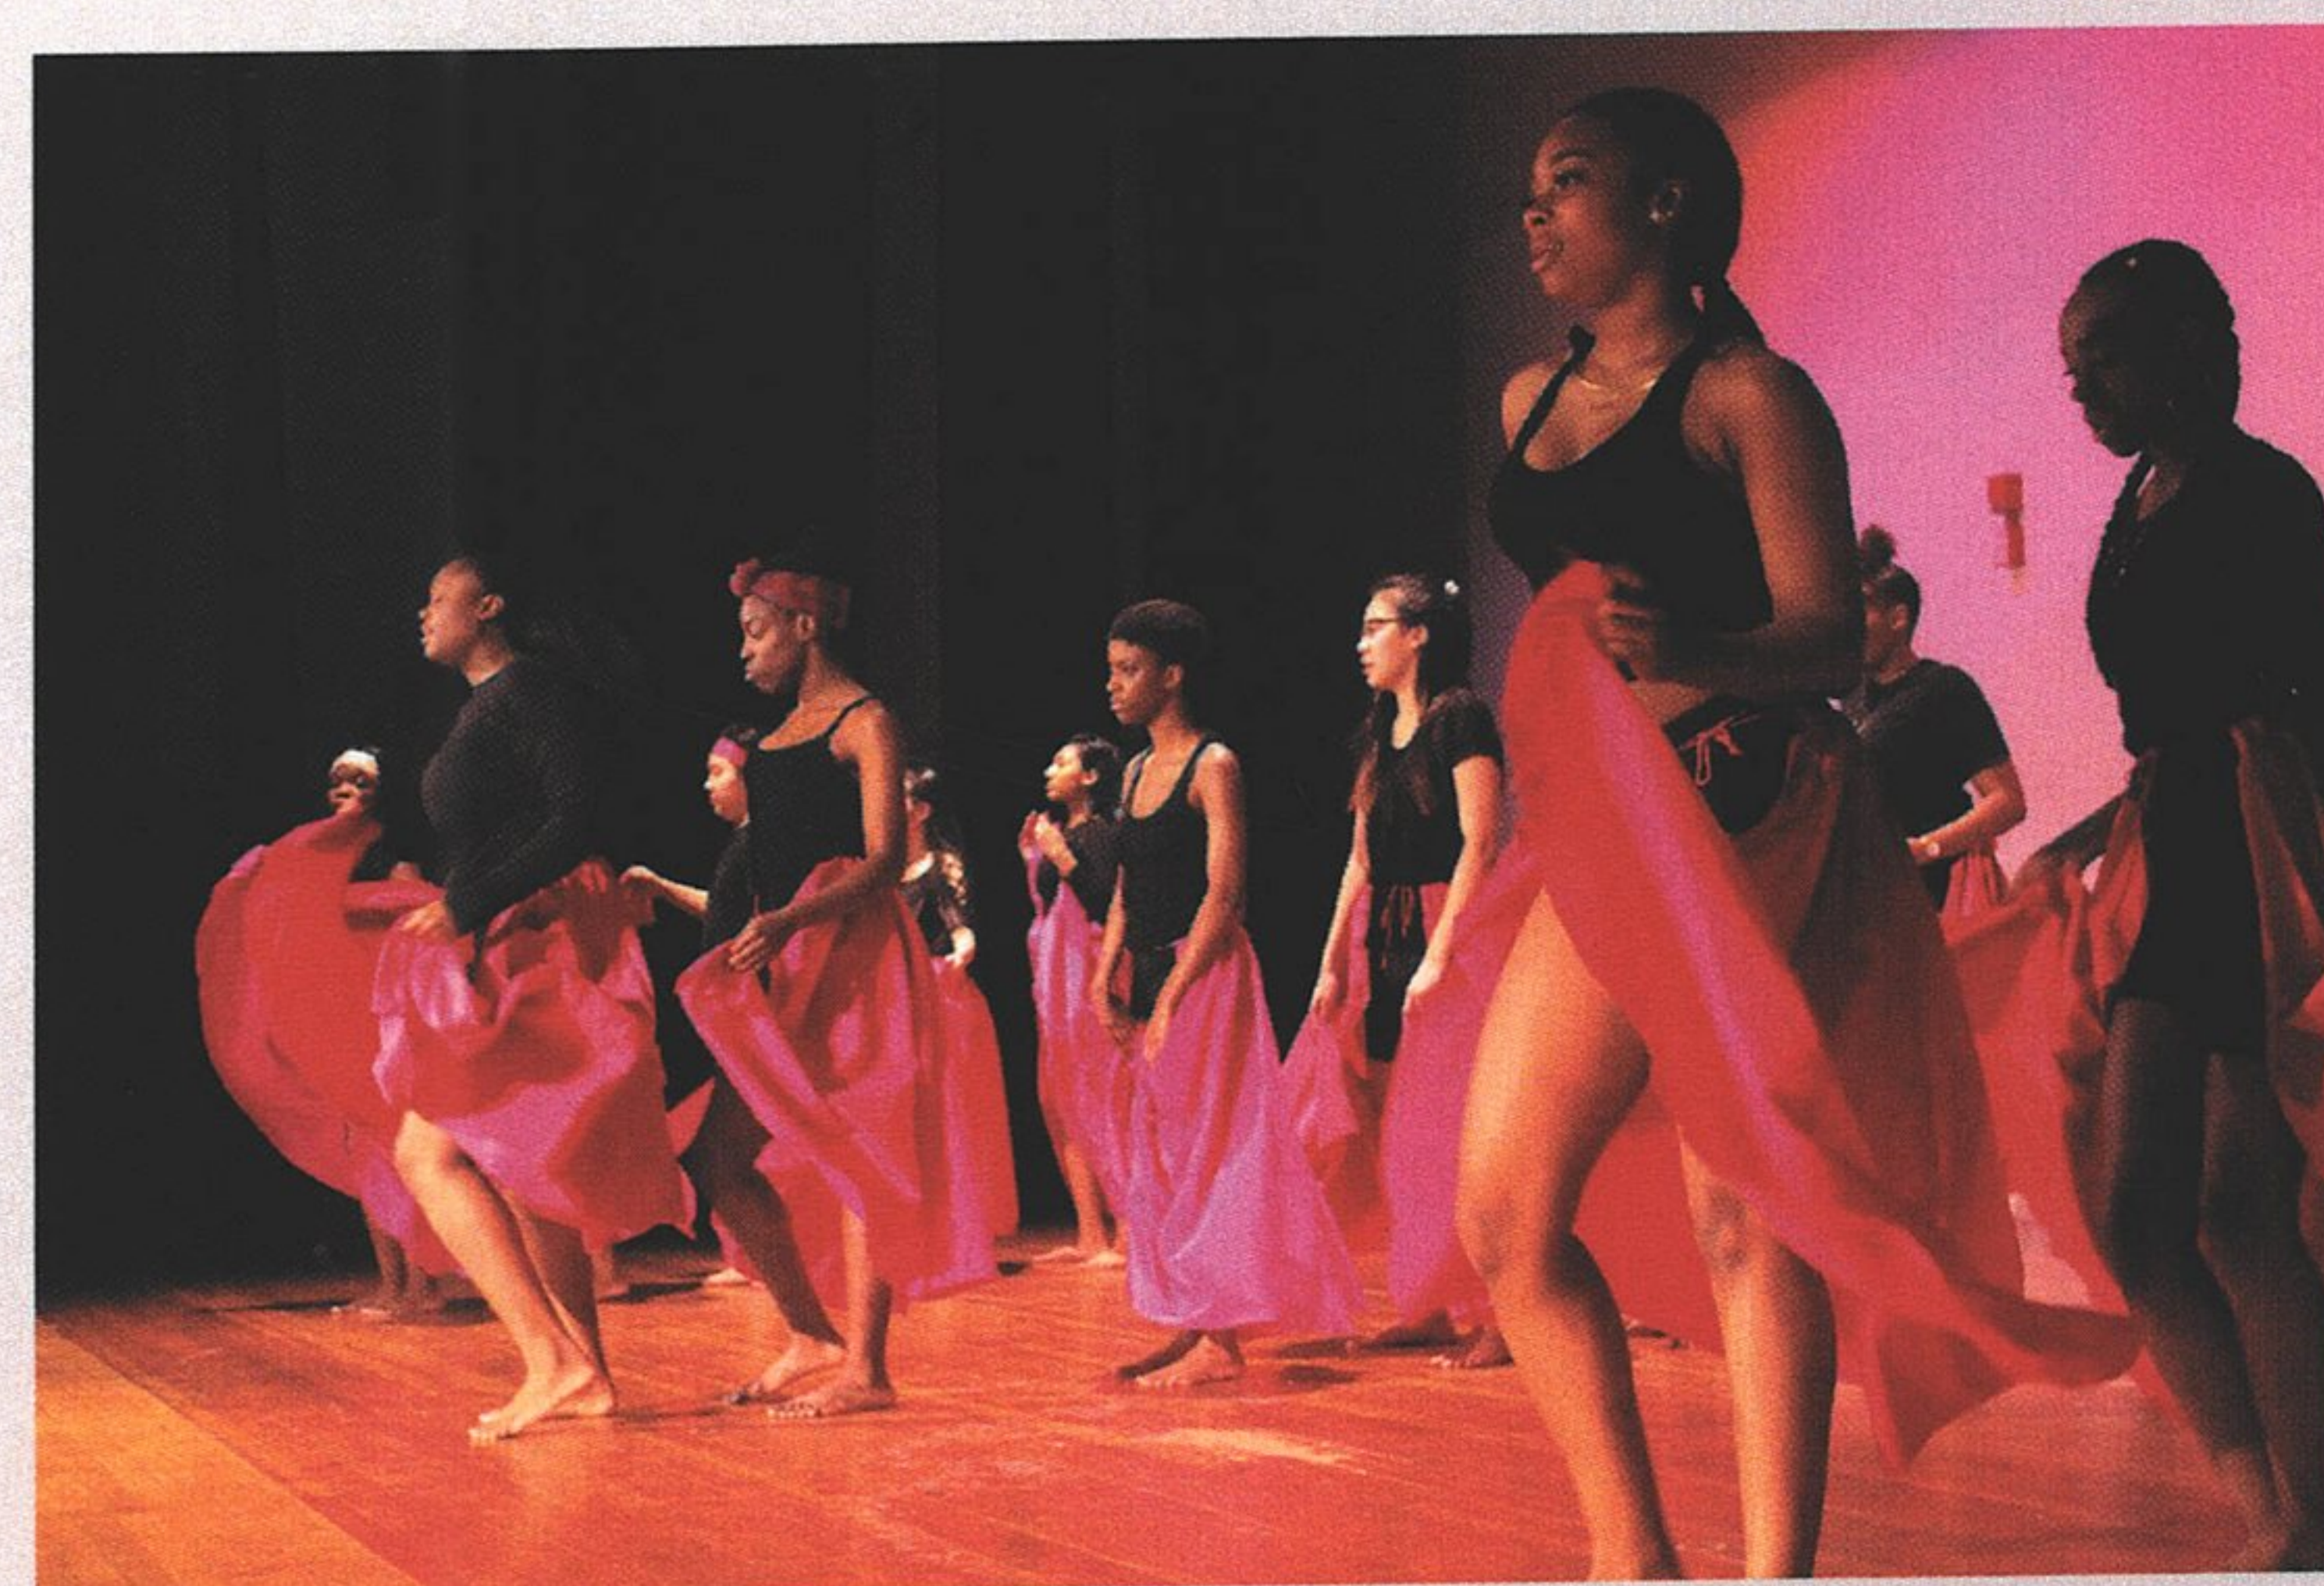

Ms. Engesser-Chung's Dance Club perform The Caribbean Dance.

Dancers Daisphia Francis, Kwaku Nyanor, and Shania Wiliams perform an urban african dance.

Shaughnessy Barracks, co-MCs for the assembly.

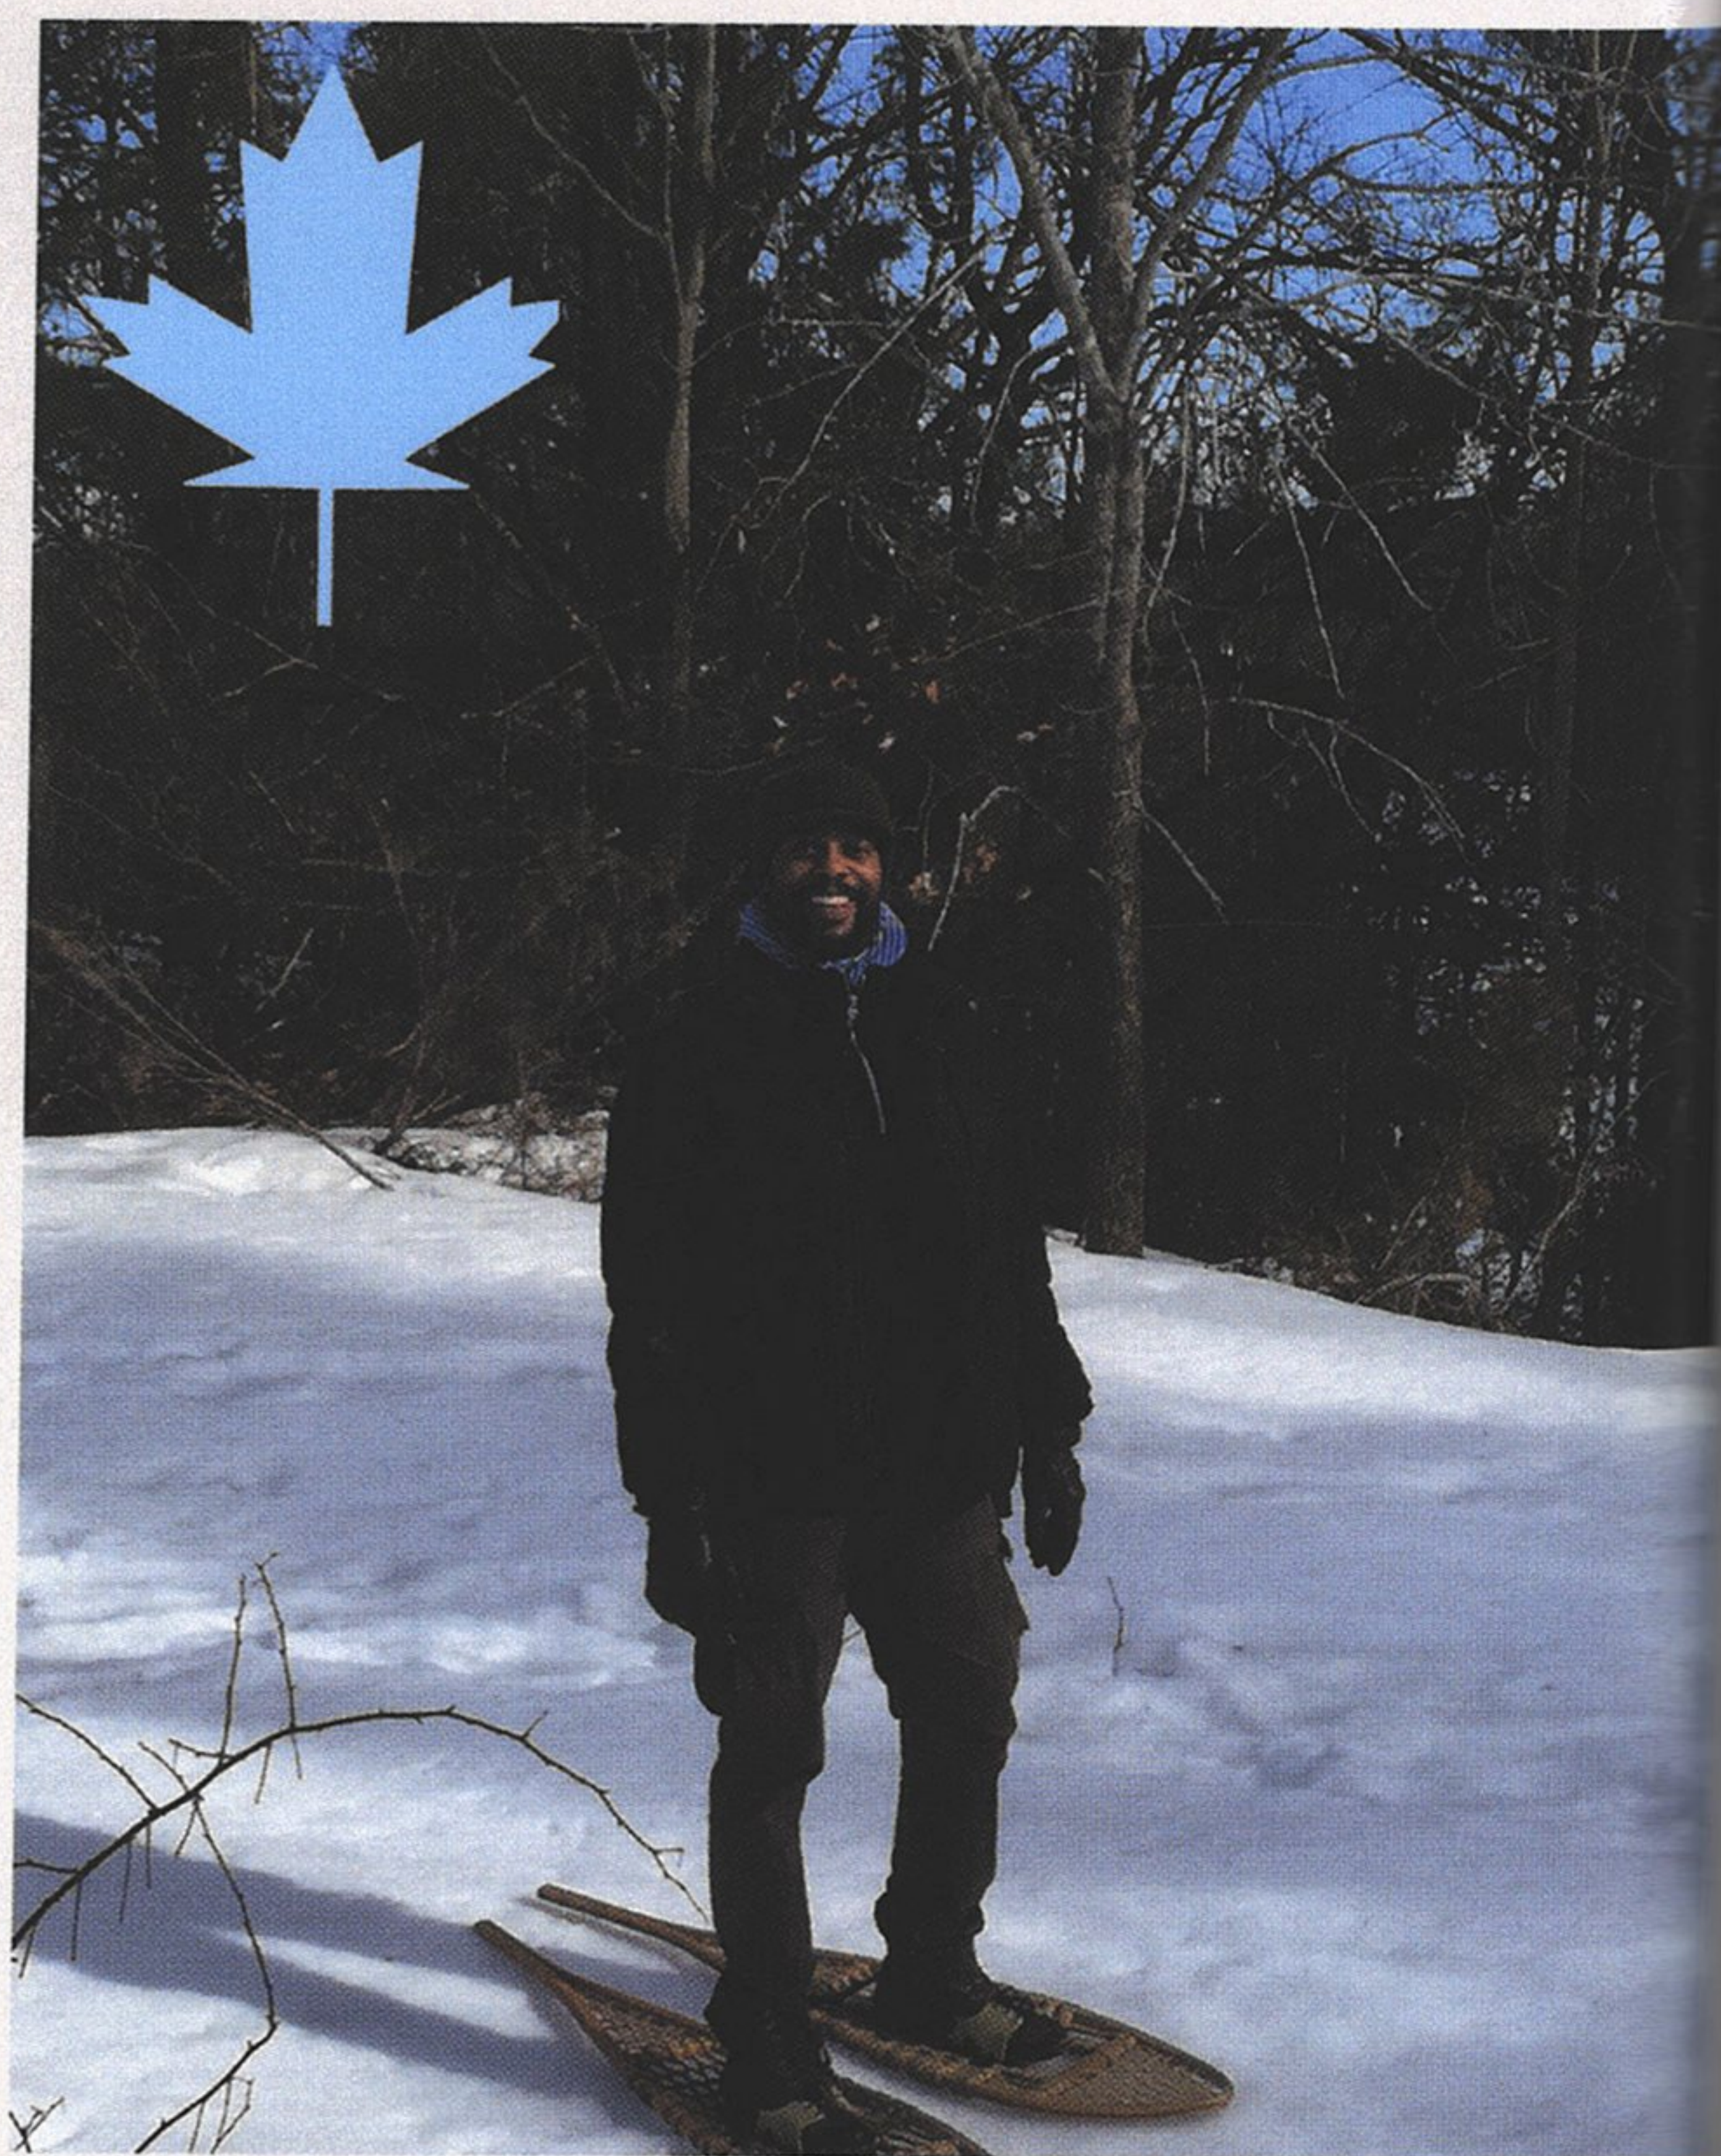

Ms.Engesser-Chung's Performance Class perform the Afro Brazilian Dance called "Bang The Drum".

Camp Pinecrest

A real change was in store for the grade ten students who attended Camp Pinecrest this year. Instead of attending in the Fall, students arrived in February a notoriously cold month! Fun winter themed activities that build leadership and teamwork skills included cross-country skiing and snowshoeing. WAC members help support the students throughout the trip as mentors.

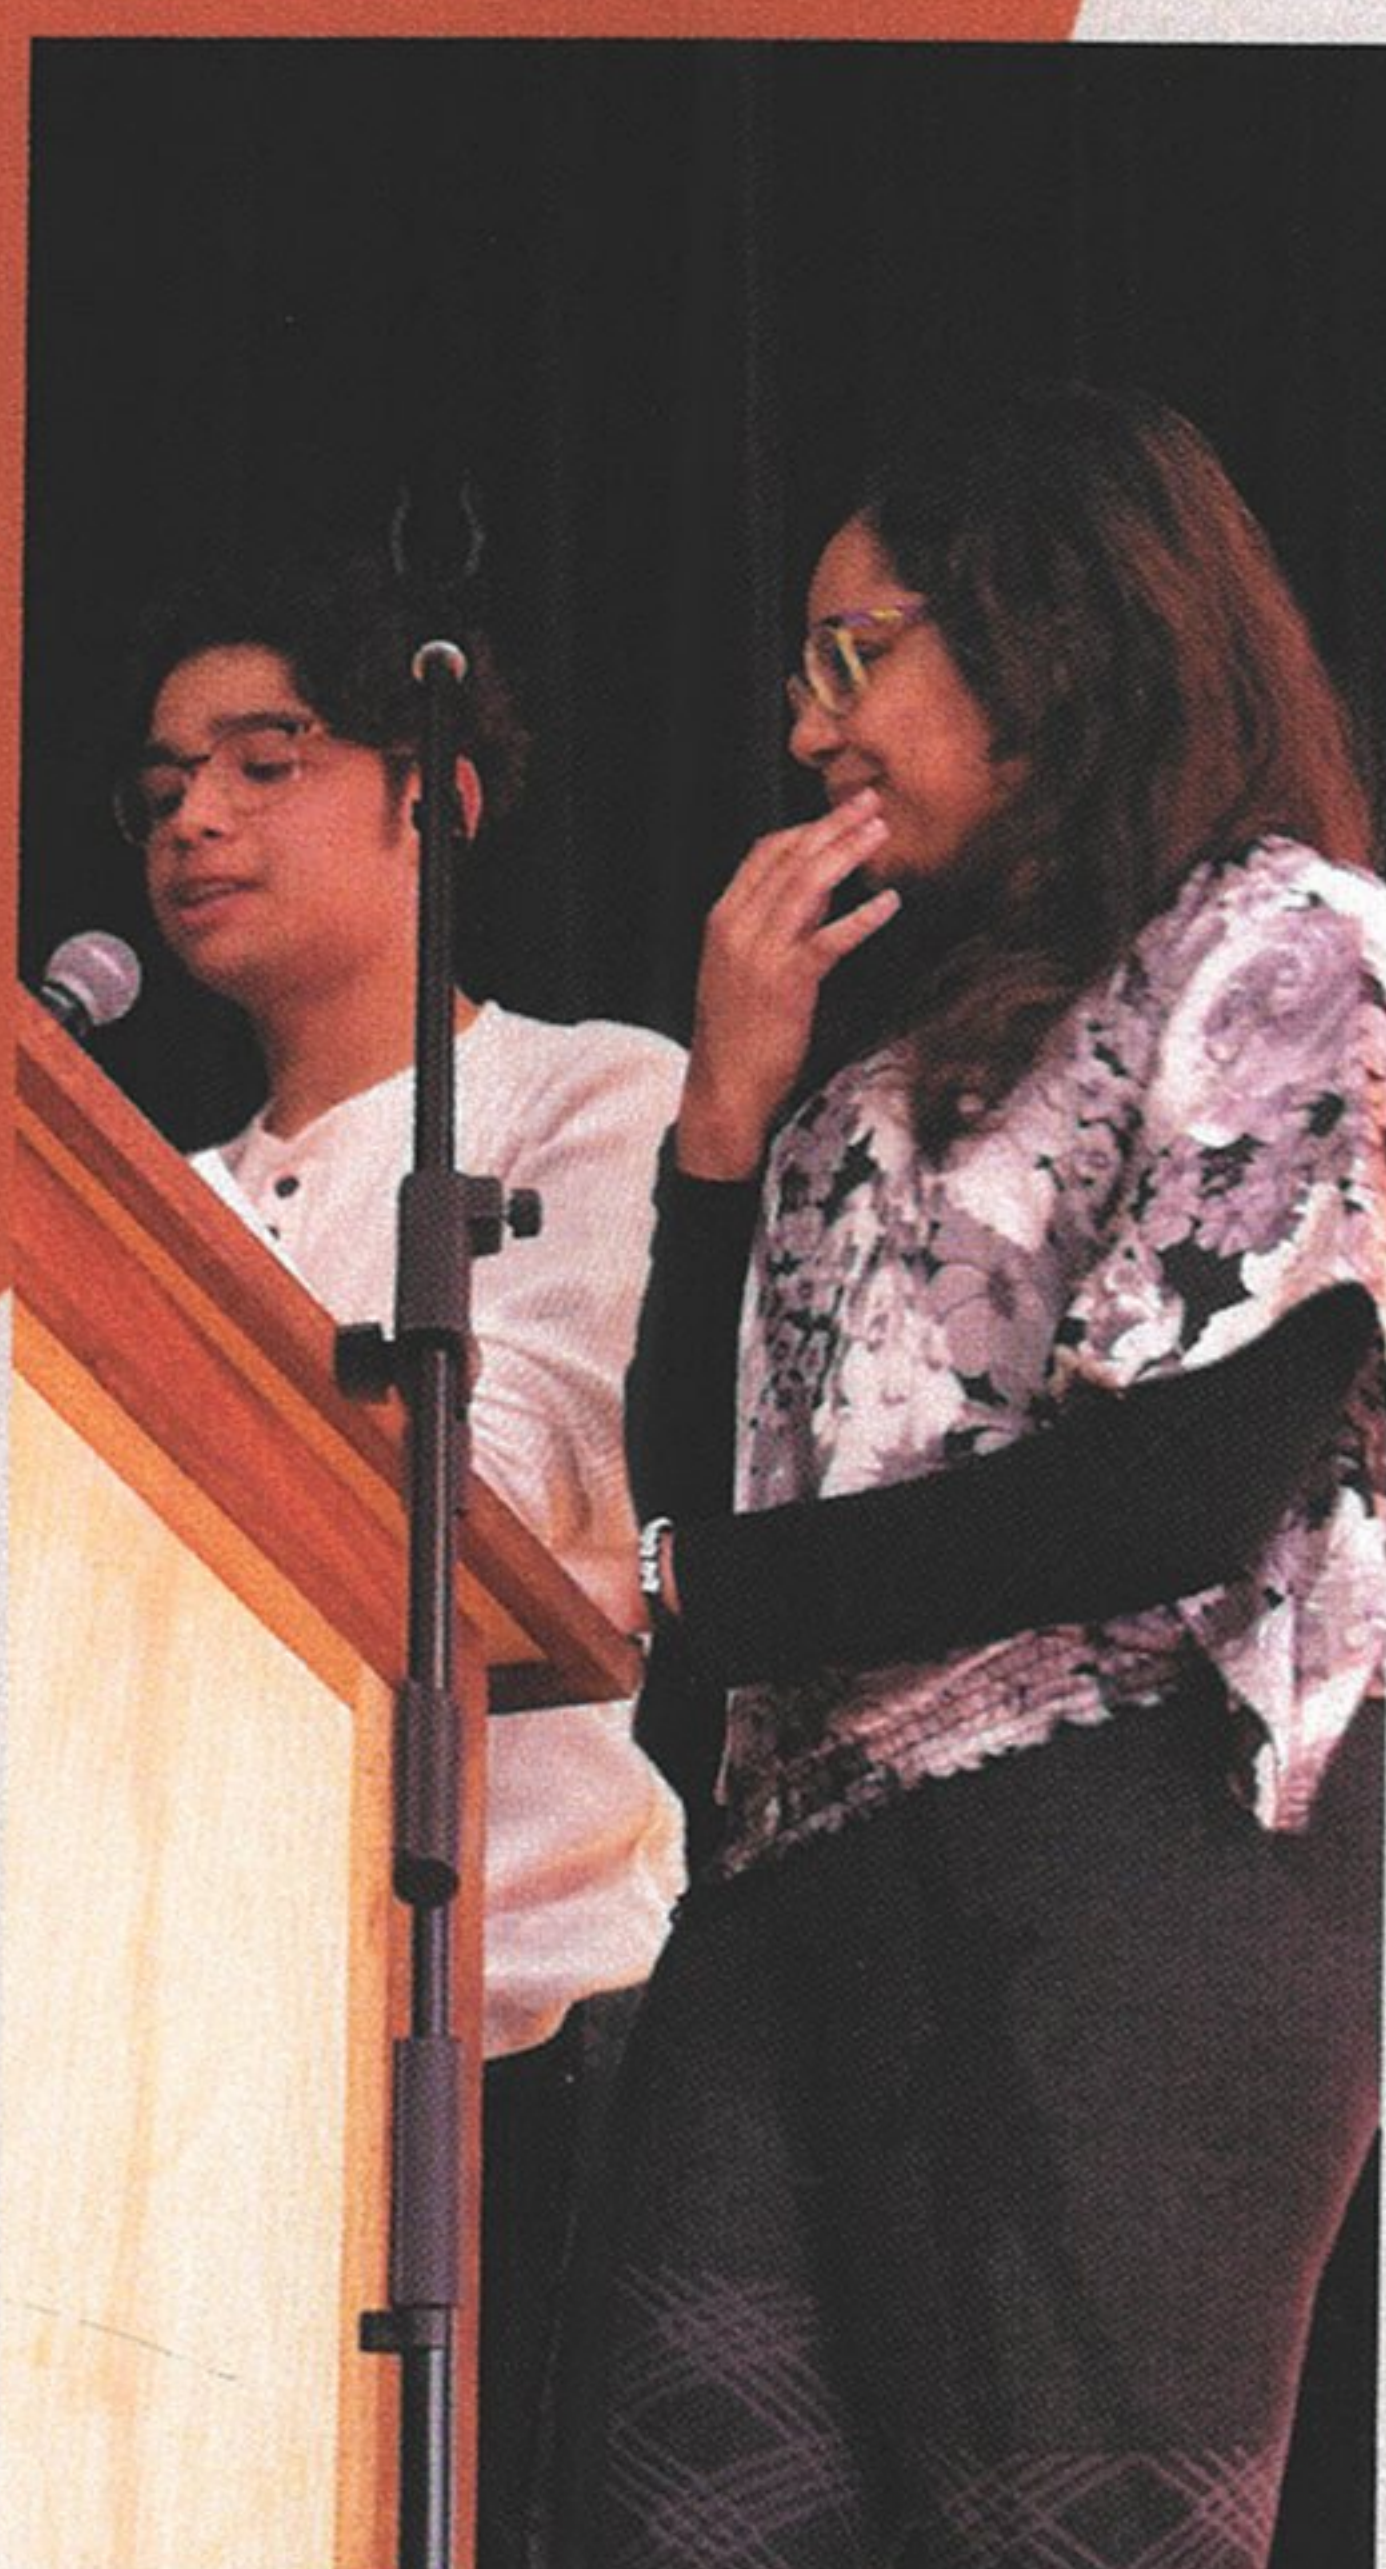

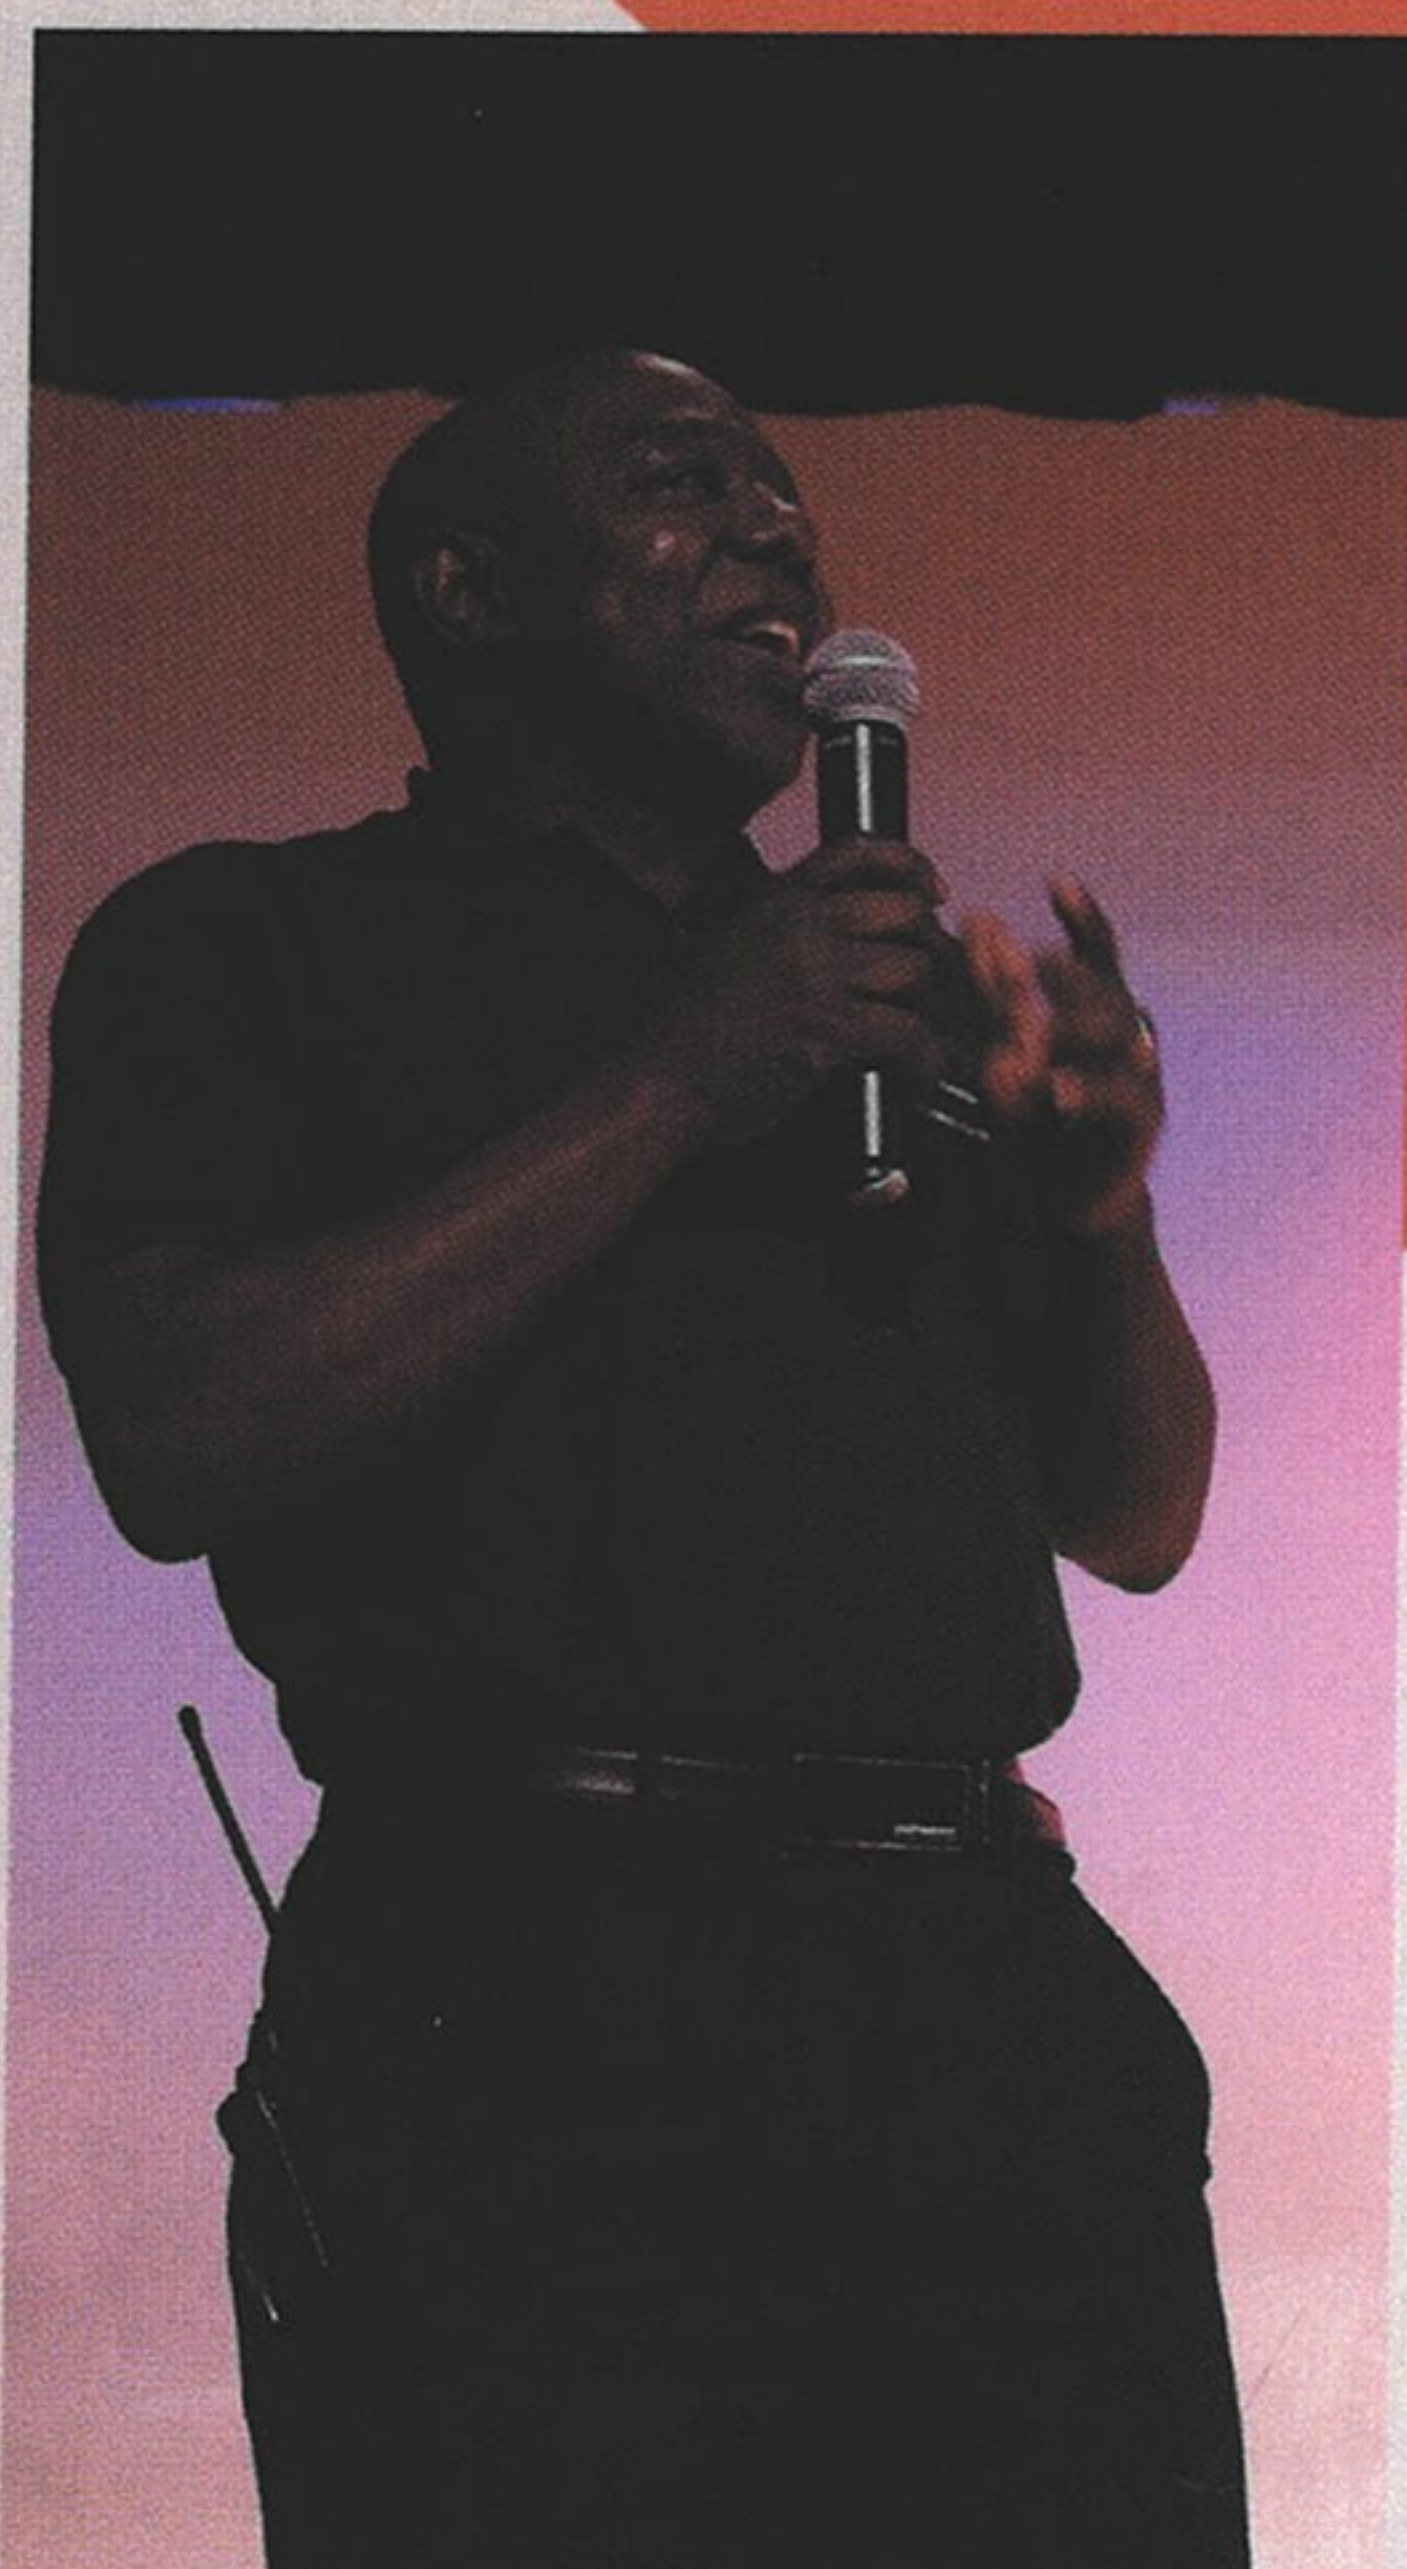

Vivan Los Espanos

A receptive crowd was on hand when Westview came together to celebrate and honour Hispanic heritage in April. In addition to the home grown talent provided by a student quartet and Ms. Engesser-Chung's dancers, the school had the opportunity to hear John Malloy and Robin Pilkey from the Toronto District School Board speak to the value of diversity and culture in education.

Do you know biggest misconception about Hispanic food ? "It's not spicy." Vivan Los Espanos.

Principal Gala and our own MC's address the crowd.

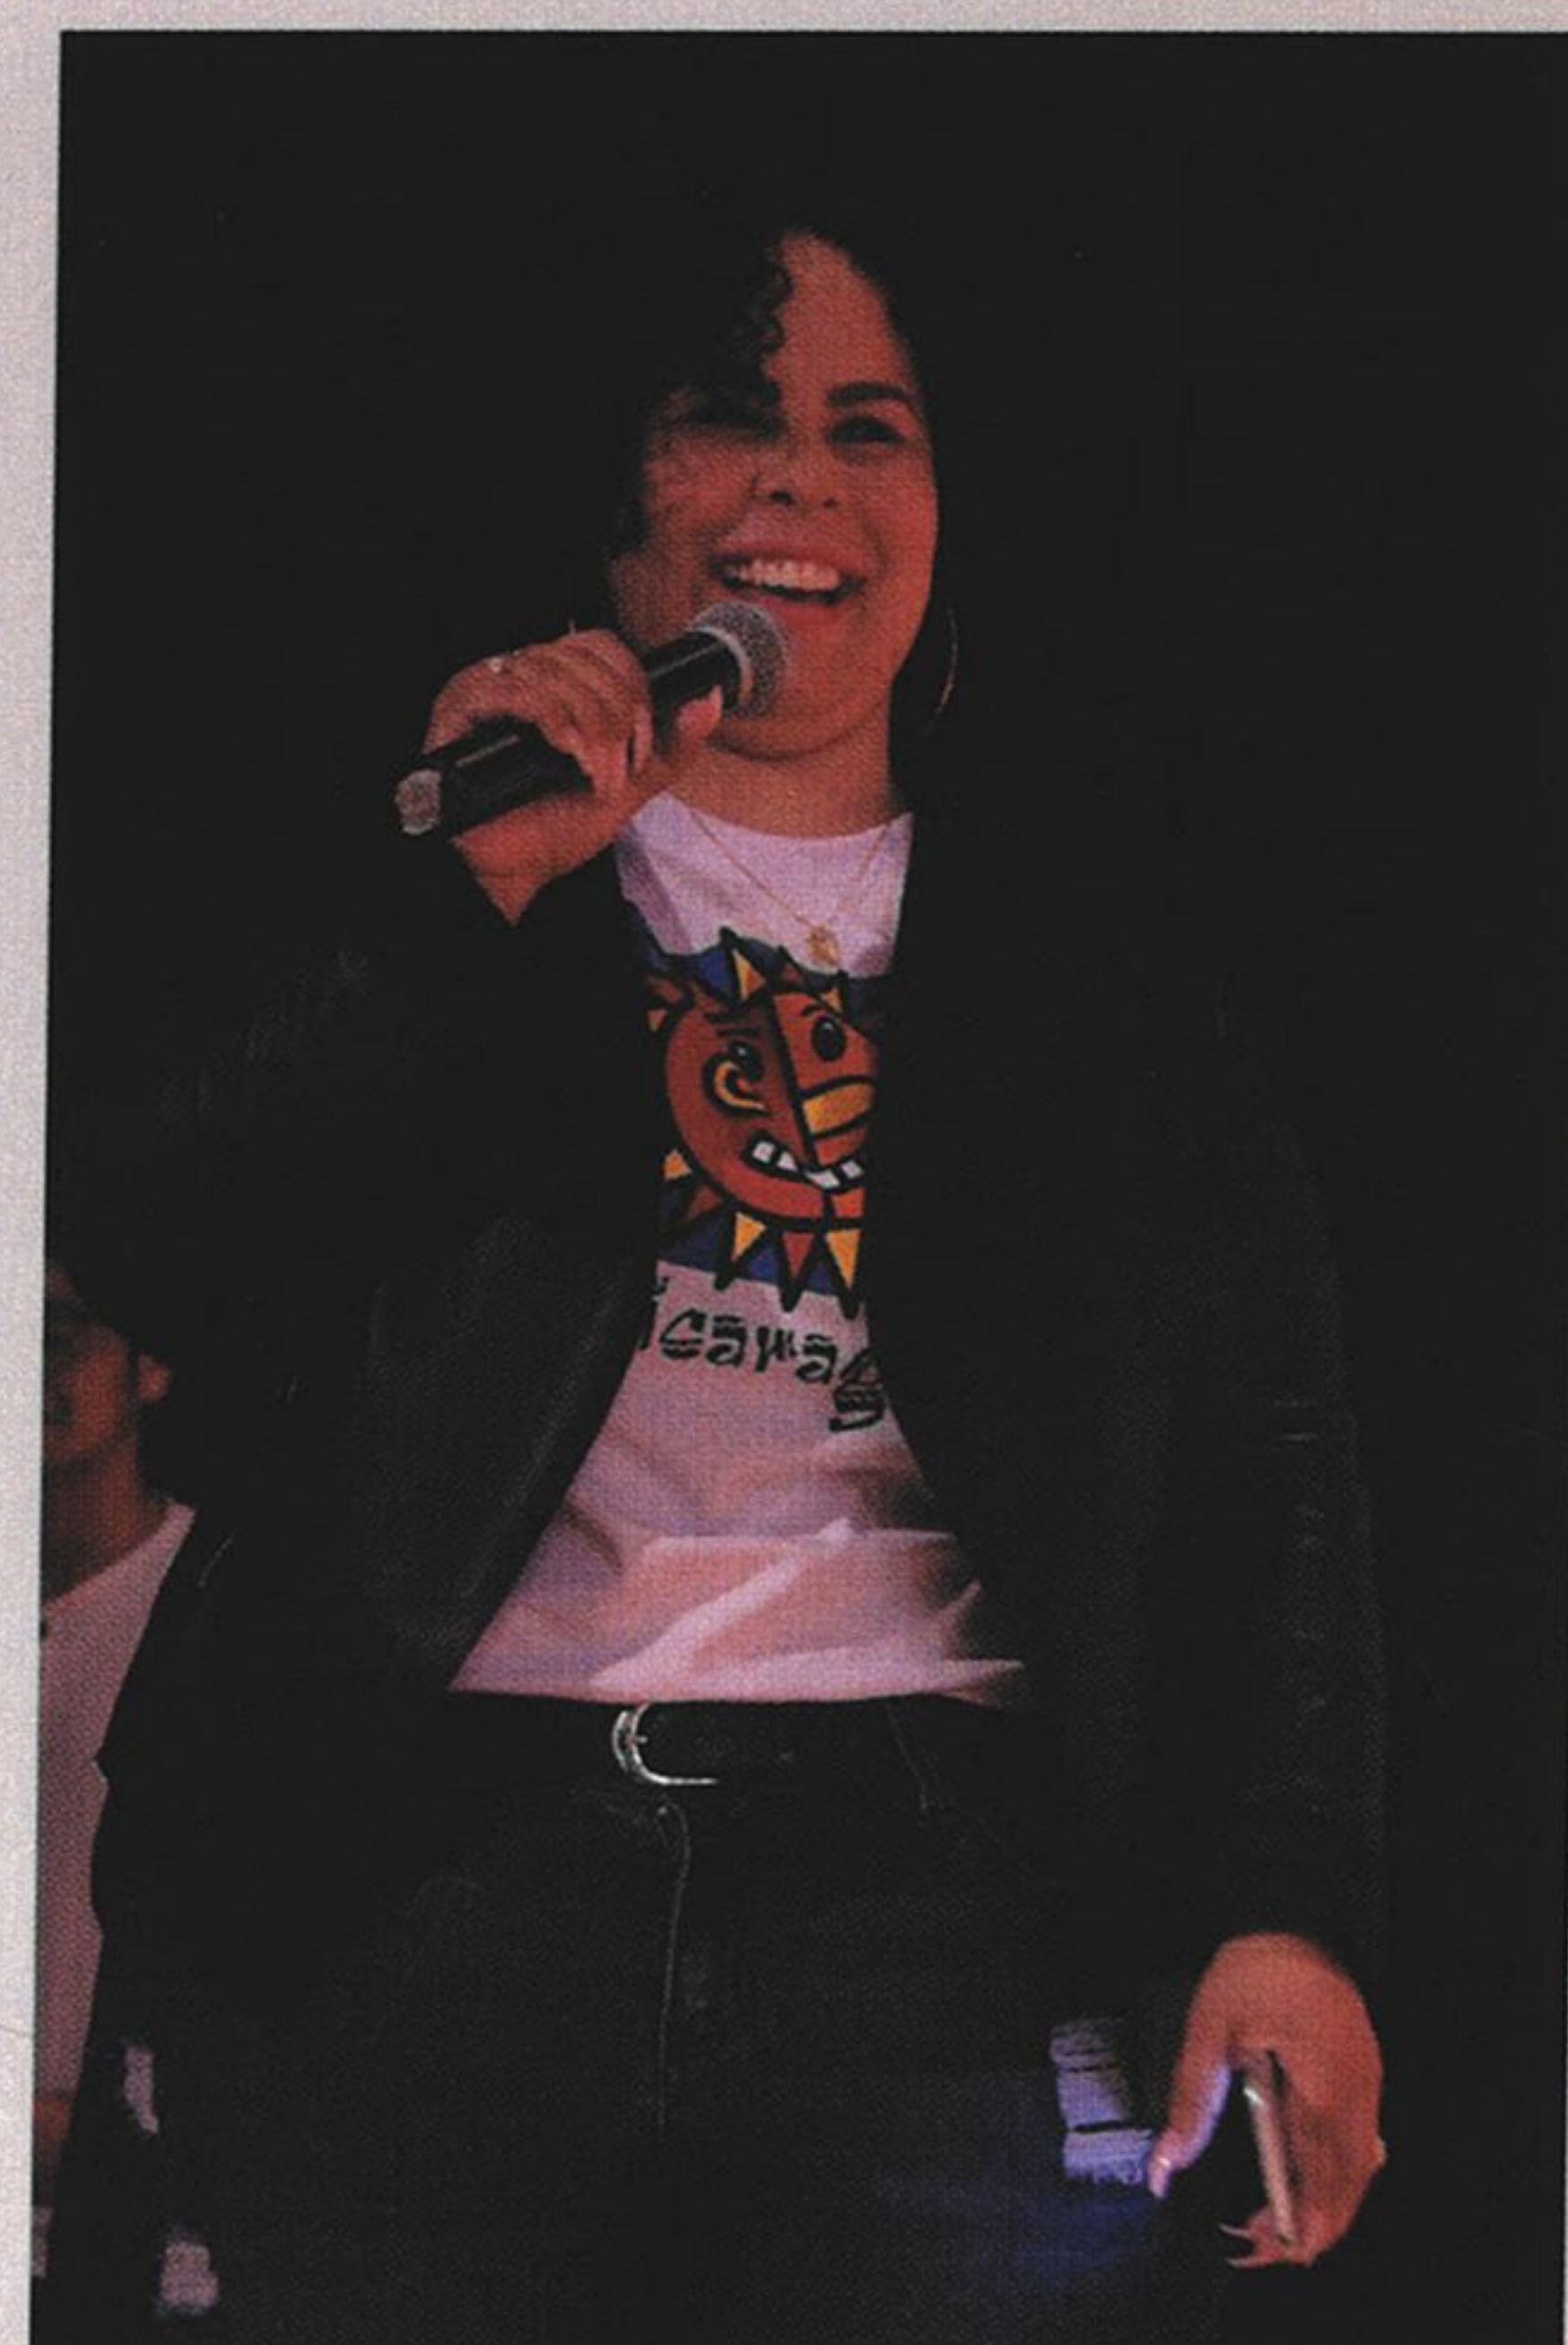

The Performance Dance class dance to 'Kimbara de Espana'.

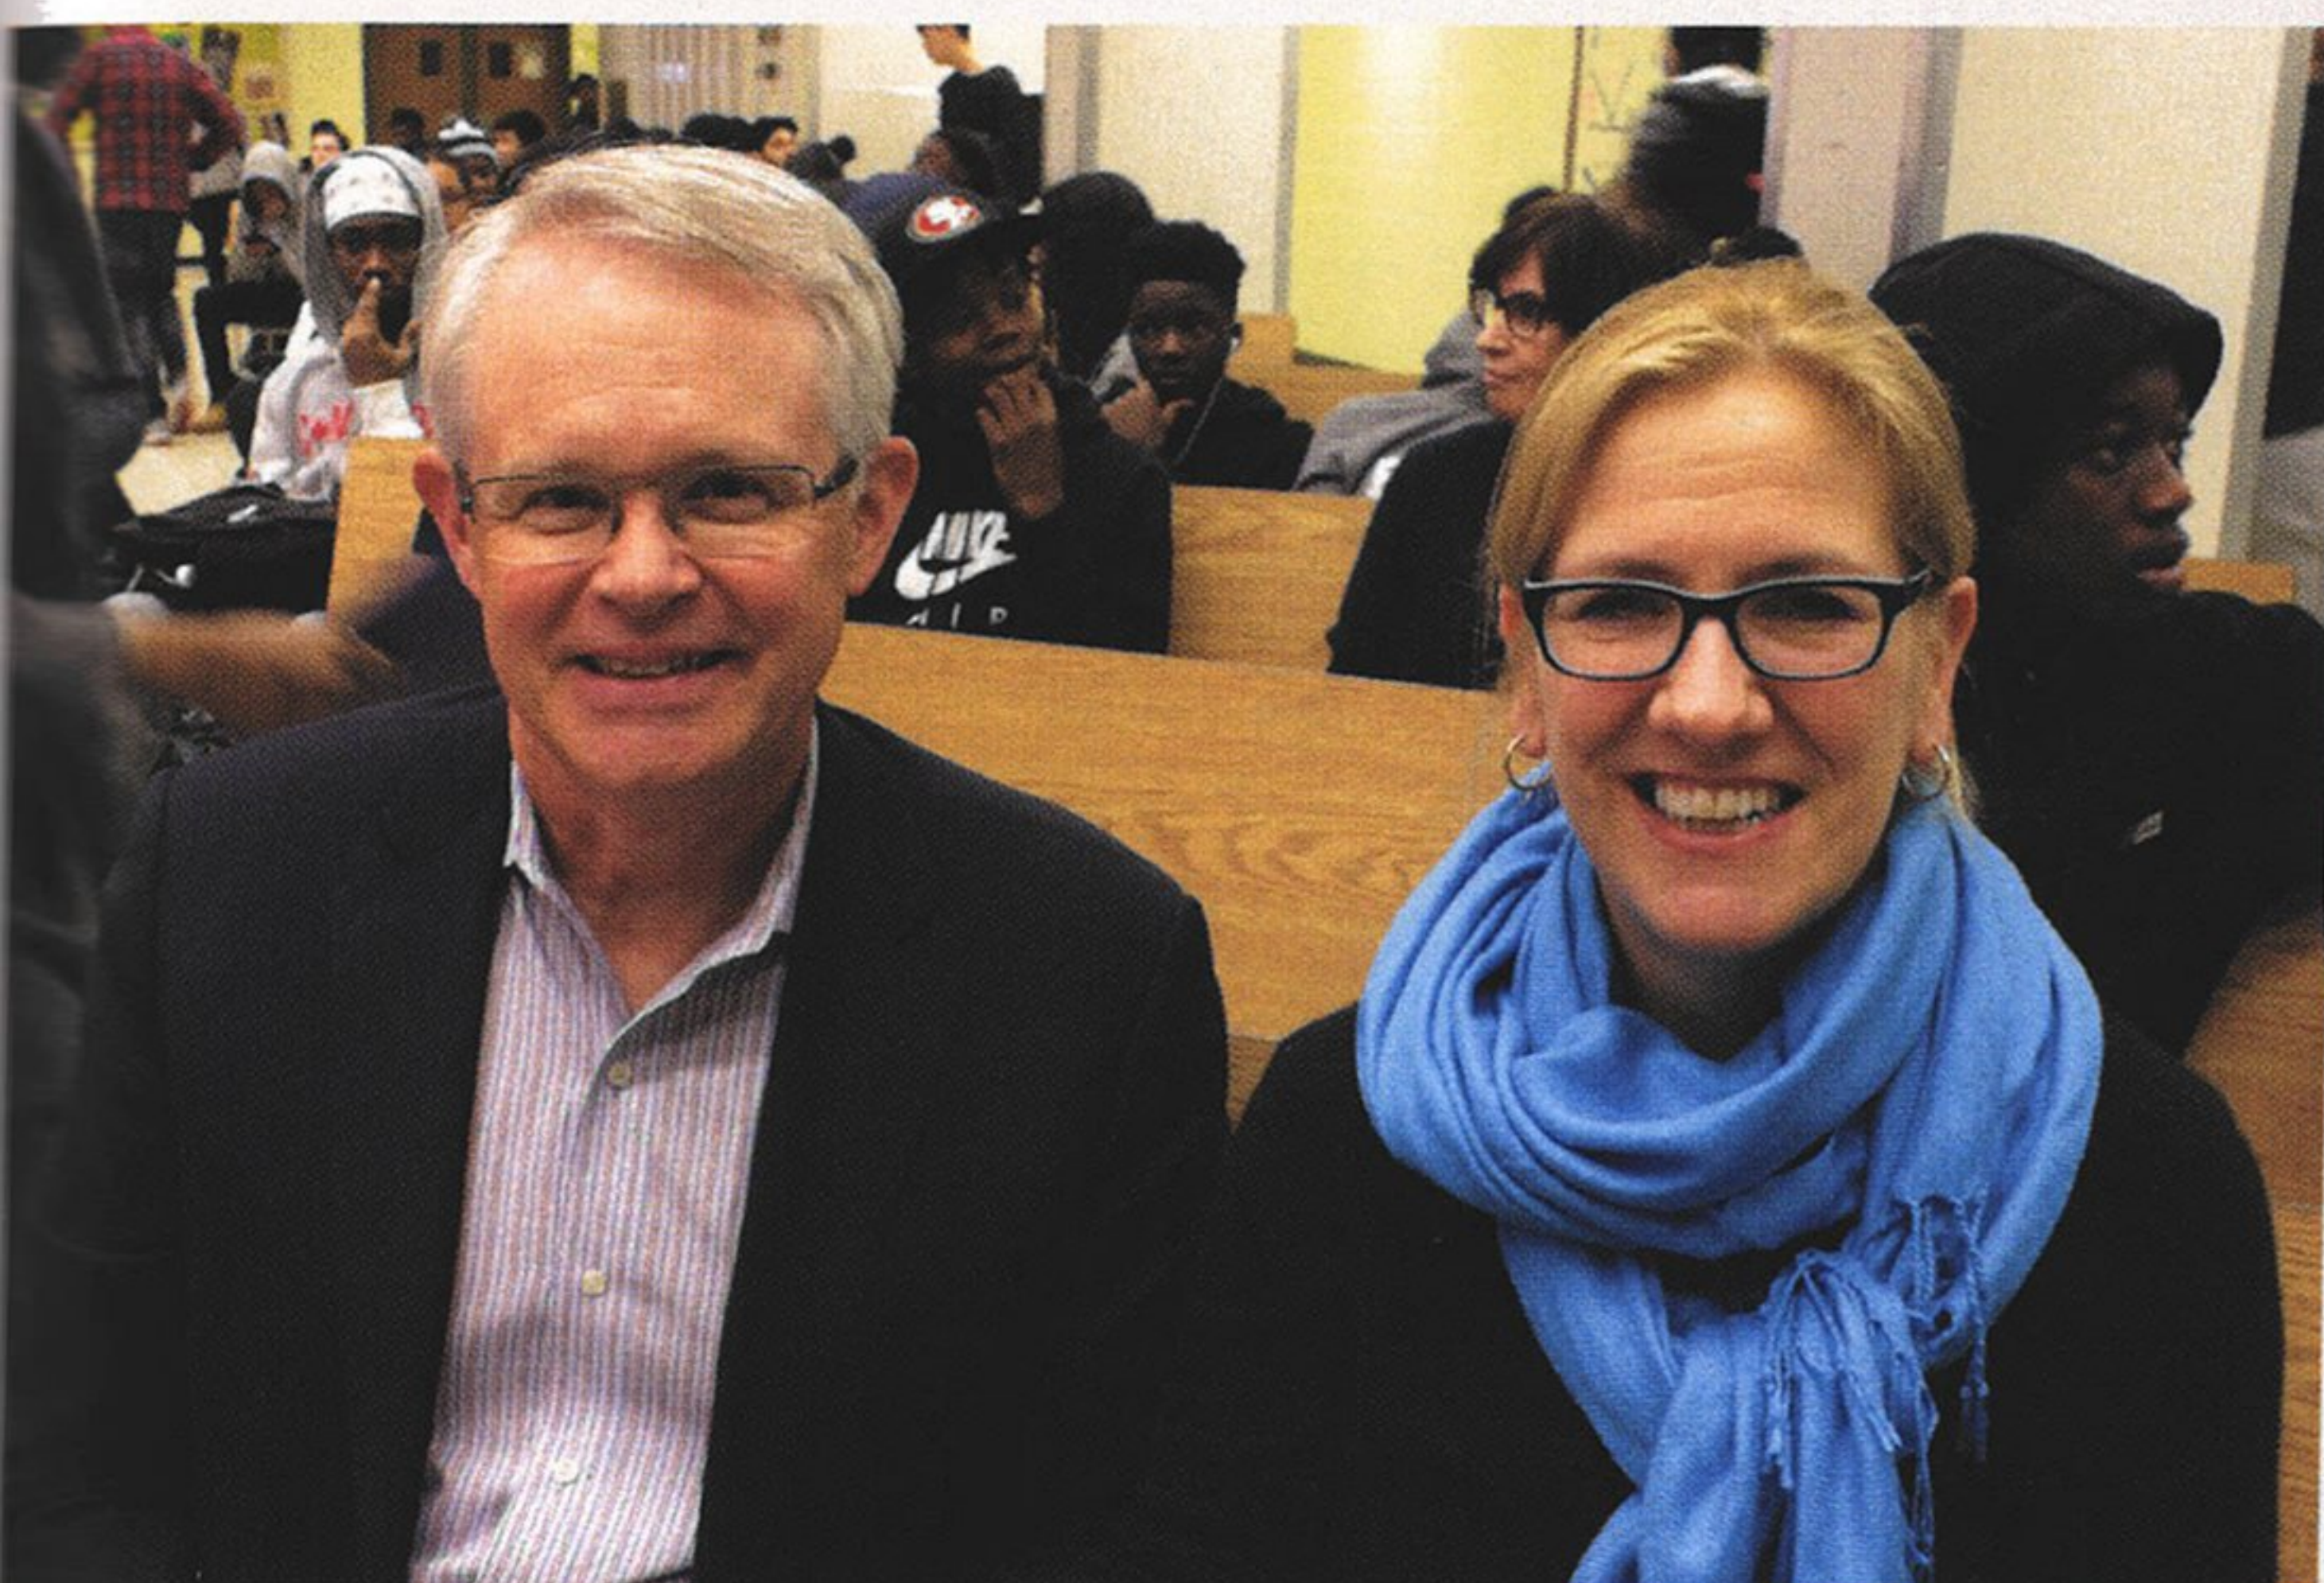

Manesha Persaud's Quartet with musicians Emilio Reyes Martinez, Mr. Soares and Brandon Ly.

Drums by Ms. Philip, Keemo Taylor, Mr. Gaskin, Keno Paul Raon Franics.

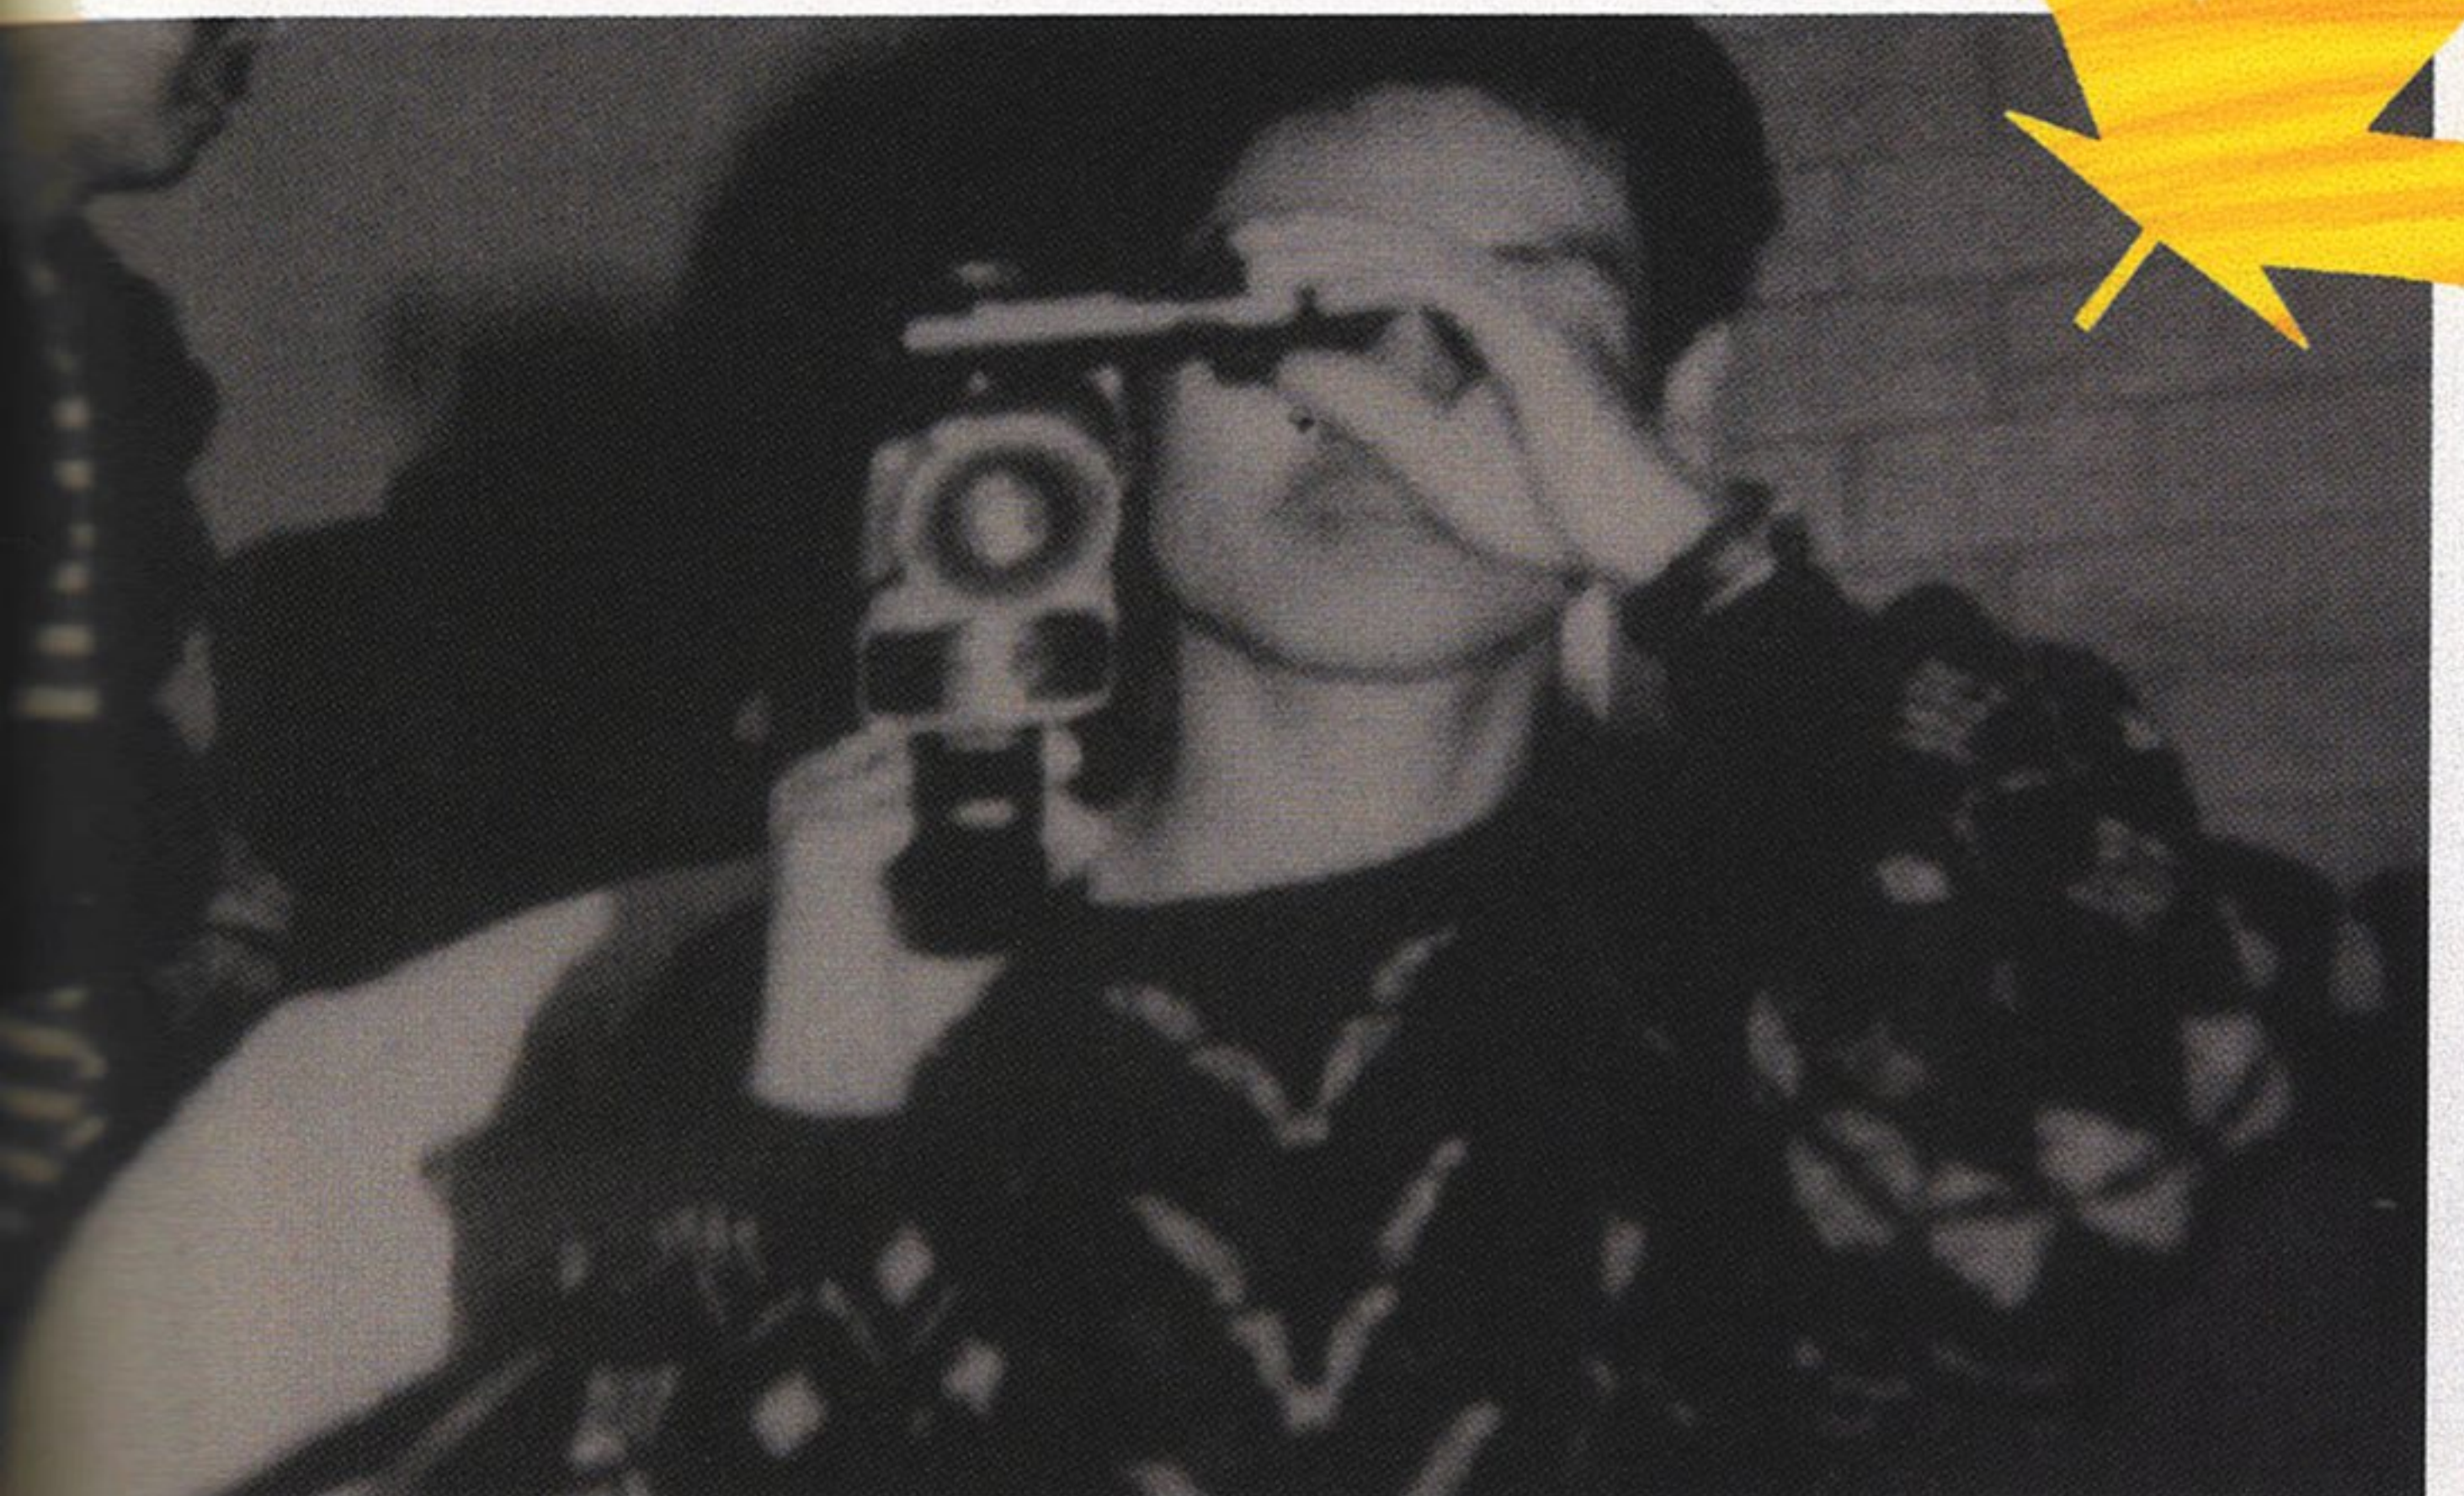

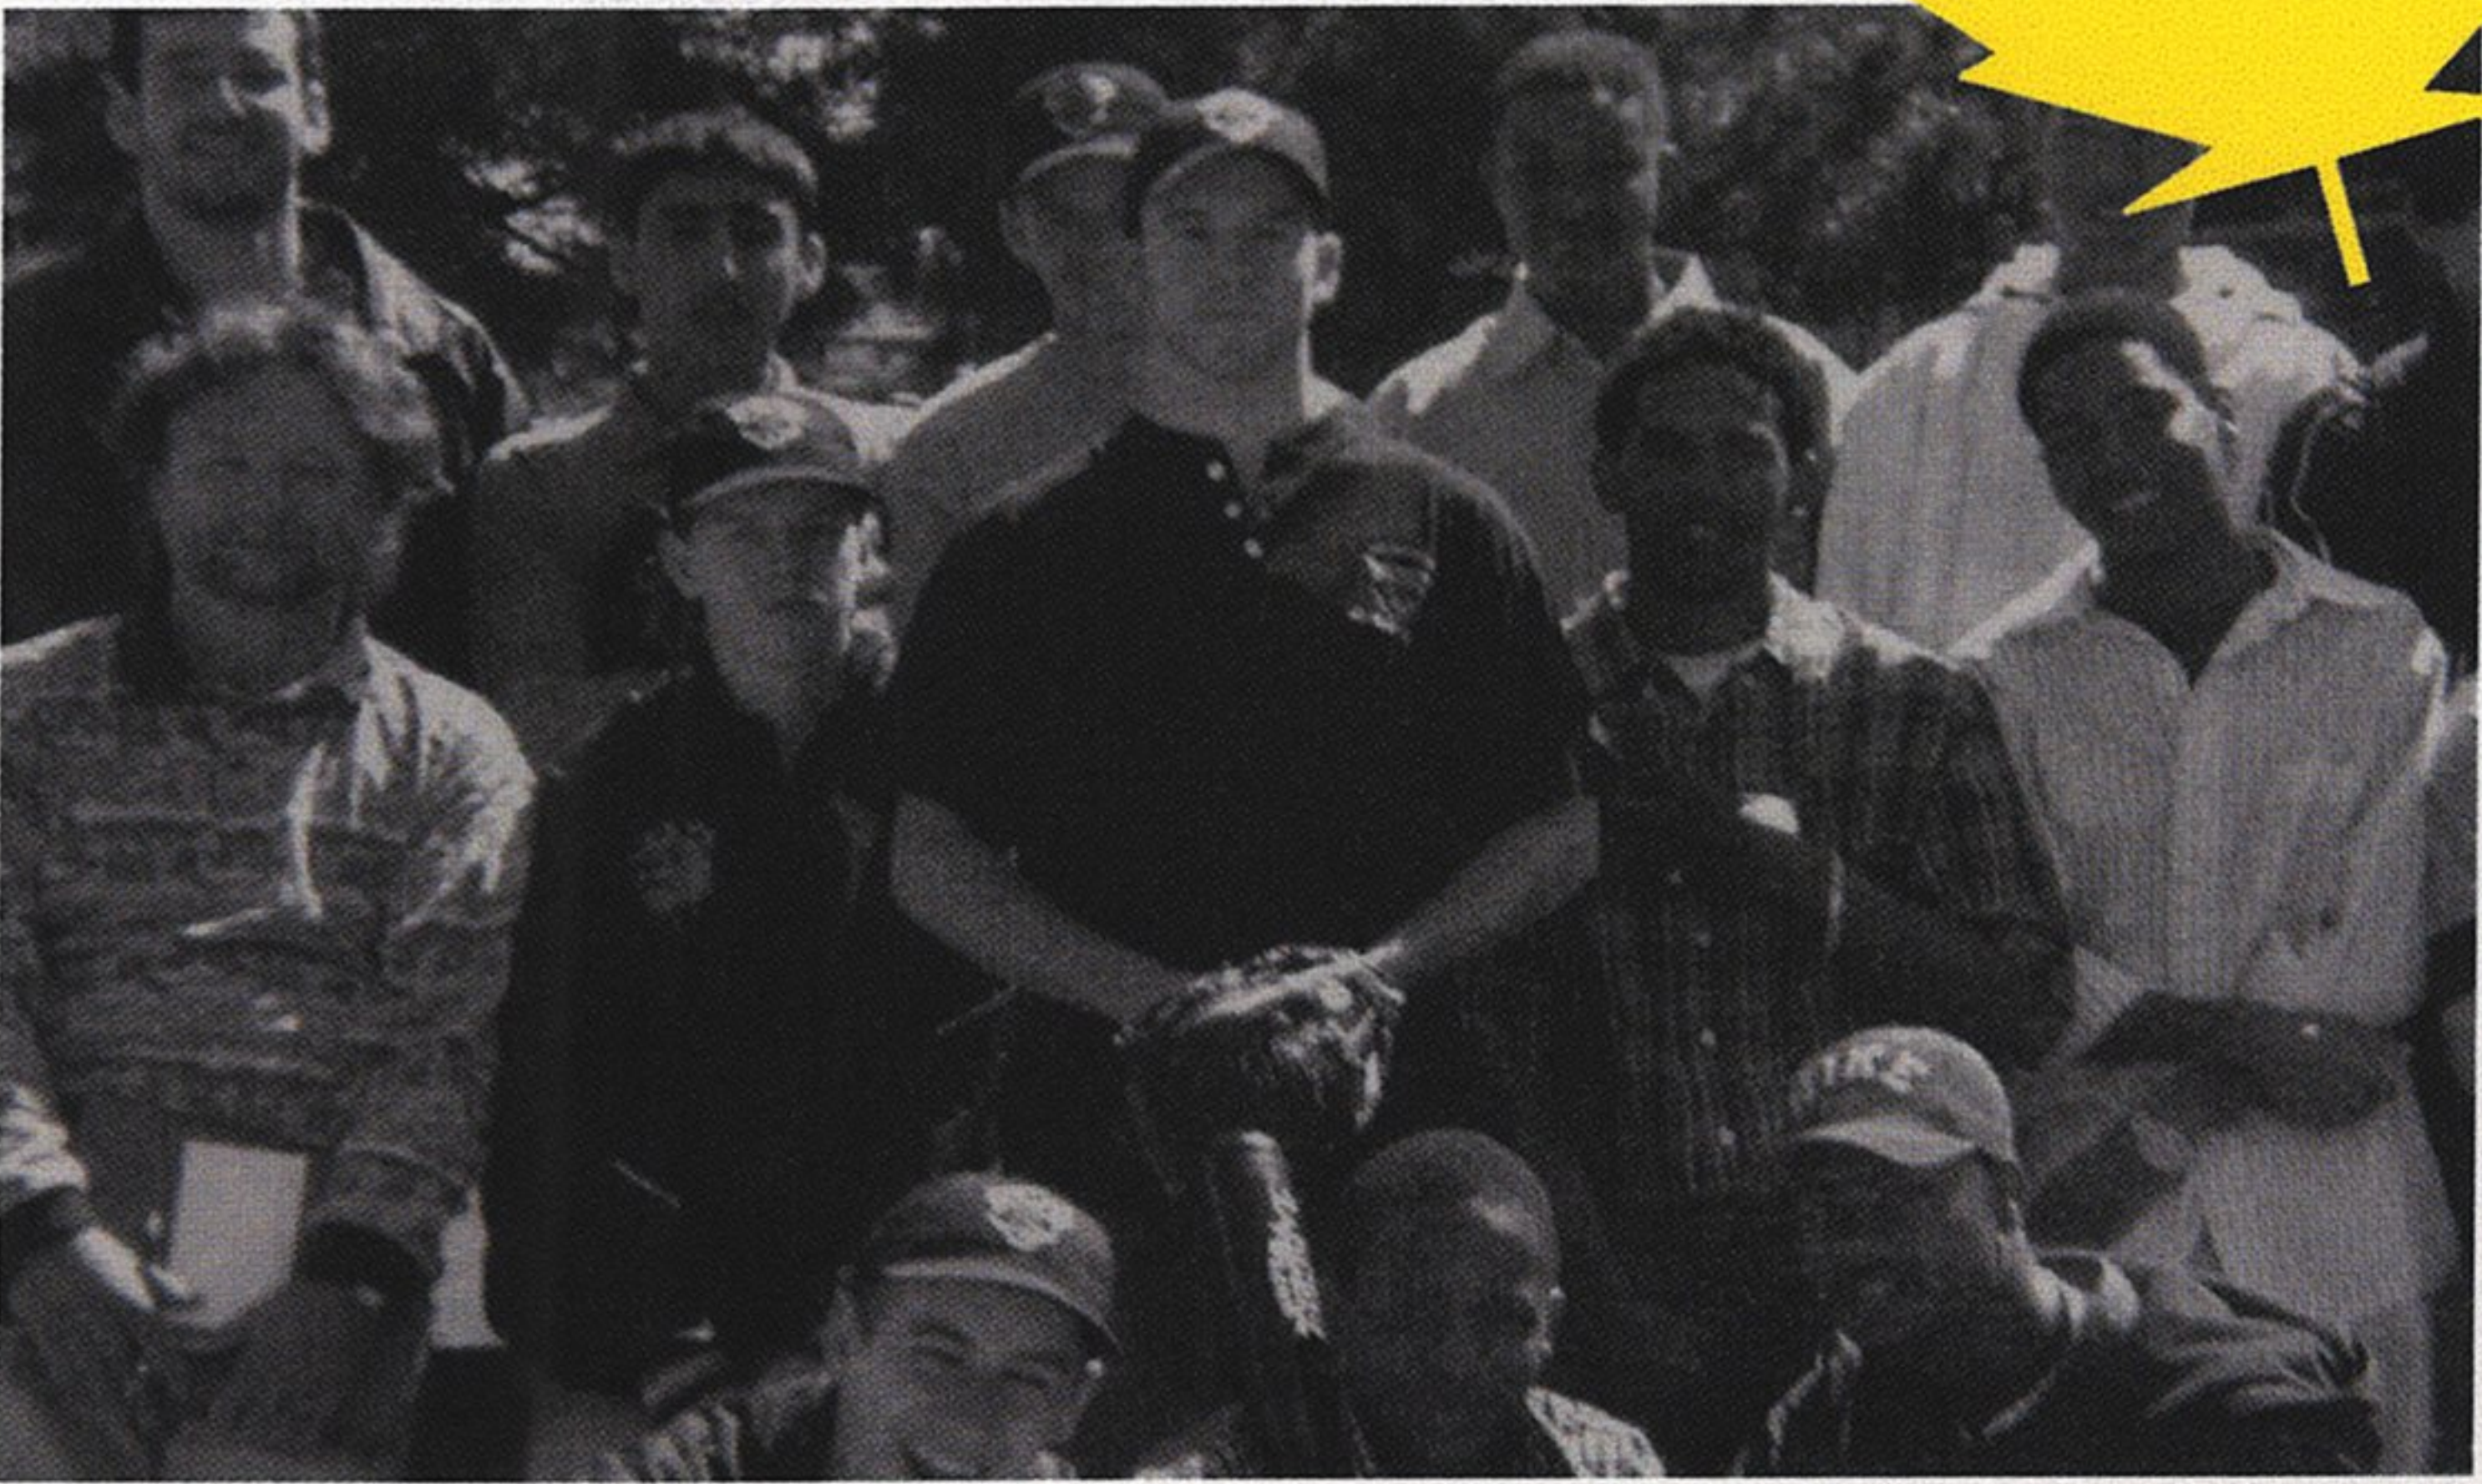

Guest speaker Silvia Argentina Arauz , Co -Director, of the Latin American Education Network addresses the audience.

TDSB Director John Malloy and Chairperson Robin Pilkey.

Robot Team 746 GEAR HEADS

This year was the first 2018 robotics competition that was hosted by FIRST® POWER UP. It includes two alliances of video game characters and their human operators who are trapped in an arcade game. Both alliances are working to defeat the boss in order to escape!

The Team participated in two District Events. The first, was at Ryerson University March 17th Where they placed 28th out of 37 teams and went on to the semi finals. The second event was at York University March 23rd. Again the team place 28th out of 36 teams and went onto the quarter finals. The Team built and maintained their robot while working with the other teams at the events. They are looking forward to the robot season next year.

Success Beyond Limits

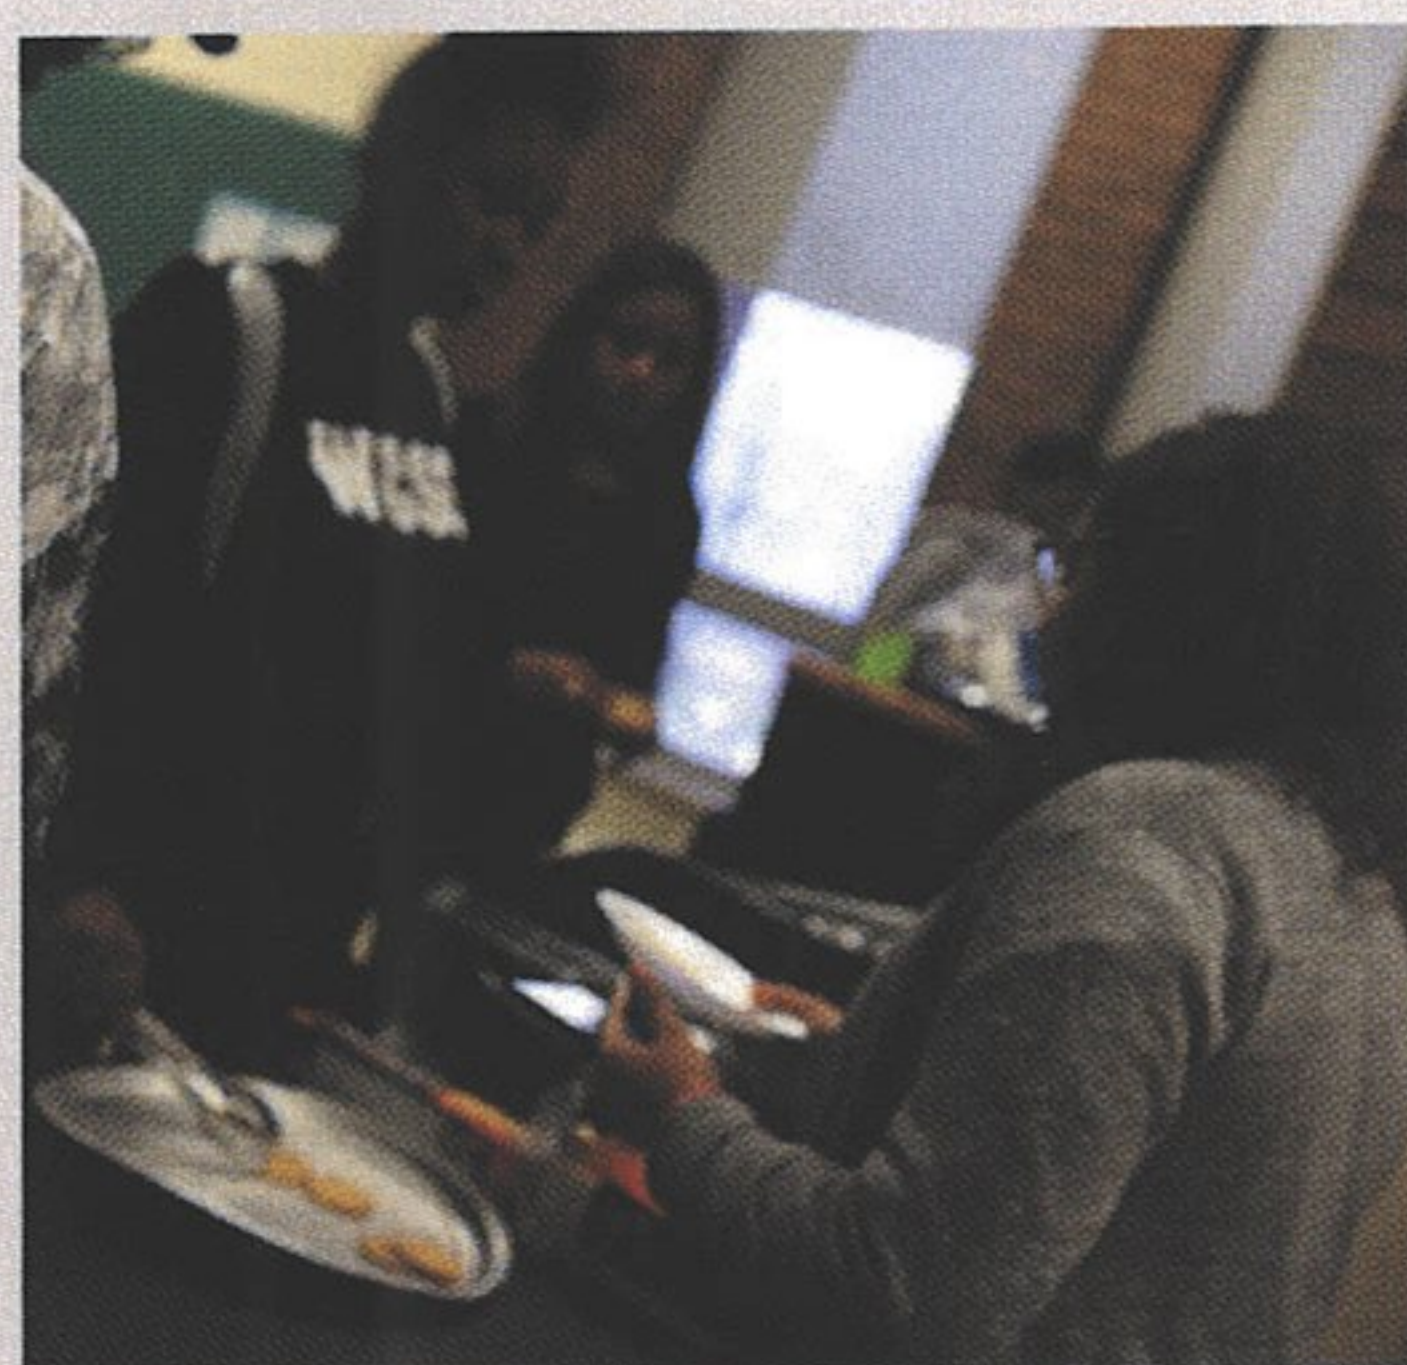

What SBL is all about:

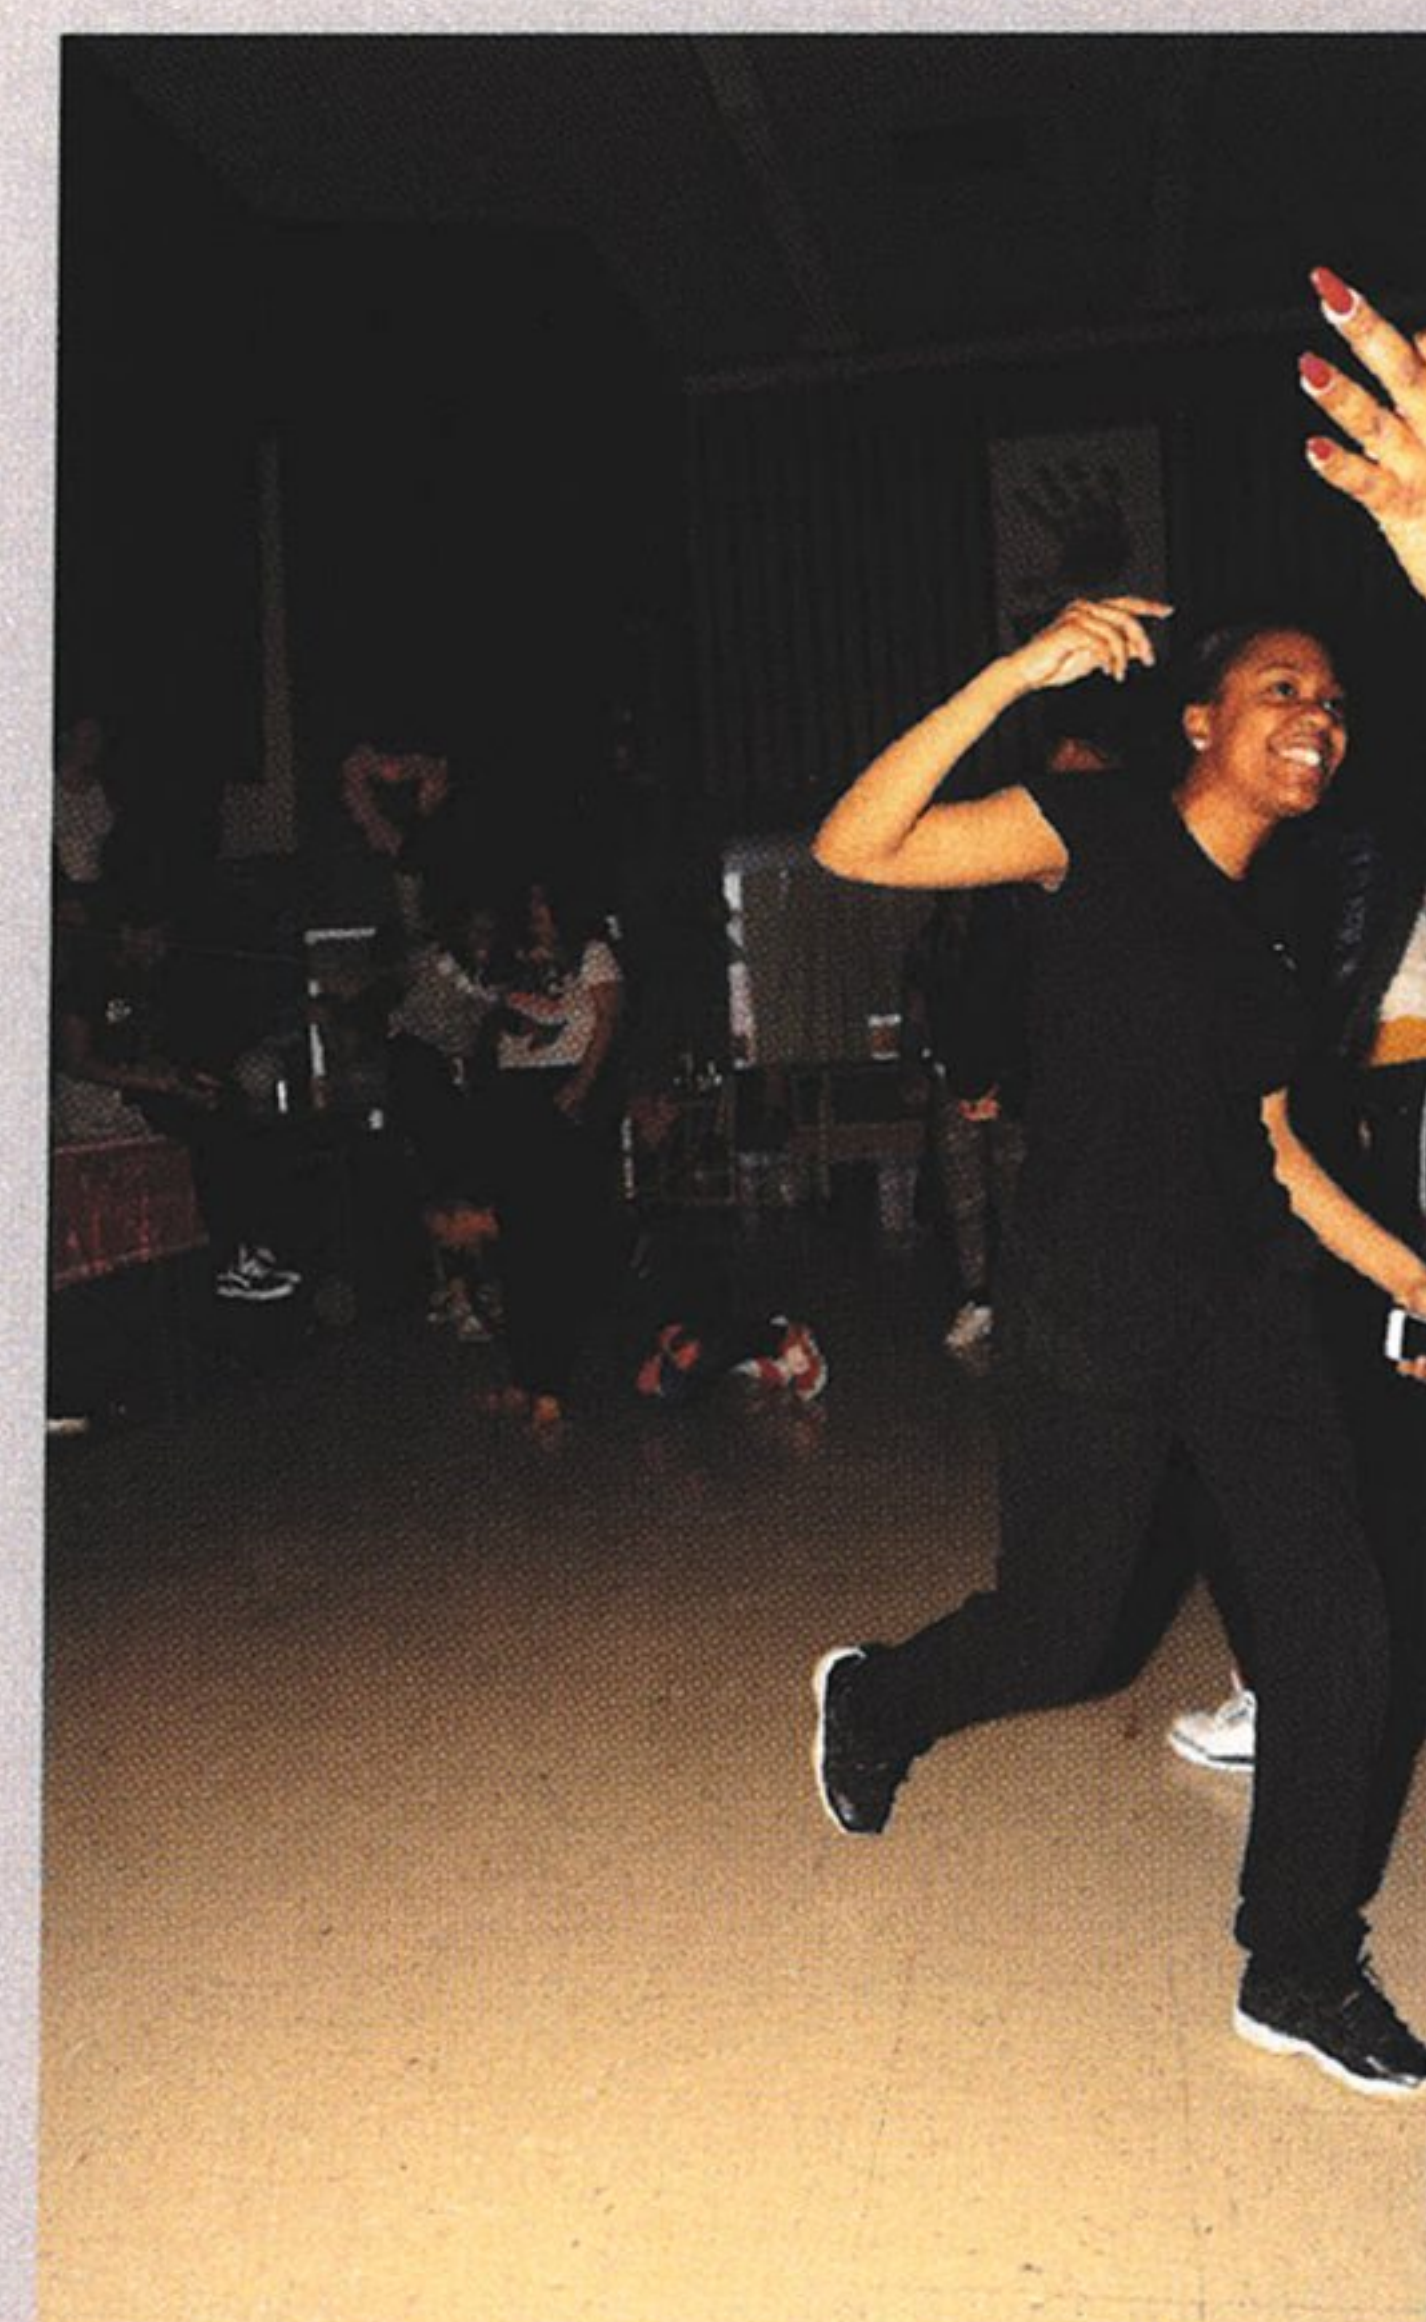

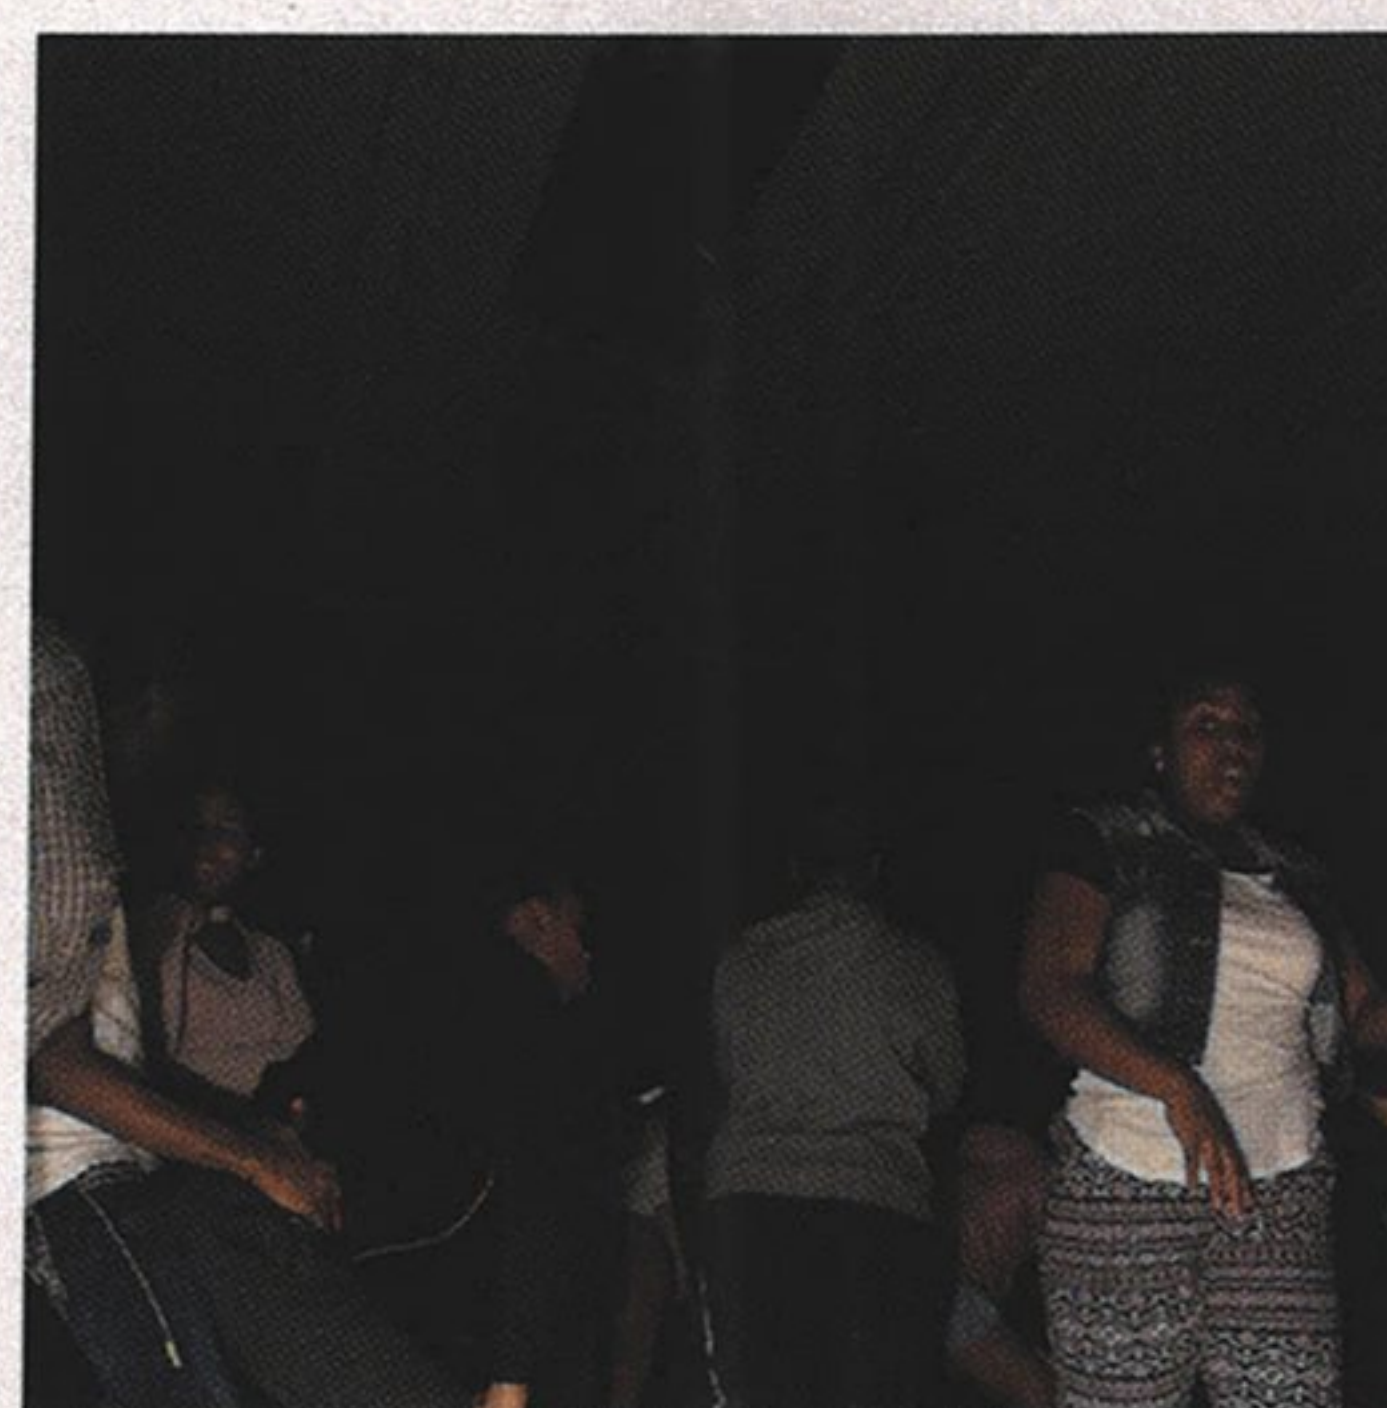

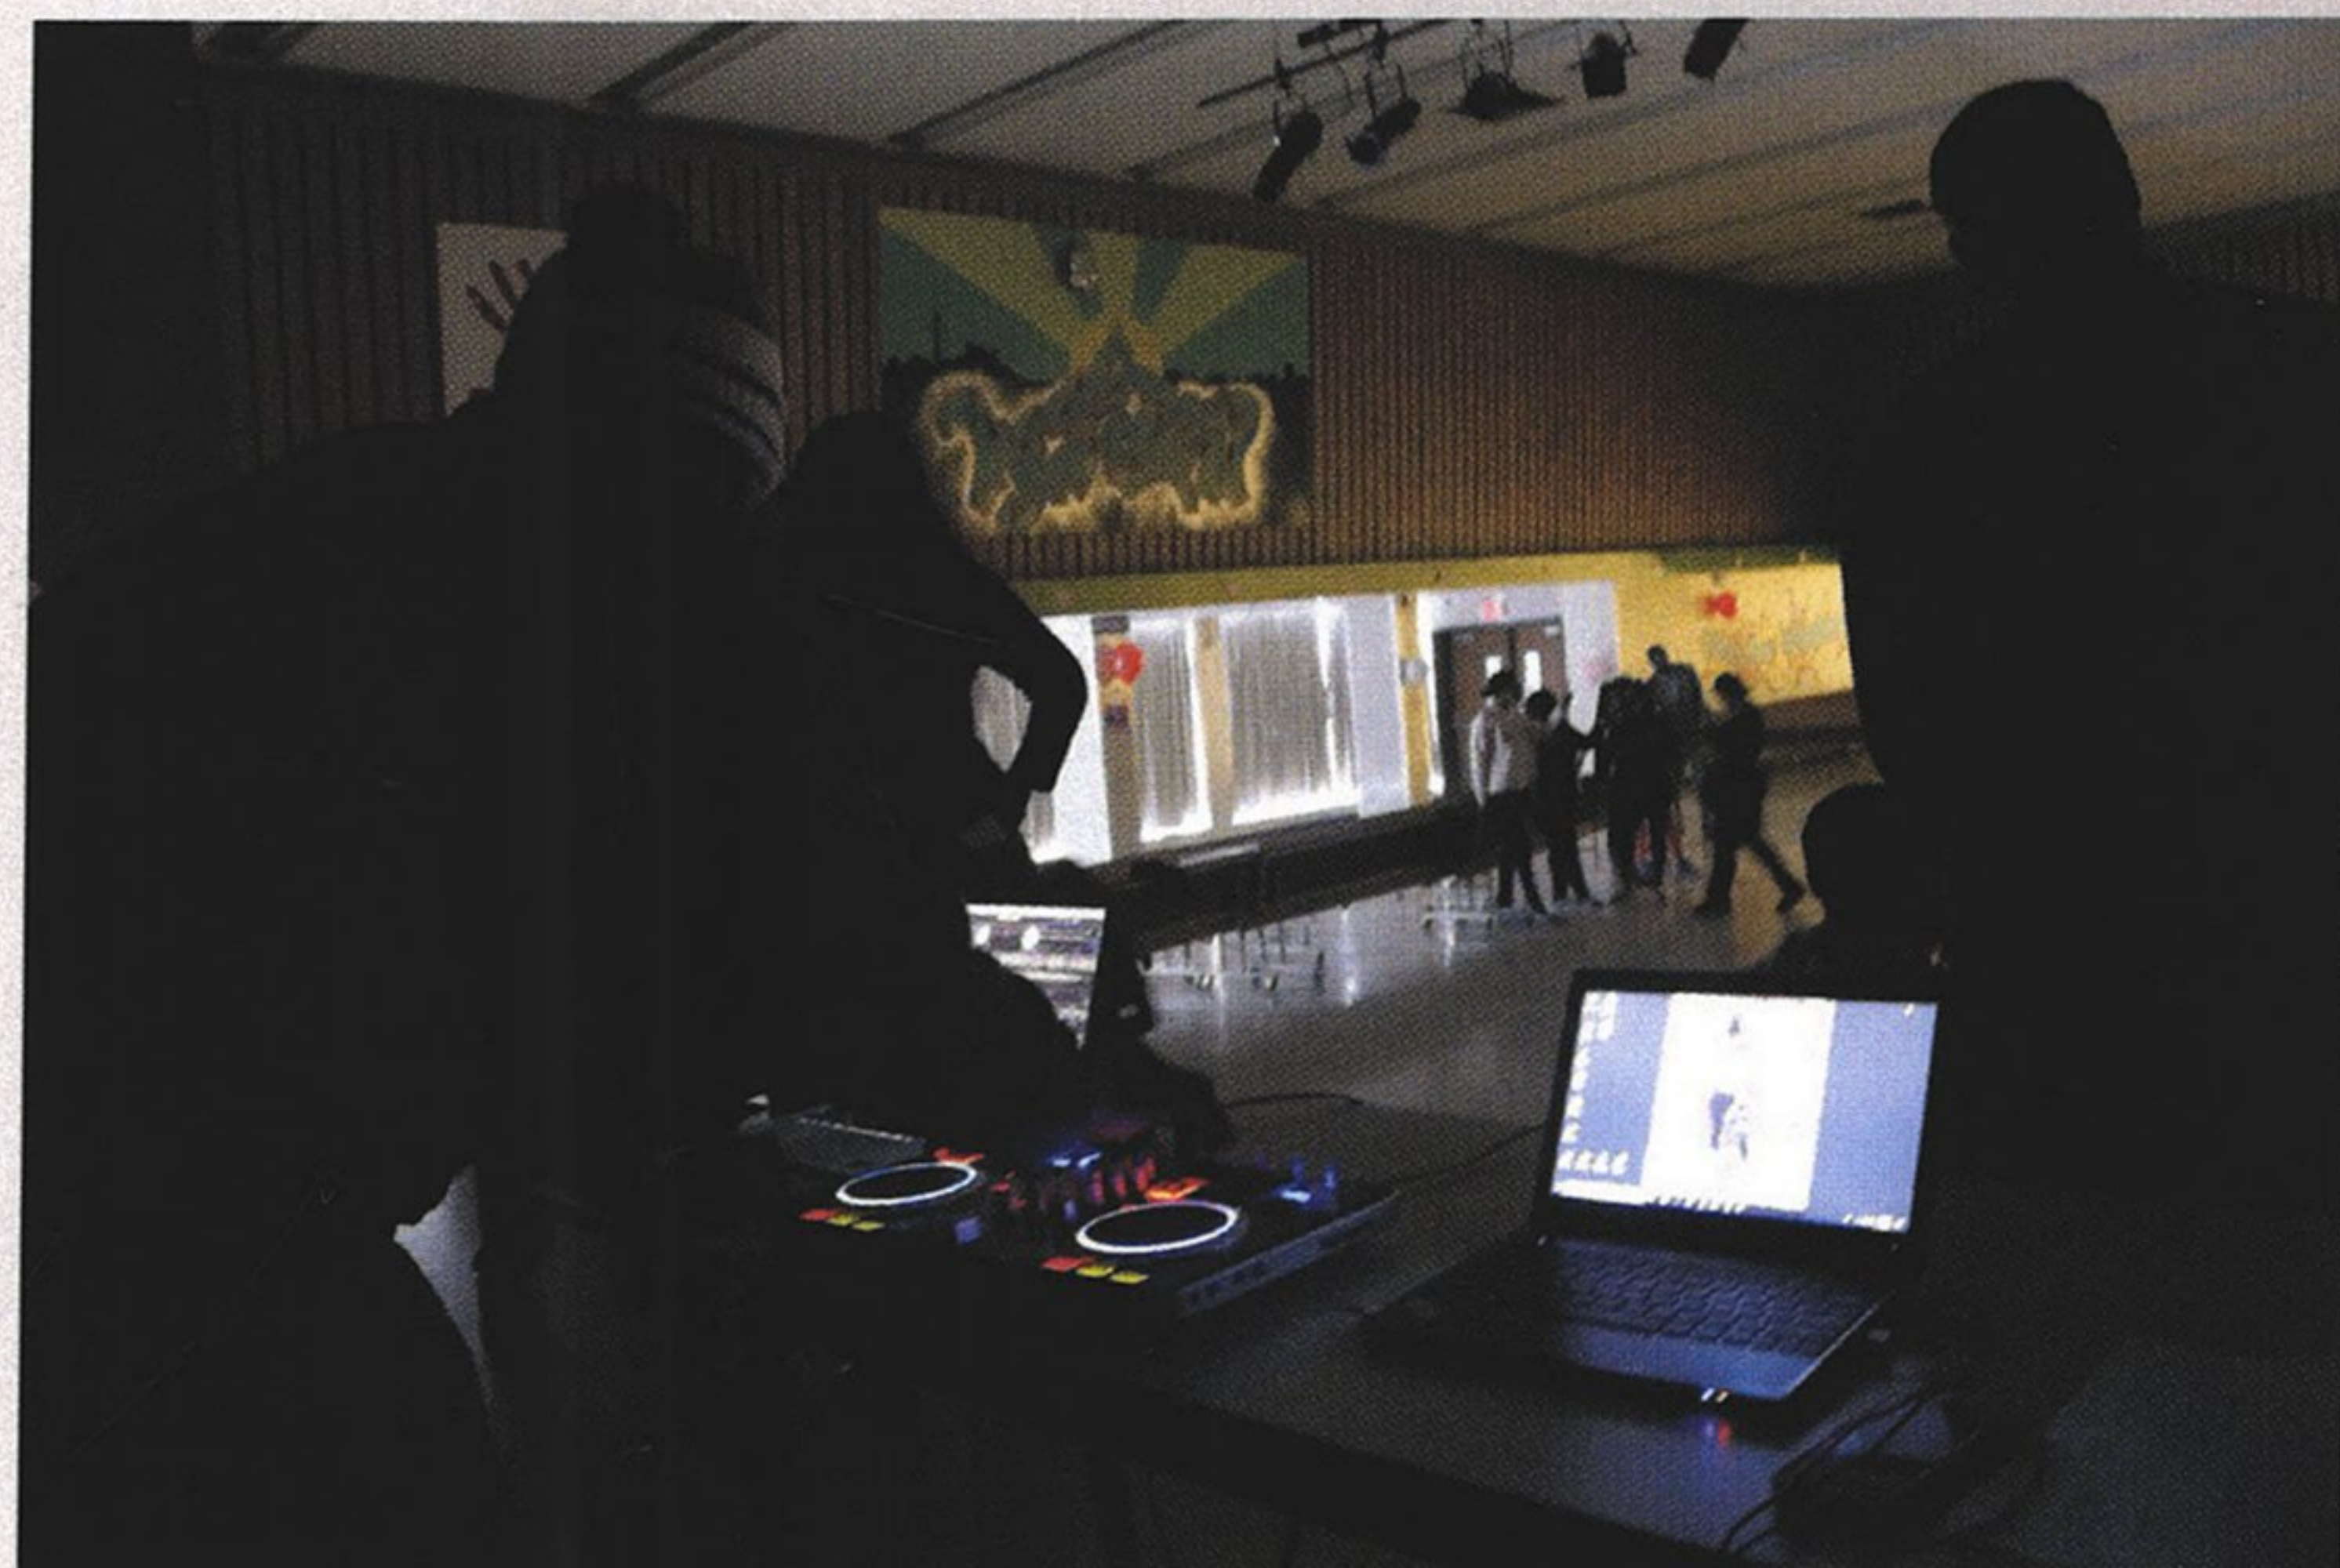

Success Beyond Limits is a youth-led organization designed to support students to become successful in their high school career as well as making their school experience memorable. SBL promotes a 6-week summer school program in which students can earn a credit, volunteer as mentors and gain work experience. The organization's main ambition is to enhance student learning by offering programming and support from the beginning of the school day to late afternoon. Westview thanks all the members in SBL for their hard work and devotion in supporting their schoolmates.

Little Boy

Little boy, little boy what do you see?
The leaves on the trees waving at me
Little boy little boy what do you hate?
The darkness of the night when it gets too late
Little boy, little boy what do you hear?
A bark so loud it strikes you with fear
Little boy, little boy where should we go?
To watch the sun as it sets nice and slow
Little boy, little boy when will you leave
When dinner is ready and mom yells for me
- Ladan Mohamed

Sagging

I see it whenever they pass
Boys sagging around the class
You have a belt on your hip
But it still seems to slip
We're tired of seeing your ass.
-Ladan Mohamed

Brands

Time to get up; ready to get my makeup
done, Maybeline, Revlon, Covergirl,
E.L.F.
Which foundation should I take off my shelf?
NYX, Mac, Sephora, Tart
Oh no my eyeshadow dropped, my eyeshadow dropped, everything's apart
I've had enough, I'm staying home
What more can go wrong?
Wait, I lost my urban Decay "All Night
Long" NYC, L'Oreal, Rimmel, Almay
I'll have to keep things the natural way
Mink, Human, Synthetic blend
All these eyelashes are the new trend
Where do I start where do I go
I'll have to support my black people
I'll wear Black Opal to cover this pimple

Friends a Short Story by Hayat Dereje

A young man with olive skin and dark brown neatly styled hair zips up his coat and waits patiently by the door for his son. " Andy! you're going to be late!!" A child with dark skin and a big fluffy coat rushes over " Coming Daddy!" and quickly takes his hand.

The father leads him out the apartment and then remembers to ask his usual question " Do you have all your things? It's cold out there." Andy does a little check over of himself and then nods. His father smiles, locks the door and leads him down the hall to the elevator to take him to school. While they walk, Andy asks an array of unusual questions like he does every morning.

" Daddy I saw the leaves change color, why do they do that?"
" Because it's autumn, the trees have to get ready for winter"

" Oh. Why are they called trees anyway..? Do we have to call them trees? Do they have their own names like Andy or T?". " Hmm I don't know why we call them trees... That's just the English language but in other languages they have different names, plus there are different types of trees like oak, or juniper or rowan.

Or if you really like you can name them Andy or T like a nickname. " Oh! Then I'll nickname all the trees T! Yeah I like that~ do you have a nickname daddy?". " You know, I actually do. It's Rudy", while Rudy was caught up in the conversation he accidentally knocked into a man carrying boxes. " Oh my goodness! I'm so sorry!", The man had long shiny black hair and dark eyes; he appeared to be about Rudy's age or slightly older. He wore a dark purple coat and a black shirt with jeans. From the boxes he was carrying he appears to be moving into an apartment. He looked into Rudy's eyes and smiles filling him with instant regret and shame for being so careless. A few seconds go by, Rudy doesn't respond trapped in a wave of social anxiety no words seem to come from his lips. The man tried to break the silence again. " I should introduce myself, my name is Gurinn Gold, I'm just moving in". This was enough to bring Rudy back from his depressive spiral. " Oh it's a pleasure to meet you. I'm so sorry about knocking into you. I should've been more careful... " . "Oh It's not a problem!" Rudy wanted this frivolous small talk to end. Pulling out his watch, he checks the time, he has plenty of time to stick around but he just can't handle this much longer.

" Oh I am sorry about cutting our conversation short but I am going to be late, I have to drop my son off to school". Andy who looks nothing like his father, looks up at the man and smiles.

" I guess I'll talk to you later then?" " Oh yes of course!" Rudy lied. He doesn't want to see anyone later. It'll take a while to recover from this awful interaction. He waves goodbye and leaves as fast as he can. Andy looks up at Rudy curiously " is that our neighbor?"

" Yes it is Andy, he's moving in". Andy's face lights up " Oh! What if he has kids! Maybe someone my age! Can we play with each other?", Rudy sighs " Well I don't know, I didn't have time to ask...."

"You should ask! He seems nice! Maybe he can be your friend too!"

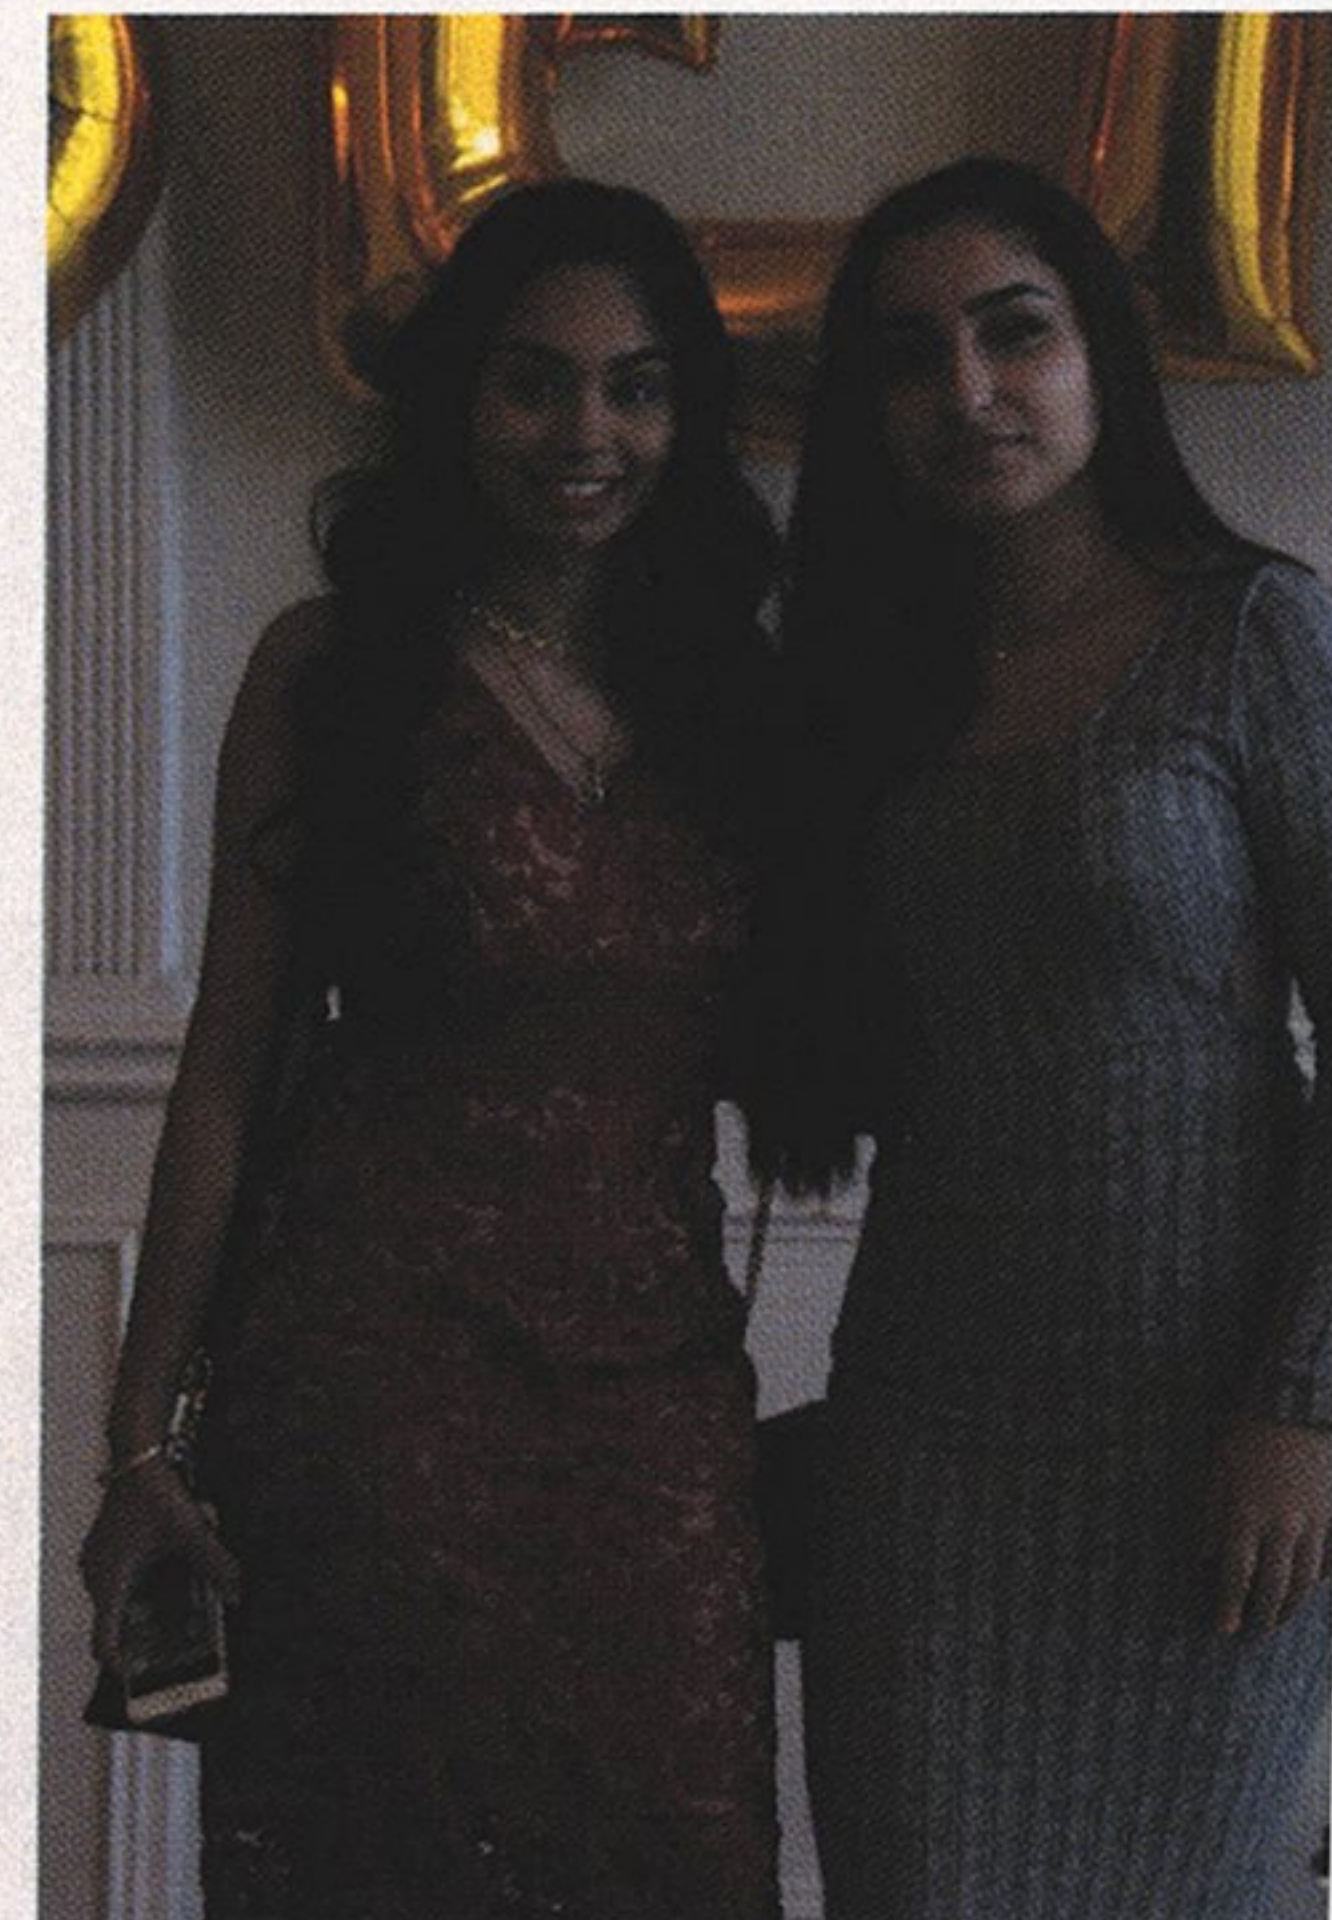

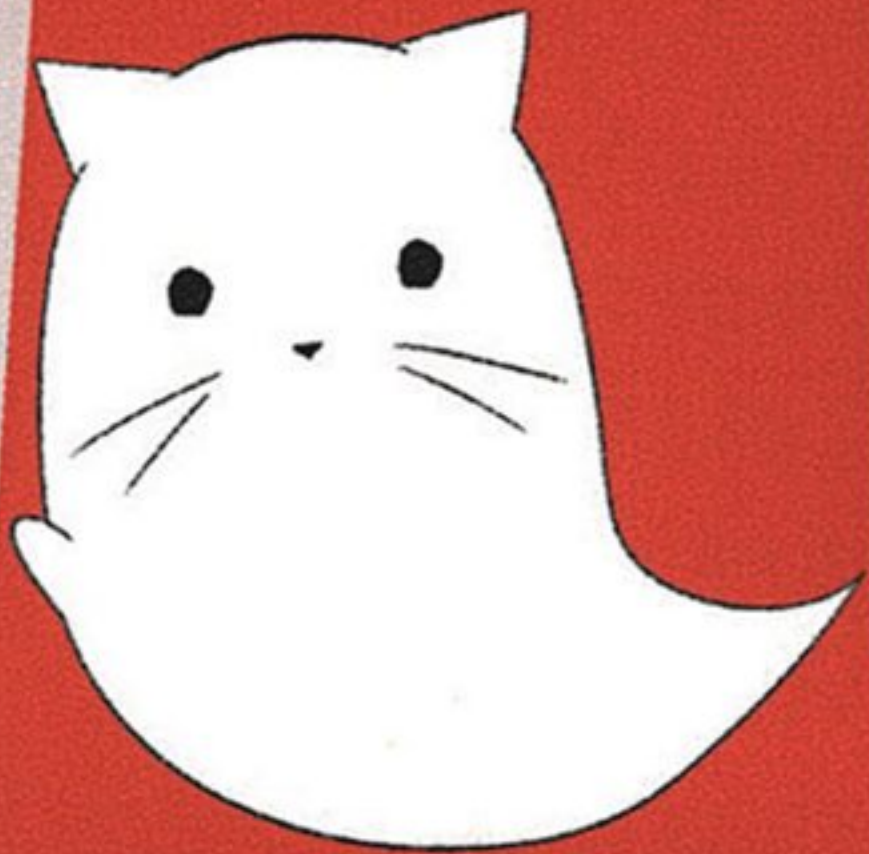

"Maybe later, you're going to be late for school..."

The elevator opens up and they both go outside and walk to school. Andy goes on asking questions about everything. Rudy answers but couldn't stop thinking about his encounter earlier. It's usual every time he interacts with someone. He felt like he messed up, Gurinn might have thought he was rude. Maybe he sounded nervous. His paranoia was beginning to set in and everything made him feel on edge. He felt awful. Eventually Andy gives him a tap on the arm bringing him back to reality to see they got to Andy's school and he hugs Andy and tells him to have a great day at school. Suddenly Andy asks " Are you okay daddy?" Rudy became flustered " Oh of course I'm okay! No need to worry!" even though Andy was very young it was clear to see that it wasn't okay and Rudy knows. But since he is young it's easy to distract him and his friends pull him away to play. Rudy watches them for a bit and feels happy that Andy doesn't have the same anxiety curse that he has. He doesn't have to go through anything that he does. With that Rudy waves goodbye and leaves to take the subway to work. He could barely focus, still thinking about it. It frustrates him that he always has to be alone yet he doesn't know what to do. He doesn't know anyone who could help him besides his sister who often tells him that he has to come out of his shell and at least try. He did today and it's still haunting him. The conclusion that he'll always be alone is fair. Plus he's not completely alone. He has an adopted son who he loves dearly. He loves children because they don't trigger his anxiety. Nothing they say will bother him. It's calming and is the only thing that stops him from being alone. But it might be hard on Andy to deal with a father like this. It's clear that he knows there's something wrong.

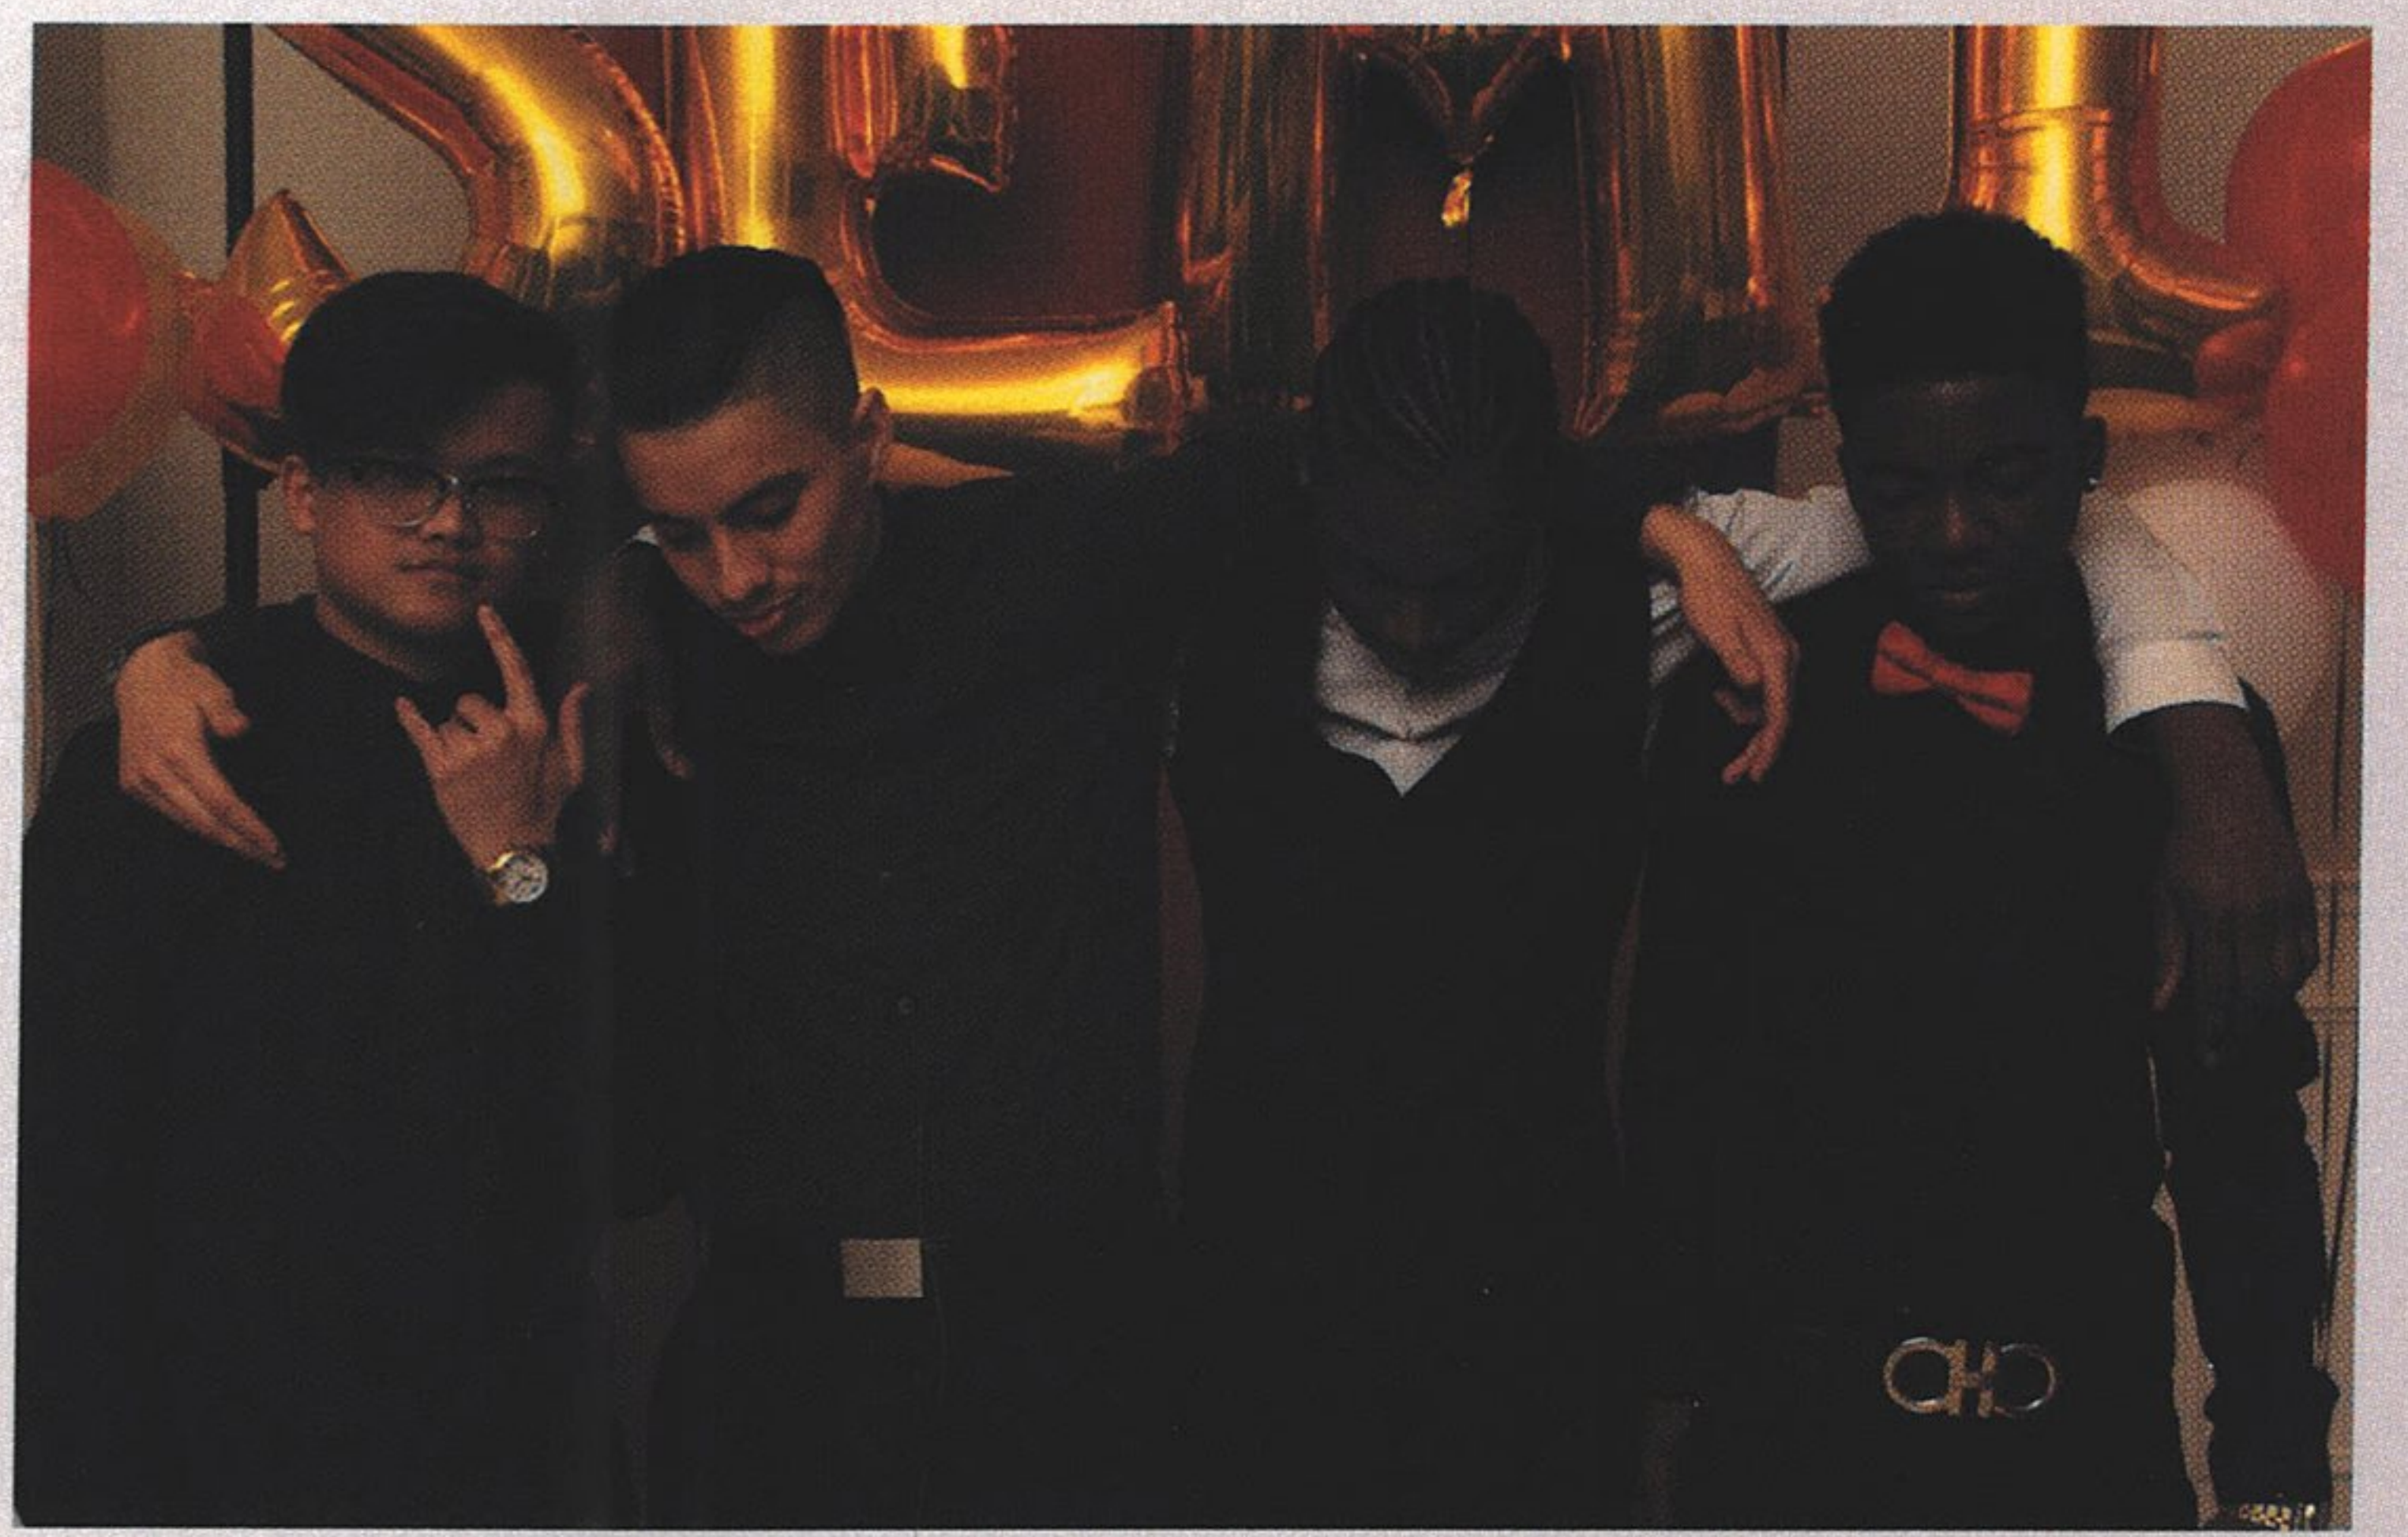

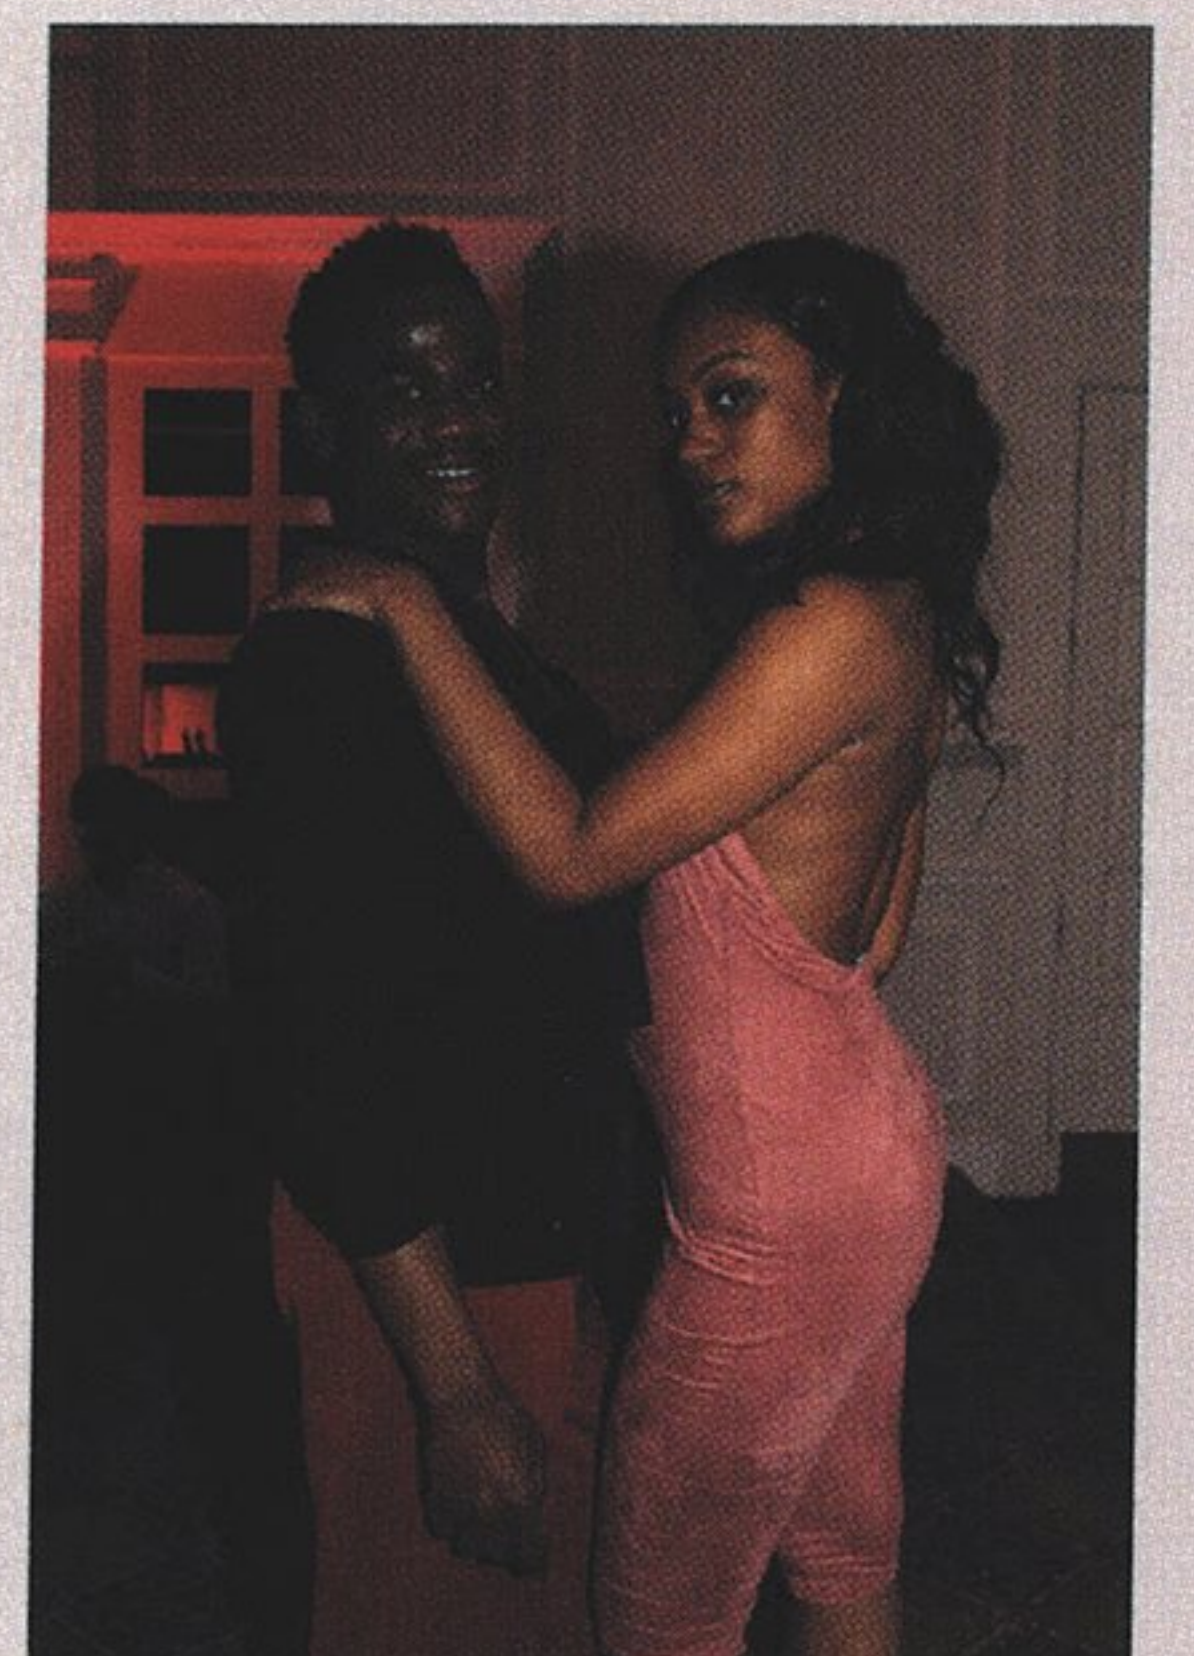

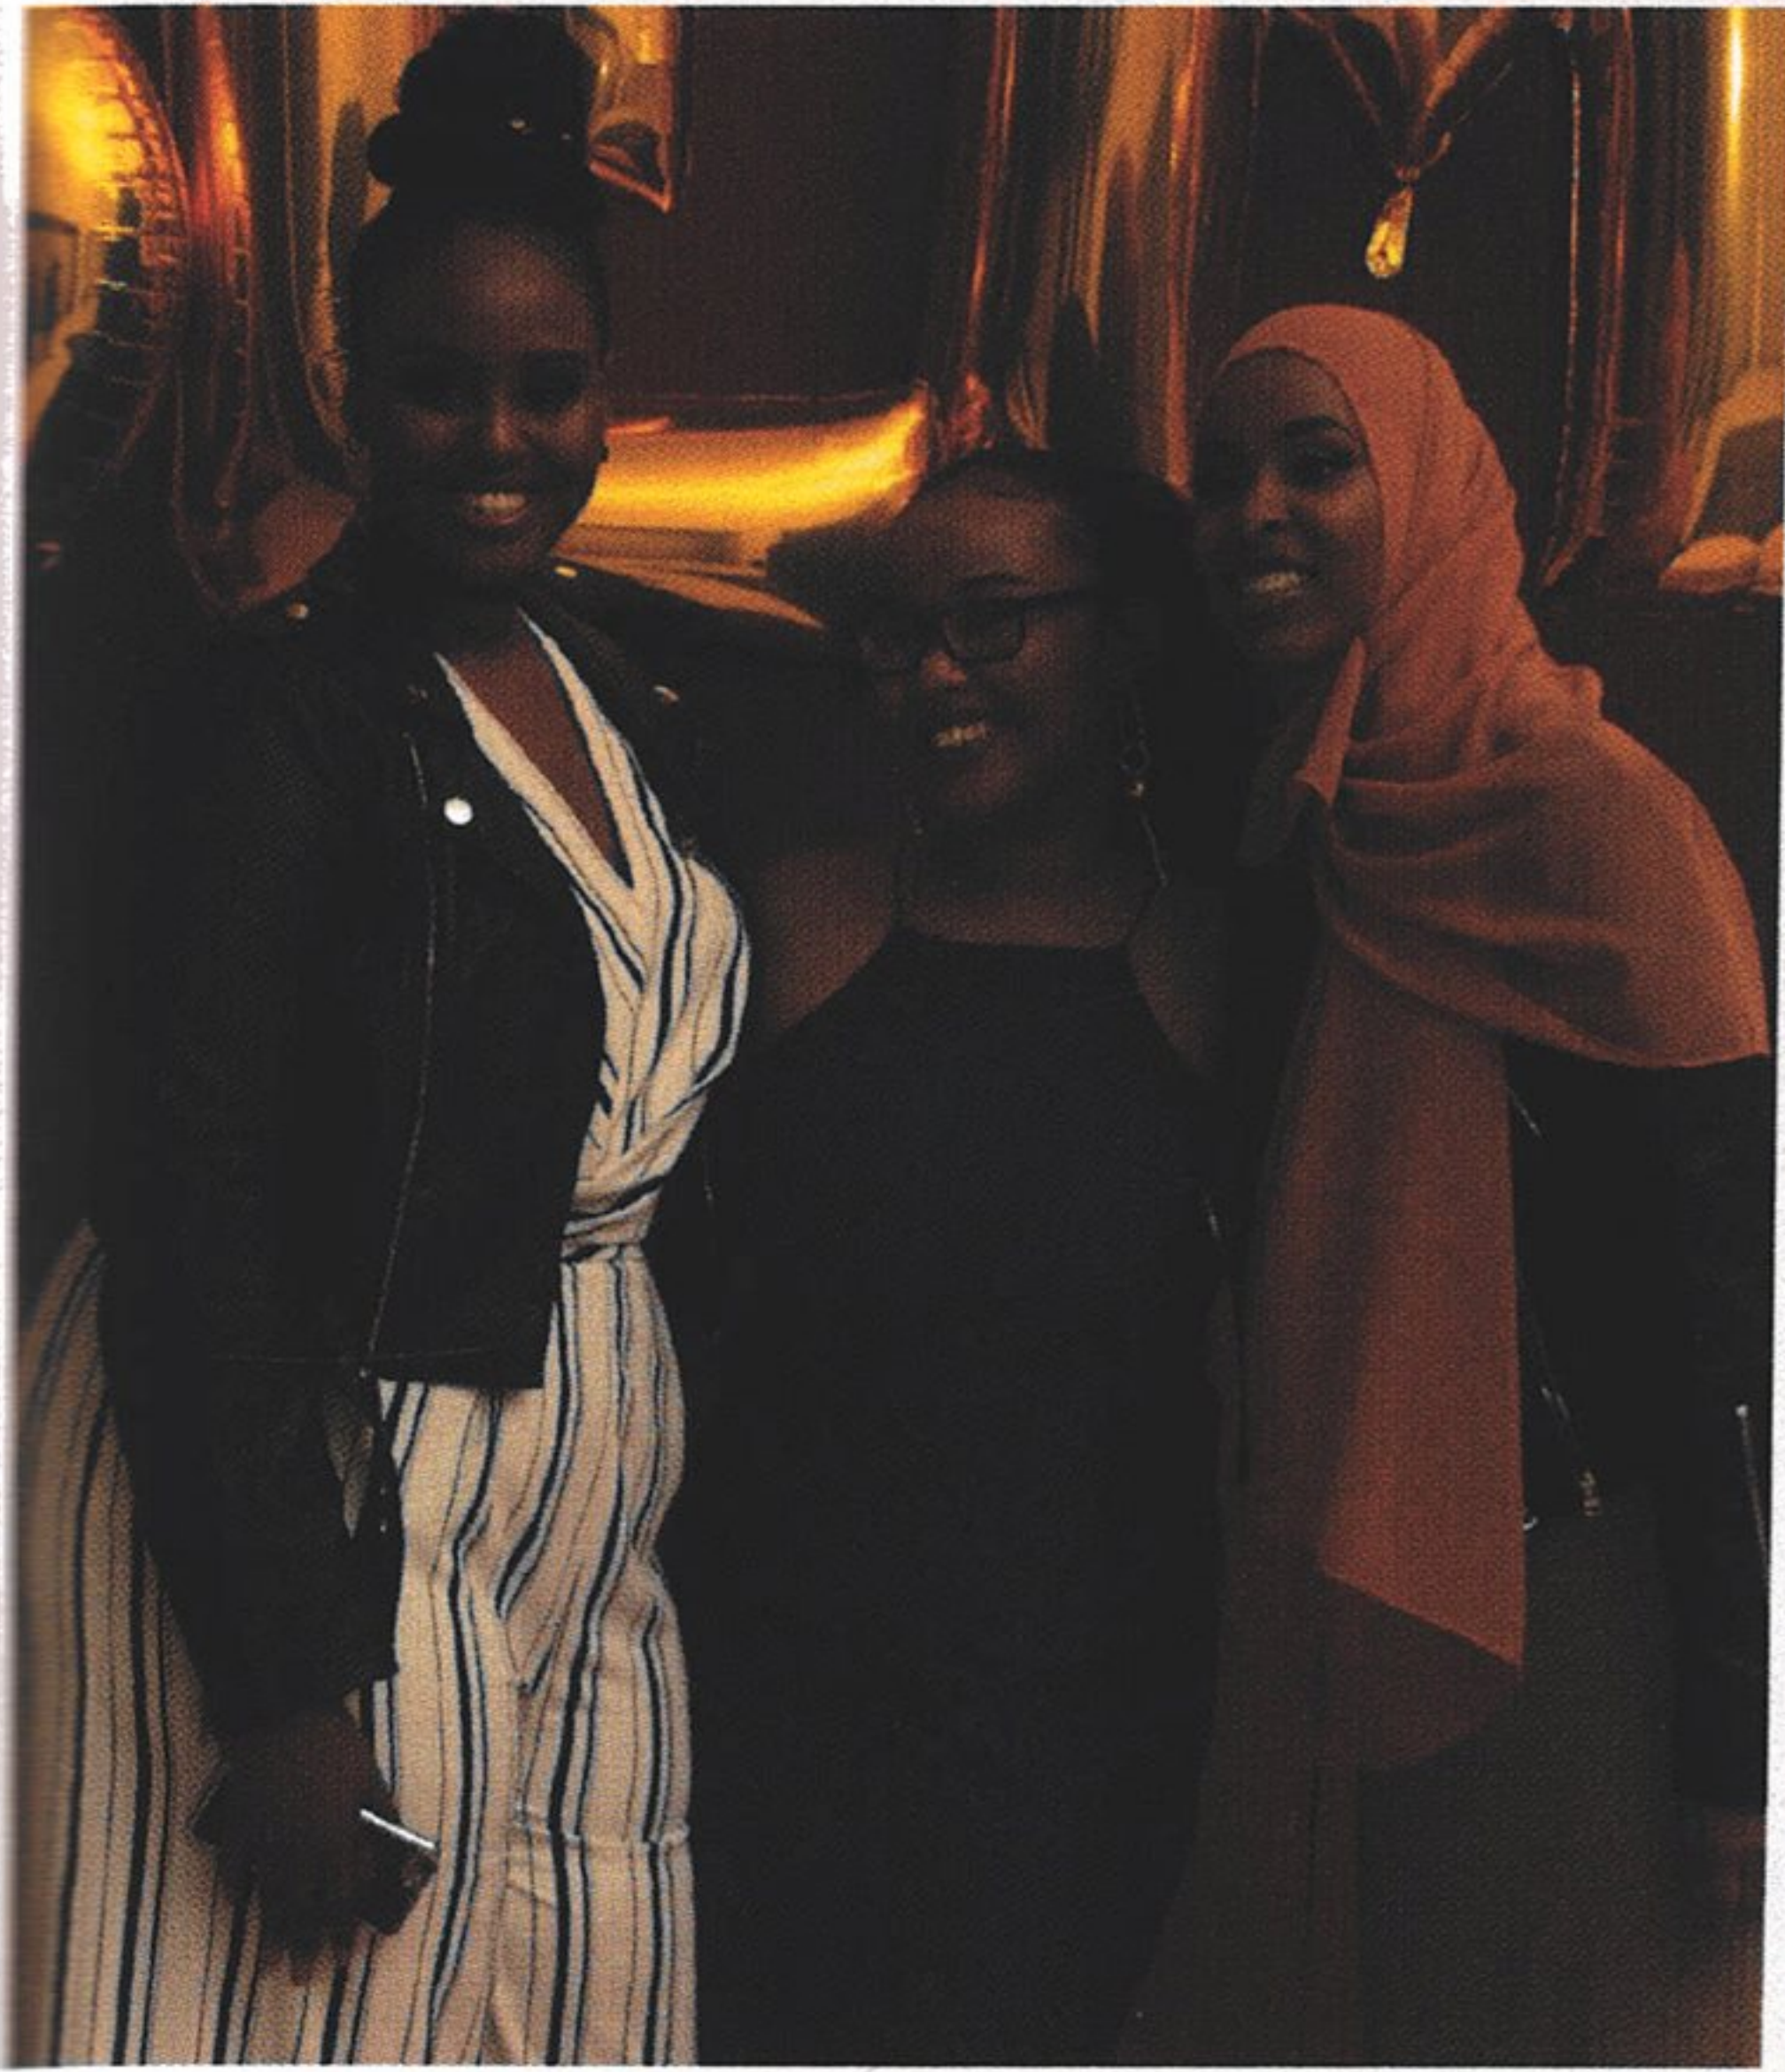

What is there for Rudy to do about it? All he can do is try, despite his anxiety eating him alive. To be a good example for Andy gives him motivation to try to talk to Gurinn today. He was determined to make a friend, with that thought the work day is over and he rushes home with the feeling of joy and fear. He's going to try for Andy despite everything. Usually Rudy gets off from work after Andy gets off from school so his sister, Sarah picks him up. She has the extra key to his apartment so she's probably already in there watching over Andy. He takes his usual way home but instead of going down to his apartment, he knocks on Gurinn's door instead. A wave of fear washes over him. What if he messes up? What if he doesn't like him? What if something goes wrong? Maybe this is a bad time? Maybe he should back out while he can? No it's too late, the door opens. Rudy struggles not to pass out on the spot from fear but suddenly he notices that it's not Gurinn who opened the door. It's a little girl. She placed a chair at the door and opened it. "Oh hello...", she smiled at him " Hi! Are you looking for Daddy?", "Umm yes I am! Where is he? Are you here by yourself?" Gurinn quickly rushes by and picks the girl up " I am so sorry! I was busy, this is my daughter Zahra". A little smile grows on Rudy's face "my name is Rudy. You know I have a son your age". " You do?? Can I meet him?", "Oh of course you can". Gurinn looks at Rudy " Would you like to come in?" Rudy nods and goes inside

They both sit down together and talk. They have a lot in common, they both love children and had adopted one. They talked and laughed about many things from movies to books or just silly things that had happened to them the other day. Then there was a knock on the door, " Oh please excuse me there's someone knocking on the door". Gurinn gets up to go answer it. Rudy listens in and hears a familiar voice, " Is Rudy here..? It's Sarah, that familiar wave of regret washes over him, he didn't tell her that he would be here. Gurinn brings her to Rudy and he takes a deep breath and tells her about today. As much as he was expecting her to be upset since she has her own things to do, she was actually pleased that he made an effort to get along with someone. "He's really nice and has a daughter around Andy's age", "Oh I know he's playing with her right now, "looks like Andy made a new friend and it looks like you made a new friend too".

The Senior Boys Basketball team is the most actively played sport in the school. This year, hard work and dedication has resulted in the team competing in multiple games in different cities and ultimately, the finals. The team has won the AA Regional Championship! Woohoo! ★

For many years Westview has had a strong team. Practices starting in the early morning, continuing through lunchtime and after school allowed the students to put in a consistent effort to improve their skills. With 5 supportive coaches: Mr. Jeffrey Canton, Ms. Dargine Rajeswaran, Mr. Fitzroy Reid, Mr. David Forrester and Mr. Chris Blackwood, their goal was to make the team go big. All coaches came out every day to help the team improve their dribbles, passes, and shots. With 13 players on the team, they were able to show their potential and come together as a solid team.

This was the first time in many years the team had participated in the Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations basketball tournament also known as OFSAA. Competing with other schools was not easy, but the confidence the players gave each other and the faith the coaches had in the team allowed them to come a long way.

When the quarter finals took place, Westview played against multiple schools, culminating with their final game against Mother Teresa Catholic Secondary School. Sadly the team lost the game 76-53. But the boys had done excellent work and made their coaches extremely proud. Returning team members and coaches are looking forward to adding new players next year. Everyone now knows Westview can go big again. ★

Westview's 50th Anniversary

50 Years Together!

Thanks to Westview's administration team, an active alumni association, teachers and students Westview celebrated its 50th anniversary on April 28th. Past and present students and teachers had a chance to visit their high school fifty years on. Highlights included school tours of special classrooms, a memory lane hallway with photographs of seminal moments in Westview's history and a buffet dinner that served dishes from around the world. Guests were entertained with a vocal performance by student Sheneise Green and the Dance Club took to the stage to perform their African dance.

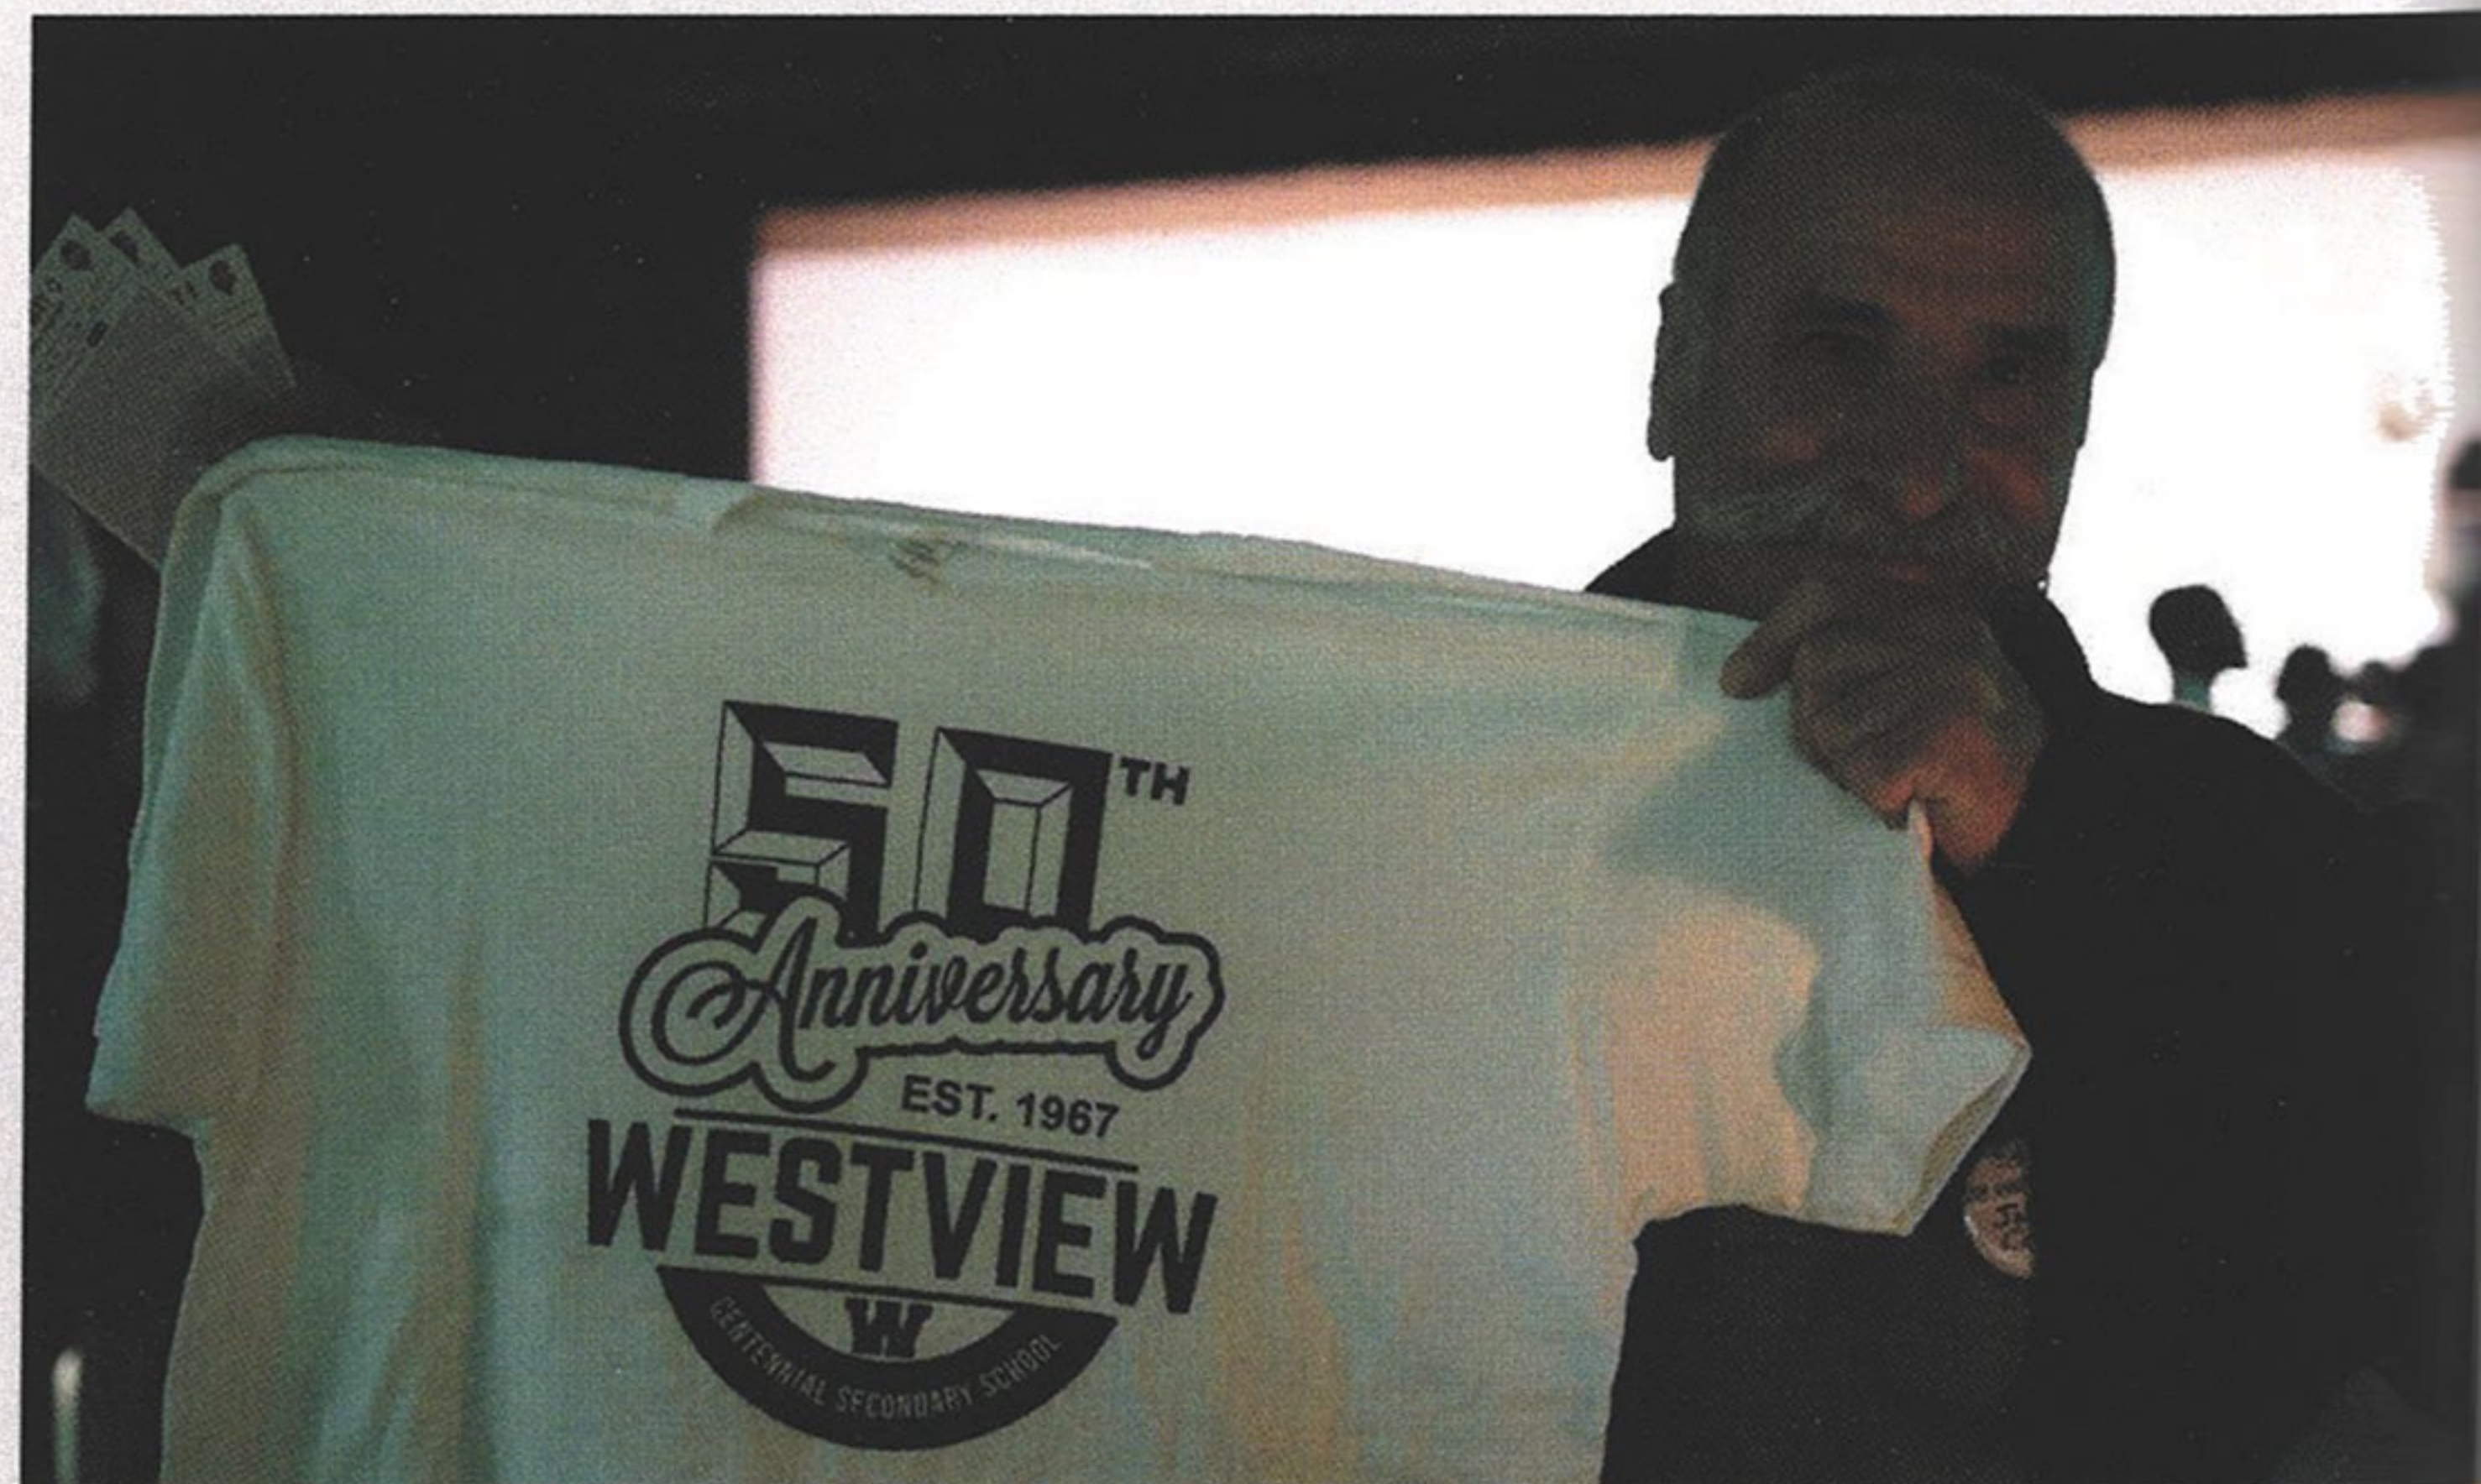

Alumni take to the halls...
